

Observations

Nothing easier than judging the past,
when no personal sacrifice is asked.
I survived the years of nightmare of hells.
Only God knows why, and He never tells.
We rather strike a bargain with the devil,
and settle for some peace at any level.
In the mind is the deepest, darkest well.
Every person creates their own mind's hell.
History shows new life comes with old scars.
Old scars can fall to heavenly stars.
Remembered by others once time finished,
only character by time not diminished.
Outer peace comes with forgiving other.
Forgive self and inner peace discover.
