FEBRUARY 2000

VOLUME 13 #7

THANKS, JIM!

After 10 years of writing the Weather/Atmosphere column for the Byte, Jim Hinds has asked for a leave of absence. The editors really appreciate his efforts over the years – we know that he put a lot of time researching articles on the atmosphere to keep us all up to date on the glories of the night sky. Thanks, Jim !!

We've asked Norman Benes to take over the weather reporting, and he's agreed to give it a try.

911 REALLY HELPS

Leo Chaloux

We recently had a medical aid that consisted of someone who had fallen down and seriously broken their ankle. The injury was very evident as the ankle was distorted, out of alignment with the leg, swollen and severely fractured as bone was protruding through the skin. Fortunately the individual was able to crawl back into his house and call 911. That request for help started the process where EMT's and first responders from the fire department as well as paramedics from the ambulance service were dispatched. One of the fire department Captains lived just a short distance from the person's address and was able to respond and be at the scene in just a few minutes. Within 6 minutes additional members of the fire department were on scene. After 30 minutes the paramedics arrived and transported the individual to the Marshall Hospital Emergency Room. Within hours he was being operated on. Doctors were able to repair his shattered ankle and make it possible for him to walk again.

After the person was put onto the ambulance and his house was secured those of us from the fire department were talking about how bad his ankle was broken, how much the poor guy must be hurting and how long it would take for him to be back to normal again. After we left the incident one thought that came to my mind was what would have happened to this man if he had done this just 100 years ago. This was an accident that could happen to anyone at any time and could have serious results on a person's future. If they had lived through the injury they would have at the best been crippled for the rest of their life.

Much takes place during the time from when a 911 call is placed until an individual is released to return hopefully to a life that was equal to the one they had before. The 911 phone system would not be capable of doing what it does if it was not for those who have built and maintain the system. Those that are at the receiving end of each emergency request are highly trained individuals known as dispatchers that start the process and even give help over the phone system. The first response process starts at the end of the initial dispatch with many individuals trained in medical, fire, vehicle and countless other emergencies. At the incident the training that has been ongoing is utilized to stabilize and bring to an end any threat or emergency that may be present. In the case of a medical emergency further stabilization takes place by those who have been trained to work as paramedics transporting the person in need to the nearest hospital. Once at the hospital further stabilization and advanced care takes place with extremely trained individuals. Depending on the medical emergency, after hospital care, there are many others who have been trained to provide specific medical care and ongoing support. We are very fortunate for never in the history of mankind have so many been trained to help others.

Be careful out there. The roads are slippery and people still are not slowing down. If you haven't cleaned your chimney lately, now is a good time to do it.

HELP WANTED by the Fire Chief

I have recently started a Fire Fighter 1 class at the fire station. This class is being held each Wednesday at 7:00 P.M. Any one curious about what a fire fighter does is more than welcome to participate. One thing missing in the class right now is women. This fire department and the community needs more women to serve as volunteer fire fighters. If you are interested please give me a call at the station, 626-9017.

THANK YOU

Thank you to everyone who was able to contribute to the Christmas baskets this year. Again we had overwhelming support. This is such an awesome community with the way we all hold together and help each other. It definitely makes the Mosquito-Swansboro people very outstanding!

Also a big thank you for all who helped, Lee Hair, Devery Minor, Jean Pearson, Karen and Ron Bennet. Without you and your help shopping, putting baskets together, getting great boxes, gift certificates and more it would not come together.

THANK YOU TO ALL! HAPPY NEW YEAR 2000!
Sincerely, LaVonne Moser

MOSQUITO VOLUNTEER FIRE DEPARTMENT BOARD

DATE CHANGES

Debbie Minor

Happy New Year.

I hope we all made it through to the New Year with no problems.

Not much happening this month. I would like to tell you all of some changes in dates to some of our functions.

We have changed our regular date for the annual Awards Banquet to March 4th. It is typically in February.

I don't know if any of you caught the date for the Easter Egg Hunt on April 1st. A little pre-April fools. The date for the Hunt will actually be on April 22nd. Mark this on your calendar. We would also like to ask for help in any variety, such as money, eggs, candy or bodies to help with set-up and clean-up.

