

Arroyo Sweetwood

Myrospermum sousanum

This rare tree is native to the border area of Texas & Mexico & was only cataloged in 1982. A highly ornamental, small, leguminous tree, it bears deliciously scented white pea-like flowers in clusters of 10 or more early summer. Both the flowers and the wood are strongly vanilla-cinnamon scented. 10'-20' tall & wide, usually multi-trunked. Golden fall color, deciduous.
