NICU

TriStar Health is working to bring a full-service hospital to Spring Hill. Spring Hill is the largest city in Tennessee without a hospital. If approved, this project would expand TriStar Spring Hill ER into a comprehensive hospital, meaning residents could access inpatient care, surgical care, and obstetric care at a hospital in their own city.

LISTERHILL ADDS SPRING HILL BRANCH

JASON ZASKY

Listerhill Credit Union has been in business for more than 70 years, having been founded in Muscle Shoals, Alabama, in 1952. But its only in the past decade that the $1.4 billion non-profit financial cooperative has had a presence in the Volunteer State.

“We have been in Middle Tennessee since 2013,” begins Drew Edwards, Vice President of Marketing for Listerhill, explaining how the organization originally established a foothold in the region by merging with a credit union in Columbia.

“For several years, we have been trying to find the right location (for another branch),” continues Edwards, hence the brand-new location on Kedron Road, which had its official grand opening on April 16, celebrated with a ribbon-cutting and daylong festivities.

“It’s a beautiful location in a growing part of town,” adds Edwards, who has worked for Listerhill for 13 years and has been in his current position since 2023.

The longtime marketer takes care to emphasize how a credit union like Listerhill compares to a traditional bank.

“A lot of people think credit unions are not up to par with banks, but we have all the products and services that you would expect, including checking and savings accounts, commercial loans, and auto loans. We also offer investment services and retirement planning, and we have a full suite of mortgage products,” he notes. “And we have extremely competitive credit cards, including our Signature Rewards Card, a no-fee two-percent cash-back credit card with an interest rate that starts at 12.99% and doesn’t go any higher than 17.99%.”

In other words, Listerhill offers everything one would expect from a bank, except the organization is much more community-driven.

“We’re very invested in the community,” explains Edwards. “For instance, we have a program called Kicks for Kids, where we partner with schools and provide a brand-new pair of athletic shoes—as well as five pairs of Bomba socks—to every student. The program has been in existence since 2019, and we have given away thousands of pairs of shoes,” he adds, noting that a remarkably large number of students in Listerhill’s service area are wearing hand-me-downs or shoes that are already worn out.

“Providing new shoes and socks makes an immediate difference in a student’s life,” he says, before advising that Listerhill’s next shoe drop in Maury County will be at Joseph Brown Elementary in Columbia on May 2.

Meanwhile, Edwards confirms that Listerhill will also continue to focus on teaching financial literacy.

“Financial education is something we have always been behind,” he says, teasing the fall 2024 launch of a new Listerhill app designed to encourage students to save—with the help of their parents, of course.

The forthcoming app also fits in well with Listerhill’s emphasis on providing tools that incorporate cutting-edge technology, part of a focus on making the customer experience as personal and seamless as possible.

For example, “if you use our mortgage app, you are connected with one of our mortgage loan officers, and it’s a very personalized experience,” explains Edwards.

Or, if you would prefer not to interact with one of the four full-time staffers at the new Spring Hill branch, Edwards regards Listerhill’s Smart ATMs as some of the best in the business.

“You can do just about any transaction on them except get a loan or make an investment election. It’s a really cool, modern experience,” he concludes.

That said, Edwards encourages area residents to visit the new location to learn more about Listerhill and its offerings, noting that “Our branch manager in Spring Hill is from Middle Tennessee and super excited that the branch is now open.”

1 IN 5 AMERICANS WILL DEVELOP SKIN CANCER IN THEIR LIFETIME.

Skin cancer represents the most common type of cancer in the United States. The two most prevalent are basal cell cancer and squamous cell cancer. Melanoma represents a less common but more aggressive and deadly form of skin cancer. Nearly 70,000 Americans are diagnosed with melanoma each year and it causes 8,700 deaths. Five or more sunburns more than doubles your risk of developing potentially deadly melanoma.

One way to protect yourself from skin cancer is by protecting your skin from getting too much of the sun's ultraviolet light. It's especially important to avoid getting sunburned as this increases the risk of melanoma. Using sunscreen (at least SPF 30) and wearing UPF protective clothing, including a hat with a brim, are good ways to do this.

While sun protection is important for adults, it's even more important for children. The average American experiences most of their sun exposure before the age of 18. Even one blistering sunburn in childhood or adolescence more than doubles your chances of developing melanoma later in life.

Annual full body scan exams are recommended for anyone who has had more than one blistering sunburn in their lifetime and all adults over the age of 50. Make an appointment today with one of our board-certified dermatologists!

Are you 45 or older?

Ask your doctor if it's time to schedule a COLONOSCOPY.

Colorectal cancer is one of the leading causes of death in the U.S., claiming more than 50,000 lives each year. Colorectal cancer is preventable and treatable — the key is early detection.

Doctors recommend colorectal screenings for those 45 and older and those at greater risk due to family history, inflammatory bowel disease or lifestyle factors, such as smoking.

Colonoscopy is considered the most effective screening tool for colorectal cancer and is available at multiple Maury Regional Health locations throughout the region.

To learn more about colorectal cancer screening options, visit MauryRegional.com/Colorectal.
