

A Side-by-Side Comparison: FeatherStone Versus Real Stone:

FeatherStone: Lightweight, easy to install, non-combustible, durable and very attractive, with clean crisp lines and accents.

Real Stone:

Some really tough slugging here!

Extremely irregular shapes; heavy to handle; extremely time consuming to install and difficult keep in place until the mortar sets; sharp/jagged edges can lead to personal injury if someone fell against it. A very untidy finish! At least 3 times heavier than the FeatherStone finish per square foot. Excess mortar will not wash off once the stone has set in place. What you see here is what you get! There is no recourse to change much without removing the entire façade.
