

Macfadden's Lace Fern

Microlepia strigose 'Macfaddeniae'

The most refined of the crested lace ferns. With its variable forms of fronds, this hard to find but easy to grow cultivar sports a very unique horizontal appearance. The tassel-like crests at the tip of the fronds droop slightly, making this an excellent accent plant for the landscape. Shade, deciduous, clumping. 12"-18".