Proof of Concept

The $RTPx Token is exclusively designed as a UTILITY TOKEN to service the Education Marketplace and support the FinLitX Education Ecosystem Platform and education partners. As such, our legal team has determined that the $RTPx Token is exempt from SEC Securities Regulations that define certain Cryptocurrency as a Security.

During a Proof-of-Concept phase of 6-12 months, the $RTPx Token will be introduced as a Discount Token which allows students/users to earn the $RTPx Token and exchange it for reduced school tuition (scholarships), room and board, and other education sundries. During this phase, Investors may purchase warrants on the $RTPx Token, secured by corporate equity, which allows Investors to acquire the $RTPx Token at the time of its Initial DEX Offering (IDO) at a discounted price.

Such Proof-of-Concept is vital to establishing the $RTPx Token as a Utility with institutional longevity, increasing adoption and value, and regulatory exemption. Backed by corporate equity in a potential 1000x EdTech market, the $RTPx Token is an extraordinary long-term investment.

Market Provider Air Drops

As an important part of market ignition, FinLitX will include in all School District, University and ancillary provider contracts an $RTPx Air Drop provision, granting each provider a sufficient amount of $RTPx Tokens. Air Drops to the provider community will enable education providers to trade Tokens where needed, enable a circular transaction, stimulate rapid growth, and solidify our provider base.
