POINT DEFIANCE ZOO & AQUARIUM

Point Defiance Sound in northern Washington, lies a spectacular 760 acre park of old growth trees, rhododendron and rose gardens, beaches, boardwalks and a ferry dock. This is also home to the 29 acre Point Defiance Zoo & Aquarium with over 9000 specimens of 367 animal species run by the Metro-politan Park District of Tacoma. Ecospheres from Pacific Rim are exhibited here to highlight some of the most exquisite life forms on earth. Southeast Asian tigers live around forested waterfalls. The Pacific Northwestern US red wolf builds its numbers back from near extinction in its sanctuary. The Arctic Tundra lands' polar bears, arctic fox, reindeer and muskoxen are provided safe sanctuary here, too. The South and North Pacific Aquariums invite guests to dive with sharks, hand feed starfish and sea anemones, as well as watch tiny baby jellies through a microscope. Point Defiance Zoo & Aquarium has been designated as a "sensory inclusive" site for people with autism and other special needs.