Another date that was misprinted in the Byte was for the Taco Dinner. It was printed as May 15th, but should have read May 6th. Sorry about all that mix-up.

We have also changed our monthly Board Meeting Dates from the first Thursday of each month to the third Saturday of each month. This will start as of February 19th at 9:00 a.m.

If any of you are interested in our meetings please feel free to attend.

HILL HAPPENINGS

Jo Thomas

Since the deadline for the Byte is the 19th of every month, there's some December news still waiting to be "wrapped up".

Last fall Jackie Jodar, granddaughter of Byron & Sherril Jodar, had her picture in the paper when students at Schnell School released 600 tagged Monarch butterflies into the sky for scientific research regarding their migration. By the way, Byron & Sherril have moved to Pleasant Valley.

So sad to hear about the major throat cancer surgery that Dale & Ethyl Behymer's son, Rick, went through before Thanksgiving. The holidays were very trying for this family and we wish Rick a speedy recovery. Dale is a retired but current veterinarian, and would you believe they ran into locals Frank & Lorraine Sellers (she's also a veterinarian) when they all happened to be vacationing in Mexico? It IS a small world.

Dawn Roberti was one of the women featured in the newspaper's salute to Women in Business in El Dorado County. Subtitled "stories of success", Dawn apparently has a "Natural Flair" for customizing flowers for weddings and businesses.

Zoe Arsenych (in eighth grade this year) showed her stuff and prepared a COMPLETE ham dinner for Christmas when her mother got the dreaded flu. Then Craig and Zoe even had company over to share her efforts while poor Deb kept secluded. So sorry, Deb, but as far as Zoe's concerned you must be doing something right!

Congratulations to Debbie Minor who has finished school and is now a computer instructor. Also, Debbie and Devery celebrated their 12th anniversary just before the end of the year by spending the night out on the Delta King where they attended a murder mystery dinner. A mystery that has yet to be solved happened about eighteen months ago when Devery lost his watch onto which he'd slid his 10th anniversary wedding band. It must be out there SOMEWHERE.

When I was visiting our friendly fire station recently, I saw a note on the door that referred to the fact that the floors had been painted recently (in time for the Christmas potluck, actually) by Lee Hair, who was ably assisted by Chris Johns. Apparently this led to restriping the floor (so our fabulous firefighters have a guide for parking the equipment properly) which led to a better arrangement to make it easier to get around when the equipment is inside. This is a GOOD thing, Lee!

It seemed like EVERYONE must have been at the Christmas potluck but if you weren't, you'll never know how pretty the tables were - dressed in green with candle centerpieces. Even the firemen's gear was "hidden". Dean & Lela Edson donated a Christmas tree. The Hairs made the decorative bows and manzanita wreaths (clever). Meredith & Elizabeth Stone (9 & 5) treated us by singing their annual Christmas song (well, mostly Elizabeth!). And Devery Minor (battalion chief) read us a Christmas poem from out of the past called Mosquito's Night Before Christmas. It was a memorable evening, and that's a "wrap" to a very good year.

Now maybe Elizabeth stole the spotlight at Christmas so to speak, but Meredith Stone had her picture in the local paper when her fourth grade class at Camino School (that's where mom, Nancy, went) participated in a new program that taught the students everything they need to know about the cycle of water. And congratulations to Ron & Nancy Stone, who make those wonderful chocolate turtles that appear but quickly disappear whenever they attend one of our functions. Since this past summer they are now the proud owners of the 34 acres where their home sits, which they had previously rented for fifteen years.

Yes, it's FINALLY time to hit the slopes. And Tricia Penrod didn't give up any winter skills to summer as she continues her dominance in the season's first event on Heavenly's World Cup run. In fact, El Dorado High's team was unbeatable. While Tricia clinched first place individually, she also contributed to the team's first place with the boys and girls combined scores, and she was also part of the girls team that swept the top three spots to win first.

Remember the wonderful, mysterious cabbage salad we all read about last month? Leslie Keene received the recipe she was seeking from Mary Barnes the day after the Byte came out and was kind enough to pass it on so that I was able to whip it up in time for New Year's Eve, thank you very much - and it is FABULOUS. (Thank heaven Mary is a BYTE subscriber!) The funny part is that when Corinne Chapman found out I had made this salad (for the first time in my life), she promptly called Leslie to tell her she knew who the mysterious person was that Leslie was looking for. "It's Jo, it's Jo," she said. How sweet, Corinne, but I can only WISH I'd come up with that recipe!

