Acknowledgements and Dedication

This volume is not only dedicated to the empowerment of all those who inspire to be the best they can be, but towards a better understanding of the environment, the preservation of global relations and working towards achieving sustainable development in all areas and perspectives highlighted in this volume. Such efforts in achieving sustainable development encompassing and embracing all important facets such as entrepreneurship and start-ups.

In this respect, all those entrepreneurs and leading figures who have directly impacted entrepreneurship schemes and start-ups – thereby knowingly or unknowingly impacting sustainable development, have also contributed in some way towards goals aimed at promoting economic sustainability. It is hoped that positive media and forums such as “The Apprentice” and “Shark-Tank” will not only encourage more aspiring individuals to venture or co-venture into successful partnerships, but also serve as stimulus whereby other such forums can be promoted.

Enabling others, as facilitators of dream makers and visionaries, are amongst the goals, which it is hoped, will be inspired through this volume.

The contributing editors would also like to thank all contributing authors to the volume, as well as the publishers and all those who have contributed positively in one way or the other – and more importantly, acknowledge the Almighty God for the ultimate source of empowerment in generating this volume.

Dedication

It is only when we are at our most vulnerable, that we realize our strengths. It wasn't till after having lost the greatest sources of human empowerments, greatest champions and having turned everything to the ultimate source of empowerment, that strengths were realized..... And that one did not have to fear or be afraid

Dedicated to powerful sources of empowerment,.....

For mums

Also, for our families

And for the wonderful editorial teams and support provided in generating the output for this volume
