Instructor: Mike Harrington, MCET
Facility operators must look at both operational and measurement practices needed to achieve a well-run operation. Participants will explore the two most important measurement parameters an operator can make, but which typically take a backseat in importance. In addition, three key operational practices most often ignored in the chemical feed process will be discussed, such as the advantages of always using the weakest possible strength of a chemical that is practical. Just because one can buy 12% Hypochlorite, or 50% caustic, doesn't necessarily mean it should be dosed at full strength.
 - 11:00-12:00 Lunch by Mission BBQ (included in registration fee)/ Election Meeting.
Welcome incoming Director, Winfield McKell from WSSC Water!