The busily elusive Bill George was overheard on Tom Sullivan's talk show one afternoon voicing a difference of opinion. Here I thought he had too much going on for such things. But I guess busy minds always find the time.

Well, I think the BIG story this month, the REALLY big story is when we went to see Dick & Darlene Rood's "mobile home"!!! You've heard of "out with the old - in with the new"? Well now that they're in their new home it was time for the old one to move on, and move it did. What a sight. The crew of seven was so spectacular they had this two story up to the edge of the road before the first day was over, and in just an hour or so the next day they maneuvered it up the road, into the driveway and slipped it into its new "camping" spot - with a view. A ceramic pheasant managed to sit on the window sill through all the ups and downs! Their daughter, Debbie, is anxious to move in and her big dog, Raisin, was appropriately dressed for the occasion with a big, white lace collar. (I counted four "biggs" in this story, so it would seem fair to say this family tends to think big)

Don't forget to be a sweet-heart this month...

THE FAMOUS CABBAGE RECIPE

Since Jo mentioned the cabbage recipe, here it is!

Delicious Cabbage Salad

Mary Barnes

- 1 cup of toasted sliced almonds
- 2 (or more) teaspoons of toasted sesame seeds
- Chop 1 medium head of cabbage (medium fine)
- add 4 green onions and crushed noodles from 2 packages of Chicken Top Ramen (or Maruchan Ramen) and almonds and seeds. Toss with dressing.

Dressing:

- 1/4 cup sugar
- 1 cup salad oil
- 6 tablespoons vinegar
- 2 packages of Top Ramen flavoring
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper

Shake well to blend and pour over the salad. You probably won't need to use all of this dressing but it keeps well in the refrigerator.

And here's another one from a-non-a-mouse

A SPECIAL RECIPE!

- 1 package of Beauty
- 3 gallons of Love and Care
- 1 cup of Patience
- 4 pinches of Worry
- 1 big box of Kisses
- An endless supply of Hugs
- And a Tender Touch

All these ingredients mixed together well make a wife a wonderful mother.

THANK YOU IS NOT NEARLY ENOUGH

Kelley had been very sick since Tuesday. Thursday night, Jan 6th, her breathing became very rapid as she couldn't get enough oxygen into her lungs. After calling our HMO for advice, I finally just dialed 911 and explained our situation. Within 5 minutes the Mosquito Volunteer Fire Department Emergency Medical Response Team was at the front door. This well trained, professional group consisted of Leslie and Pat Keene, Lee Hair, Chris Johns, Diane Brady, Jerry Okumura and the ring leader, Leo Chaloux. Kelley was stabilized and sent off in an ambulance. She was diagnosed with pneumonia, spent a few days in the hospital and is now at home and on the mend. We are truly blessed to have such a wonderful volunteer group of friends and neighbors.

Thank You Again!!!! Dick and Kelley Clausen

SUMMERFIELD DITCH HISTORY

Leo Chaloux

Mark Twain once said that whiskey was for drinking and water was for fighting. A statement that has been true throughout history and is even more so today. Of all resources water is the one that we simply cannot live without. The Mosquito area has always been extremely fortunate, for by western U.S. standards, this area has had an abundant water supply.

One source of water in this area has been traditionally called the Summerfield Ditch. In 1854 a James Summerfield acquired the water rights to Slab Creek and he soon started digging a ditch. In Section 28 Township 12 North, Range 12 East on an area of Slab Creek known as "Head of Summfield's Ditch" 300 inches of water measured under a four inch pressure was diverted out of the creek. As stated in the original documents, "that the purposes for which said waters have been claimed, appropriated used and possessed are for mining, irrigating, domestic and others uses, and I James Summerfield do now claim, appropriate, use and possess the same and the place where the same have been used and where I do now use and where I intend to use the same are as follows, to-wit: At and adjoining Mosquito Canyon and the lands adjacent thereto and also for mining and other purposes:" The early document goes on to state, "That the means by which said waters are diverted and by which they have and will be diverted and by which I intend to divert the same are by a head dam in said Slab Creek and by flume and ditch connected with said head dam and the waters are taken therefrom on the West side of Slab Creek by a flume 24 inches wide on the bottom and twelve inches deep and thence by ditches and flumes to the land above described of a size sufficient to carry the above mentioned three hundred inches above described."

