Getting Started with Garment Printing

WHAT IS DIRECT TO GARMENT PRINTING?

Direct to Garment Printing or DTG for short, is a printing technology that jets an eco-friendly water based ink onto the garment to create your image. The ink is bonded onto the garment by a pretreatment layer that is then cured in a textile dryer.

WHAT IS SCREEN PRINTING?

Screen printing uses a plastisol ink pushed through a synthetic mesh screen by a squeegee to create your image. A unique screen must be made for each color element of your design. The individual screens are then registered and printed layer by layer onto the garment. The final step is to cure the ink in a textile dryer, which bonds it to the shirt.

WHICH IS "BETTER" - SCREEN PRINTING OR DTG?

They both have their best use case scenarios. DTG printing truly excels in cost and print quality on full color detailed images on short run orders of up to 288 pieces. Screen printing offers a great value on 1-3 simple solid color graphics on run sizes greater than 48 pieces.

WHY CHOOSE GARMENT GEAR?

That's a great question. We've been designing & printing garments for over 20 years. During that time we've produced millions of shirts for thousands of clients and have continued to expand to offer you the latest & greatest in print technologies.

EXAMPLES OF DTG OR SCREEN DESIGNS

The images below are examples of what types of designs are the best use case of each printing method.
