This is Ron Giles and Tracee is our moderator and will help us through this program. This video is called wealth education series number four, we're going to talk about the responsibility of wealth. In this wealth education series we have talked about wealth, the lack mentality, the abundance mentality, and allowing yourself to be wealthy. In this article, we will discuss the responsibilities of being wealthy and dealing with wealth appropriately. Revenue sharing solution is designed to provide the vehicle to gain the level of wealth that is in harmony with your desire for wealth, there are no restrictions, no caps, no maximums as to the level of wealth flowing to you. financial abundance is a personal thing for each individual to receive in accordance with one stewardship responsibility. The word stewardship is used for a reason, along with wealth comes through responsibility to use it wisely for one's own transitional development of the abundance mentality, and for the broader, more communal responsibility that each of us has to live in close proximity to others in our community. Wealth does not make us better than others, it just gives us a chance to work in harmony with others of wealth to accomplish a better Kimmel living experience. The participation in revolutionary solutions will produce tremendous change in the way people live their lives, it requires a more than mature way of abundant living that has not been available to us before. Each beneficiary in the RSF program may share this opportunity with individuals within their sphere of influence as they feel appropriate. That means many will also be receiving revenue, and all will seek the level of income they feel comfortable receiving. The old keep up with the Joneses way of thinking will slowly go away because everybody will have money like the Joneses. The ones who have all that they need all the toys, all the latest fixtures, all the latest gadgets, all the anything what could want will not stick out as unusual, because RS beneficiaries will all have what they need. Each person will use their wealth in harmony with their perceived purposes of being here on the earth at that time. Each of us is an individual, however, we live in communities and have certain responsibilities to conduct ourselves in harmony with the collective good of our community. Instead of just doing our own thing, we will have opportunities to share our uniqueness with others. And they share the uniqueness with that. The old concepts of the haves and have nots will use to the all haves and have nots way of thinking, if someone is lacking, we just pay their $10 registration fee and they too will become wealthy. Most of us have not been part of the 1% of the wealthy elitist. But now we the 99% are becoming wealthy to our heart's content. In the past, we have thought the lead to be better than us because we have had to labor hard for our money and they didn't. It might be that the 1% will be angry because they won't have anyone to look down upon. Wealth will no longer be a statement of one's value, as in a class system, because all will be wealthy and on par with everyone else if they desire well. In reality, our individual value will be available for change as we use our resources to create our contribution to society. If you want more revenue for your needs, then continue sharing and I'm trying to attain more downloads per minute income, it is now and always will be your choice. And a central bank society where the accumulation of wealth has been used to create a hierarchy of value persons things will change. We will not look to wealthy as having a more valued opinion because we will establish new values based on personal accomplishments as it relates to helping the greater number of people. In other words just means it's not the amount of money you have is what you use your money for and how many people you will affect by giving and sharing with them. We will not look at the homeless or the poor, with pity as Even they will become wealthy and be contributors to society if they want. This wealth transition and transfer will affect all society at many levels. As a wealthy person, our opinion of ourselves will change to a less judgmental outlook of wealth, or lack of wealth in others, where once we use things like a big home, or the latest model car as a value statement, we will see it as a way to express individual preferences rather than value. As a wealth is distributed out opportunities for education, and a higher standard of achievement may become available for us. Perhaps the new standard for employment will be one's experience rather than education. If indeed one wants to be employed, they didn't have a job and becoming qualified for a job will not be a necessity due to the fact that you will have an endless income. However, the concept of not working may be a problem for society if everybody stops working. So there needs to be a way to use the RSS program for employment contract shares that can be an extra $10,000 per month or more, depending on the job you're doing. If you want to stay at home and be a stay at home, mom or dad, that's fine. Or you can stay at home and take care of a loved one. That's fine to your beneficiary revenue will keep coming regardless of what you do. The RSS program was designed to reward you for sharing with others. When you help register others into the program, they to have the opportunity to to increase their flow of income to help create financial success for themselves. It's truly a win win for all involved. As the new technologies come into play much of the menial labor jobs may be eliminated. This will provide opportunities for each person to find their true passion in life that they can share with others as a part of their communal living responsibilities. This transition from the old economic system that looks like a pyramid, to a new system that supports each individual will be a welcome relief for all of us. It will really be fun to see how each person uses their income in support of the community. The value of the RS s in your life will be determined by the way you approach the use of your money. Money represents kinetic energy. Kinetic energy is energy in motion. It has great potential for being used for righteous endeavors. Righteous in this context means the right use of energy. Is it a stretch to think that the energy represented by money is alive and available for the right use to accomplish a righteous purpose. The energy can also be used for things that destroy money is alive energy and wants to be used for righteous purposes. Money is energy and it does have consciousness. And because it's part of creation, it was to support love. Your relationship with money is like any other relationship. treating it with respect and using it for righteous purposes, will ensure that brings you the joy and happiness that you're looking for. abusing this relationship and using it for things like ill gotten gain. power over others or illegal purposes, will eventually cause pain and suffering for the abuser. Your use of the money and the respect you give it will determine if this revenue becomes a curse or a blessing for you and for those you interact with. Many beneficiaries will change the way they feel about others who they perceive to have been negative influence in their lives and blame them for their lack of success. It might be the way you were raised or might be a friend or advisor told you to invest in a project that failed. There are always opportunities to blame others for your lack of money. With the new RSS program. You can forgive others for their past indiscretions because you now have funds to replace any losses and can move forward without dragging bad feelings around with you that weigh you down. Life is just better when you have a flow of income that is not conditional upon a job or other people for your income. I'm going to talk about a performance bond that we have in place for revenue sharing solutions. With this performance bond in place, there is an assurance that the Funds will always be flowing to you without having to do something to get it. This is the abundance mentality that RSS program is designed to bring to you. The revenue shared to RSS is certified clean, clear and non terroristic. It is pure love energy from source and has not been abused. It is new gold backed currency and comes with the most powerful love energy ever infused in currency for use by mankind. If you use it properly, to bless the lives of yourself and others, it will continue to be a blessing for peace and financial freedom. It is given to you with love and appreciation for the simple fact that you are a child of God and a member of the family of God. Regardless of your religious affiliations. RSS believes this revenue is yours by inheritance, and it is finally being given to you to enjoy and enhance your life. The revenue is now in your stewardship. Use it well and often for the things that are in your heart. There's always more coming your way 24 hours a day. Welcome to the abundance mentality
