

DE LUZ FOLLOWS SUIT.

The Settlement Preparing to Make Improvements.

De Luz like its neighbor Fallbrook, is awake to the fact that hundreds of people are pouring into Southern California, and that something must be done to improve their settlement and attract immigrants into their beautiful and fertile valley. A meeting will therefore be held on Saturday to devise ways and means for the benefit of the little community.

The De Luz valley from its isolated situation, is as yet but little known, but for its hot springs and excellent wine it will undoubtedly earn for itself a great reputation in a few years. The valley possesses 2,000 acres; the soil is a mixture of sulphur and iron, which is a positive essential to a sound claret. Signor Reboni has made a most excellent quality of this. It is said that a company is now being formed to buy an interest in Signor Reboni's enterprise and to make large purchases in the valley.
