THE GALLEY STORY...HOW IT ALL BEGAN

It all began when Mike's parents, Tom and Pat, moved here from the Midwest. Tom was a hotel manager and his job required the family to move around the country to run and manage several hotels. In 1979 they opened a little shop by the Sun Glow Pier and named it Sally's Galley Donut and Sandwich Shop, after his sister Sally. Mike worked as a bus boy and dishwasher on weekends and whenever he wasn't in school. Then in 1986 they opened a little restaurant inside the Captain's Quarters, a newly built Bed and Breakfast Inn. They named it Sally's Galley because the kitchen was tiny like the galley on a Navy ship. His father had served in the Marines and his brother Lete was currently enlisted in the Navy at that time. Mike's parents successfully ran the restaurant in the Captain's Quarters, now called the Beach Quarters, for over 15 years before retiring. Sally moved on to a career in nursing and Mike took over the business. He brought Lori on board as his one and only waitress, who is still with us today. He renamed the restaurant Mike's Galley. When the building sold in 2009, Mike moved the shop to a cute little spot in Pappa's Plaza that was once the Palermo's Italian Restaurant. The Galley outgrew that spot. So in 2012 he expanded into the neighboring unit, which had been the China One restaurant, turning the smaller unit into a gift shop. Things changed (for the better) in March of 2020 when we moved to this spot that was once a Denny's and Dairy Queen. While the Covid 19 pandemic was taking place, we remodeled the dining room, spending days painting, organizing and decorating. We hope you love it as much as we do!

Thank you for visiting our restaurant! We appreciate your business and hope to see you again soon! Tell your friends! Make new friends!! Bring your family! We are one big happy family!
