

Engineering Art & Design

With over 20 different high-end luxury sneaker brands like Gucci, Berluti and Jhung Yuro, designers like Ghanaian-American born Off-White creator, Virgil Abloh, have been the inspiration for this engineering infused enrichment class. Instead of just being consumers, our future STEM innovators can now be the entrepreneurial architects of their own destiny.

Engineers aren't always literal scientists & mathematicians, but they are innovators! With this unique enrichment class, our chapter offers members the opportunity to learn the design process to create and potentially sell their own sneaker line!
