

officers and plenty of work.

A GOOD HONEY YEAR.

Our bee men are interested in the apiarists' organization, believing that it is good policy for the producers to form helpful protective associations, just as the capitalists and laboring men have done. Some of the very best honey shipped from Southern California is loaded on the cars at Fallbrook and De Luz stations.

NOTES OF FALLBROOK NEWS.

James Bonsall, who was for many years a respected citizen of our neighboring community of Fullerton, died at Fullerton a few days ago. He attained a good old age, but died in comparative poverty, after losing in land speculation the fortune he once possessed.

Mrs. P. L. Baker, a Fullerton girl, married a railroad ticket agent

A P.

10

G

F

1431

J.A