

Enabling agile culture. Driving successful transformation.

TRANSFORMATION IS NECESSARY. IT IS ALSO HARD.

The business landscape is changing rapidly. Technology has accelerated customer expectations. If organizations want to survive, they keep to be able to service that demand, or competitors will.

AgileSHIFT is an enterprise framework designed to drive successful transformation by creating a culture of organizational agility. Comprised of guidance, training and professional certification; AgileSHIFT empowers every single person in the organization with the tools and knowledge to work in an agile way.

Disruptors are sizing up your organization's share of the market. AgileSHIFT creates a company culture that fosters fast-paced delivery and innovative thinking to help your organization to remain competitive in a disruptive and competitive marketplace.

Why?

Thrive in a competitive marketplace – by fostering agility, your organization will innovate more, get to market quicker and outpace competitors.

Outpace disruptors – AgileSHIFT introduces the concept of the “delta”, which is the gap between your organization’s current capabilities and where you need to be. Disruptors exploit this by trying to fill the gap with their own products or services. To outpace them, you need to close the delta.

Deliver quicker and work more effectively – delivering products and services using an agile workflow that is iterative and incremental.

Customer-orientated delivery – agile working focuses on understanding the customer needs.

Unblock siloed working and nurture cross-functional collaboration through practical tools and techniques to help your team, and the teams you interact with.

Build a culture of acceptance, collaboration, and innovation – by empowering every person with the AgileSHIFT mindset.

How?

Distil the ethos and behaviours of agile across the entire organization

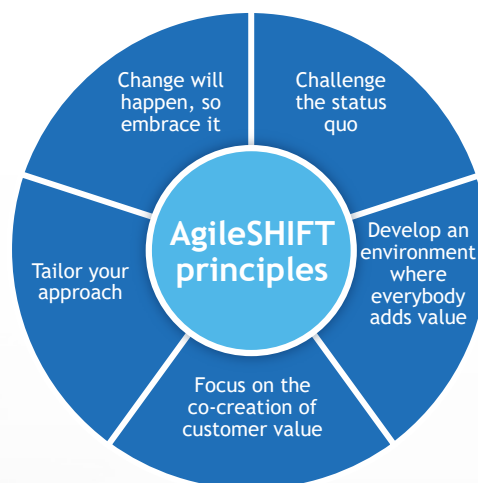

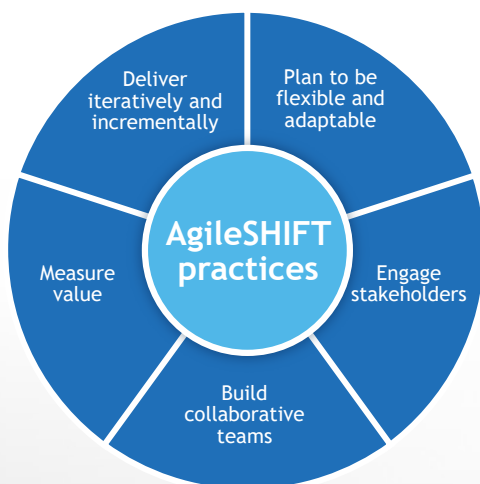

Until now, Agile methods have focused on the IT function and the delivery of software. AgileSHIFT revolutionises agile working by sharing the learnings with the whole organization - including HR, sales, marketing, operations, finance, legal.

A simple, yet effective framework

AgileSHIFT is designed to be completely tailorable for each and every organization. There are five core principles and practices that create an overarching framework to drive the culture of your organization.

Who?

AgileSHIFT is designed for every team, for every organization. It is particularly relevant to industries facing disruption – finance, retail, public services, telecoms, pharma, media and entertainment.

What next?

AgileSHIFT is delivered by a global network of accredited training organizations. Visit our examination provider PeopleCert's website for more information, including how to search for a training provider and book an exam.
