

RENTAL FORM

Please read full form pertaining to rental agreements through APLM Distributing.

Rental agreement I: All products (Radios, Accessories, etc.) are owned by APLM Distributing and any transaction in process or complete is for rental usage and not purchasing to own. Any negotiations are under pricing only for rental purposes. Billing for all rentals will begin as soon as product is in transit to user.

Rental time length II: All products (Radios, Accessories, etc.) rented from APLM Distributing consist of billing from date of transit to user. All users are expected to return all products back to APLM Distributing no later than 30 days from transit time. If customer fails to return products before due date without informing APLM Distributing, then customer will automatically be billed for a 30 day cycle under the assumption that customer is continuing usage of product. If customer wishes to rent product for less than 30 days please reach out to APLM Distributing for an extended contract providing detail on usage and pricing.

Rental damages III: All products rented from APLM Distributing will be under the users care. All damages internally or externally of any kind will be under the users full responsibility. As user is responsible for all damages (physical, water, etc.) of any circumstance, user will also be responsible to pay list price for all damages towards products.

Rental Warranty IV: Any product rented from APLM Distributing voids all warranties and will not be used to reduce pricing on damages any users are responsible for. As stated in Rental damages III, user is required to pay list price for any product that was under their care.

Shipping V: Any shipping charges that may apply will be user responsibility. APLM Distributing is not responsible to cover any freight charges sent or received to and from user.
