

Why should the World Series matter for your Winter Training?

Thanks for opening our newsletter. If you are a baseball fan like I am you have been spending a significant amount of time in front of your TV watching the world series. It was a great series featuring one of the all-time great hitting performances by George Springer and some great pitching by Charlie Morton.

Please take a look at my latest velocity training video to find out why Charlie Morton's performance should make any difference to you as a player or coach.

If you, or anyone you know, is heading to the ABCA show in Indiana next month please stop by at booth #868 and say hello to an old (sorry Harvey) friend of ours, Harvey Ratner. Harvey has been doing vision training for a long time and has been on the forefront of training athletes visually. His newest invention ensures that his leadership in the field of sports vision has not slipped. His 3D Simulator is the next tool you will want to have if you train hitters. Take a look at it HERE.

Thanks again for your support !
