

Tissington Ford Barn

Environmental and Sustainability Policy

Available in large print – email: sophie@tissingtonfordbarn.co.uk

Adjacent to and surrounding Tissington Ford Barn we are blessed with stunning and untouched views of the Peak District and Derbyshire countryside. Nature thrives around Tissington Ford Barn thanks to us preserving and shielding the habitats of local wildlife including the protected water vole, planting a large amount of plants and trees that encourage biodiversity, not to mention leaving sections of land to grow naturally to ensure we provide a safe haven for wildlife.

We continuously work hard to protect our acres of land while minimizing our impact on the environment through sustainable action, for example: ensuring we use local produce, tradesman and companies, conserving the local fields and gardens, using environmentally friendly cleaning products and saving energy where possible. We welcome our guests to do the same throughout their stay.

Energy Policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- Reducing energy use: our cottage is well-insulated with a boiler less than 10 years old. We also provide additional window shutters within specific bedrooms and blankets for all guests for use in the winter months.
- Buying Renewable Energy: We buy and use 100% renewable energy at Tissington Ford Barn.
- Renewable heat: We buy sustainably grown British kiln-dried wood from a local Derbyshire Company who sources wood from the Forestry Commission.
- Tissington Ford Barn's Hot tub is electric; powered by 100% renewable energy. Hot tubs are kept cold and chlorinated between bookings – safer for you and better for the environment.

Accommodation policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- We use low-impact washing powders (Ecover) and cleaning essentials at the property (Method, Ecover, microfibre cloths etc)

- We leave 'unused bed and towel' signs at the property, so we do not need to wash and use energy on linen that has not been used.
- WE use LED lightbulbs at the cottage
- We provide additional blankets and heavy duvets for the colder months so the need for additional heating during the night is minimized
- All Tissington Ford Barn's laundry is onsite and therefore powered by renewable energy. This also means we are able to give our housekeeping team year-round employment
- Tissington Ford Barn was converted from a hay barn, specifically to a holiday let – it is not a second home and there is no planning permission for year-round occupation. So your stay at Tissington Ford Barn boosts the local economy without taking accommodation away from local people

Waste Policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- We always look to repair rather than replace
- Tissington Ford Barn encourages our guests to join us in recycling paper, glass, cans, plastics, cardboard etc, and composting food waste. In any case, we use a company that sorts through the waste from Tissington Ford Barn; separating recyclables from general waste to ensure nothing has been missed.
- We ask for our guests to turn off lights, appliances and water when they are not in use to avoid wasted energy

Water policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- Water for nourishing our plants is mostly collect from run-off rainwater
- We take care with what we put down our drains, using eco-friendly washing up liquid and detergent only
- Tissington Ford Barn's hot tub is an optional add-on; we charge per stay to cover the extra resources (the water and renewable energy). We use environmentally-friendly chemicals and any waste water from the hot tubs supports the section of land we do not mow that encourages wild flowers in the adjacent field; providing habitats for birds, stoats, and insects.

Transport Policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- We encourage our guests to use public transport and provide them with information on local bus routes and how to arrive here via train/ bus.
- We encourage our guests to visit local pubs and cafes, attractions and sites, that are within walking distance of the barn; maps are provided at the property. We also post local events on our social media sites, and local days out on our website.
- We provide bike storage so guests can visit the local area. We are also affiliated with a bike company that can drop off a selection of bikes to our guests for the duration of their stay.

- We do provide an EV charger at the property and offer guests to charge their car free of charge.

Land Management at Tissington Ford Barn

- We plant trees, wild flowers, and a range of local flora to encourage local wildlife including butterflies and bees, while further promoting biodiversity on our grounds. This is an ongoing commitment and one which we hope will offset our carbon emissions.
- We ensure the land around the river is partially obstructed by trees and overgrown with wildflowers and plants to ensure guests do not disturb the protected water vole that resides here.
- We do not allow pets at Tissington Ford Barn so not to disturb or harm local wildlife such as pheasants, badgers, water voles, stouts, birds or foxes.
- Collecting flowers, dead wood or disturbing wildlife is forbidden. Hunting is also forbidden.

Sustainable Business Policies at Tissington Ford Barn

- Tissington Ford Barn promotes local food producers and retailers (including a refill station for eco-friendly products, located in Ashbourne). Guests can 'order ahead' before they arrive. Our Welcome hamper is full to the brim with local produce from the Peak District, with fresh bread and milk from Ashbourne, cheese from Cromford, crackers and biscuits from Ashbourne, chocolates, jam and chutney from Bakewell
- We purchase locally to minimize environmental damage through road and air miles. Should it be unavoidable, we do order in bulk to save on packaging.
- Our office records are kept electronically or on re-used paper and we heat our office with renewable energy. All ink cartridges are recycled.
- We work with local businesses to provide final touches and activities for our guests
- We encourage and promote to our guests the 'Respect, Protect and Enjoy' campaign when discussing the idea of exploring the peak district. We also leave a copy of the Countryside Code at our cottage.
- We have a separate green policy within the Office that details our goals regarding employee education on the green policy, and office standards for green and sustainable practice.

At Tissington Ford Barn we recognize we can always be doing more. We do welcome suggestions to reduce our impact on the environment further. We commit ourselves to review this policy and continuously improve our sustainable and eco-friendly practices.
