

AMY DELETTRE

Amy DeLettre, 37, went home to the Lord January 29, 2024, in Raleigh, North Carolina. She is the second of three children born on June 19, 1986 to Tim and Angie DeLettre, in Jacksonville. She lived most of her life in North Florida before moving to North Carolina in late 2014.

She is a 2004 graduate of West Nassau High School where she competed on the soccer, softball and weightlifting teams, while also performing in theater. Soccer would lead her to several adventures, first, to Bluefield College in Virginia after high school on a scholarship. She finished her collegiate soccer and academics career at Southeastern University in Lakeland, FL. While as a goalkeeper at Southeastern, she set the single-season records in shutouts and goals against average and is currently second all-time in shutouts and fifth in saves.

Amy went to work in the box office for the Jacksonville Suns Baseball Club after college in 2008. She worked her way to Director of Ticket Operations before soccer led her away again when Amy took a role with the North Carolina Football Club. Amy wrapped her working career with the Regal Movie Theater in Cary, North Carolina where she was able to recapture what she loved about her Jacksonville Suns role and express her passion for the movies.

She was a member of Riverview (now Gardenview) and Gray Gables Baptist Churches locally and the Vintage Church in Downtown Raleigh. Amy had many hobbies, but she had a great passion for fandoms in her later years. From Captain America to Doctor Who, there wasn't much she didn't watch, read, or discuss in the comic and sci-fi realms. Of all the areas in her life, Amy was considered a light to anyone she came in contact. She was always loyal, supportive and a positive influence for her family and friends.

Amy is preceded in death by her father; and her beloved dogs Sadie and AJ.

She is survived by her mother; brothers Brian and Cody; and sister-in-law Julia; grandparents Bill and Carol Clayton and Nick Olliff; and several extended family members as well as anyone who considered her a friend.

A memorial service for Amy will be held Saturday, February 17 at 11 a.m. at First Baptist Church of Gray Gables, Callahan.

A celebration of life service will also be held Saturday, March 9 from 1-4 p.m. in North Carolina.
