

March 2022

SCVQG

Show and Share

Penny Lawrence

This is the National Quilt Museum 2021 Block of the Month quilt. This was my first quilt as you go. The top sashing was doubled so you did not have to turn under a narrow hem. It was fun quilting the blocks, sashing and borders using various rulers on a domestic machine.

Penny Lawrence

This was a baby quilt for a baby shower that I ordered on 12-31. I received it the Sunday before the shower. It was rated beginner; all the animal blocks had to be cut out separately. The sashing were 2" square with cornerstones on point. The backing was minkee. I learned it was faster using rulers than a walking foot.

Penny Lawrence

Close up of blocks and cornerstones.

Rita Percer

This is the Stack and whack quilt I made from the demonstration Sue Bennorth gave the guild members. It is one of my IFFY completed projects.

Rita Percer

Here's the back!

Judy Chaffee

A quilt I finished this week for a repetition and rhythm challenge. The pattern is called Urban Trek. It's done with floral fabrics for the Covid nurses.

Rita
Percer

This is a picture of my Grandson's
wall my daughter painted.

Rita
Percer

This is the quilt
I made for my Grandson.

Rita
Percer

Here is the back

Jean Carter and Doryce Fitzgerald

We made coats!
Here is the front view. Pattern purchased at Quilty Pleasure,
Simi Valley.
They also have classes.

Jean Carter and Doryce Fitzgerald

And the back. Second image is the pattern we used.

Stitch n Chat

For show n share. The Stitch n Chat mini group made 21 fabric bowls for the boutique in Leona Valley.

SCVQG Show and Share THE END

Champion at 13 months. Another finish!