Use The Brain language Construction Rules in All the Books in The Series.

The Golden Rule: The 7 Expressions of Every Word on Earth.

Every word on earth must have a minimum of seven expressions, forms, and definitions. The brain stores words in four sections of the brain. The front right side, the front left side, the right back side, and the left back side. Words used every day are stored in the right back side of the brain. But this depends on the people and geographical regions among other things. For this book and the Thoughts to Word or audio, we will use the right back side as the main region for everyday speech.

But there are other words like those to do with women; she, her, wife, mother, herself, knickers, dress, etc and everything divine; God, Jesus, angels, evil, demons, etc these words are stored in the left back side of the brain or LBS. But words like President [myself] and government are stored on top middle part of the brain. This might be due to evolution.

One must also know that the brain stores other words not in the brain but in the organs or parts defining these words. Legs, hands, etc are stored in specific parts of the body. Again, this just depends on the person concerned.

The body stores the alphabetical order on the body from the collarbone going down to the feet.

So, the brain language as the beginning of a sequence, points to the place in which the brain stores the word. So, if it is in the right back side then we can construct the language as below.

Let us take the word; brain for example.

Right Back Side [RBS] + B+R+A+I+N

So, in the brain language construction sequence the brain points to the place the word brain is stored, RBS. Plus, the place in the body where all the letters are stored that make up that word. Check the alphabetical order of the brain in Brain Code.

https://play.google.com/store/books/details/David\_Gomadza\_Brain\_Code\_The\_Benchmark\_of\_Decoding?id=50a3EAAAQBAJ&gl=GB

So, every brain language sequence or sentence starts with a Start.

A position on the brain where the word is stored which acts as a reference point.

But just like in the English language, the sentence must end with a full stop.

To the brain, it must also end all sentences and actions. So, it does this with a deflation state. A return to the initial position. A calm state. This is because the language of the brain is composed of vibrations and movements. So, after all the vibrations and movements, the Deflate position acts as an end to all these vibrations and movements. This is the 'full stop' of every sentence. Now let us see our example above.

Brain.

RBS+B+R+A+I+N+D where D is the Deflate state.

This is the brain language sequence.

So, if a person thinks about the word brain as part of the 7-expression golden rule. The programming language or algorithm or Deep learning AI must create the sequence by pointing at the places on the body where all the sequence letters are. On a robot [ Ones I am going to make] the AI software must point to the Right Back Side of the brain. The place on the body where B, R, A, I, and N are stored. To finish the sequence must include a Deflate reference. Once the sequence is completed this trigger all the seven other forms to spell that sequencing in their own expression language; that is either EEG, fMRI, MEG scans or spectrograms, sound waves, acoustic waves etc. So, in the English language the word brain, might pop up on the screen of a translator that is synchronised to this robot or person.

The acoustic machine will produce the acoustic version of the word Brain. The EEG, MEG, PET, and fMRI encoders must receive the sequence as well and produce the spectrogram, scans, etc.

A computer synchronized to this robot must produce the binary value of the word brain at the same time.

In the end, as everything must be synchronized, you will end up with seven different meanings of the word brain at the same time.

A neural network with seven terminals as input is to be used. The seven terminals are used to collect different expressions of the word brain. Then all the information is sent to three decoding points. Where all are analysed and compared. Once the meaning is clear that it is that of the word brain. Then the information is sent to a point where the user knows that the person was thinking about the word brain.

The GREATEST breakthrough of the century.
