In Fallbrook, the body of Phillip L. Ellithorpe, 58, of Orange, Calif., was recovered from DeLuz Creek Monday afternoon by two youths who had been helping the victim push his stalled car. While pushing the vehicle, Ellithorpe apparently collapsed and fell into the creek.

The body was recovered from the creek by James E. McManus, 17, and Norman Townsend, 19, both of Fallbrook. An autopsy will be performed to determine the cause of death.
