1. Website Visitors

Like most website operators, Saint Petersburg Month of Photography collects non-personally-identifying information of the sort that web browsers and servers typically make available, such as the browser type, language preference, referring site, and the date and time of each visitor request. Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's purpose in collecting non-personally identifying information is to better understand how Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's visitors use its website. From time to time, St. Petersburg Month of Photography may release non-personally-identifying information in the aggregate, e.g., by publishing a report on trends in the usage of its website.

Saint Petersburg Month of Photography also collects potentially personally-identifying information like Internet Protocol (IP) addresses for logged in users and for users leaving comments on <https://spmop.org/> blog posts. St. Petersburg Month of Photography only discloses logged in user and commenter IP addresses under the same circumstances that it uses and discloses personally-identifying information as described below.

2. Security

The security of your Personal Information is important to us, but remember that no method of transmission over the Internet, or method of electronic storage is 100% secure. While we strive to use commercially acceptable means to protect your Personal Information, we cannot guarantee its absolute security.

3. Protection of Certain Personally-Identifying Information

Saint Petersburg Month of Photography discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only to those of its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations that (i) need to know that information in order to process it on Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's behalf or to provide services available at Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's website, and (ii) that have agreed not to disclose it to others. Some of those employees, contractors and affiliated organizations may be located outside of your home country; by using St. Petersburg Month of Photography's website, you consent to the transfer of such information to them. St. Petersburg Month of Photography will not rent or sell potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information to anyone. Other than to its employees, contractors and affiliated organizations, as described above, Saint Petersburg Month of Photography discloses potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information only in response to a subpoena, court order or other governmental request, or when St. Petersburg Month of Photography believes in good faith that disclosure is reasonably necessary to protect the property or rights of St. Petersburg Month of Photography, third parties or the public at large.

If you are a registered user of <https://spmop.org/> and have supplied your email address, St. Petersburg Month of Photography may occasionally send you an email to tell you about new features, solicit your feedback, or just keep you up to date with what's going on with Saint Petersburg Month of Photography and our products. We primarily use our website and social media to communicate this type of information, so we expect to keep this type of email to a minimum. If you send us a request (for example via a support email or via one of our feedback mechanisms), we reserve the right to publish it in order to help us clarify or respond to your request or to help us support other users. Saint Petersburg Month of Photography takes all measures reasonably necessary to protect against the unauthorized access, use, alteration or destruction of potentially personally-identifying and personally-identifying information.

4. Cookies

To enrich and perfect your online experience, Saint Petersburg Month of Photography uses "Cookies", similar technologies and services provided by others to display personalized content, appropriate advertising and store your preferences on your computer.

A cookie is a string of information that a website stores on a visitor's computer, and that the visitor's browser provides to the website each time the visitor returns. Saint Petersburg Month of Photography uses cookies to help Saint Petersburg Month of Photography identify and track visitors, their usage of <https://spmop.org/>, and their website access preferences. Saint Petersburg Month of Photography visitors who do not wish to have cookies placed on their computers should set their browsers to refuse cookies before using Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's websites, with the drawback that certain features of Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's websites may not function properly without the aid of cookies.

By continuing to navigate our website without changing your cookie settings, you hereby acknowledge and agree to Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's use of cookies.

5. Privacy Policy Changes

Although most changes are likely to be minor, Saint Petersburg Month of Photography may change its Privacy Policy from time to time, and in Saint Petersburg Month of Photography's sole discretion. St. Petersburg Month of Photography encourages visitors to frequently check this page for any changes to its Privacy Policy. Your continued use of this site after any change in this Privacy Policy will constitute your acceptance of such change.