Since 1854 the Summerfield Ditch has supplied water to the Mosquito area where it was utilized by farmers and ranchers to grow some of the best wheat in California, some of the largest peach and grape orchards in El Dorado County and numerous other crops. In 1906 James Summerfield transferred his water rights along with the Summerfield Ditch to the Western States Electric and Gas Company so that the water could be used to fill the new small lake created by the construction of Finnon Dam. Finnon Lake was a start up and back up water supply needed by Western States to keep the hydraulic electric generating site just completed at the confluence of Rock Creek and the South Fork of the American River. This new power plant supplied power not only to the Mosquito Area and El Dorado County but also to parts of western Sacramento. Folsom brags of being the first place in California to have a hydraulic generating plant when in reality the Mosquito area was probably, by a few days, the first area in the state to have electricity produced by water power. Western States eventually became Pacific Gas and Electric Company. In June of 1939 PG&E "for the sum of one dollar conveys to Company all of Pacific's (PG&E) right, title and interest in and to the so-called Summerfield system. . ." The Company formally known as the Mosquito District Mutual Water Company was formed by three farmers who now owned, maintained and operated the Ditch continuing to supply water to the area.

As Swansboro Country became developed in the late 1960's ownership of the Summerfield Ditch and its water rights were eventually transferred to the El Dorado Irrigation District around 1972. The EID has since maintained and supplied water to a few individuals in the area. With Finnon Lake, the many ponds developed by Swansboro Country, and the Summerfield Ditch the Mosquito area has had since 1854 access to a large quantity of water – water that has been used for farming, grazing, recreation and fire protection. Recently the EID has applied to the State of California to transfer the water rights it has to Slab Creek to Folsom Lake. This process will result in the EID being able to pump the Slab Creek water rights directly out of Folsom Lake to the western areas of El Dorado County. The result is the abandonment of the Summerfield Ditch and the loss of water that has been supplied to our area.

A question we should be asking is, where will water for recreation, agriculture, fire protection and the future come from? As a whole community the most important question we need to ask ourselves "is water worth fighting for?"

If you have additional questions or concerns about the issue of water for the Mosquito area or more importantly are interested in looking for a possible solution, please contact me or Devery Minor at the fire station, 626-9017.

FROM THE NEW WEATHER REPORTER

Norman Benes

We're here on Holiday Lane and Mosquito, close to a 2700 foot level. First set foot in California at the Sacramento railway station in the spring of 1944. And, first laid eyes on this part of the Sierra foothills early in 1962. Always liked this area, so we moved here in the spring of 1993.

It won't be easy following in Jim Hinds' footsteps. His stories were good and on the mark!

Since the rain (and water) year began on July first, had only a tad under a quarter of inch (0.23") for July through September. Rainfall improved a bit in October with almost two inches (1.94") November was on-again/off-again but managed a trifle more than four inches (4.09"). The season seemed promising with December adding 1.57" through the thirteenth. Then that somewhat capricious lady we call Mother Nature turned the water handle to "Off" and moved the weather to "Severe Clear" with winter-like frosty mornings. My count is twenty-eight days without rain. The first half of the season produced a paltry 7.85", not too auspicious.

We are past the middle of January with almost five and a third inches (5.29") of the "wet stuff" which may be heralding a return to more normal conditions. So...what's for the rest of January?

More clouds, rain and mild temperatures are in the forecast for the next few days. There is a chance for a return to cooler temperatures and even some northerly wind about the middle of the last week of January. A blocking ridge of high pressure aloft appears ready to establish residence along the west coast of North America.

CRAFTS STARTING AGAIN!

Betty Kinney

We had a nice turn out for the first craft meeting of the year. 10 ladies attended. Many brought new ideas for crafts for us to make and sell at Apple Hill. Meetings will be held the second Tuesday of each month. Next meeting is February 10th at 9:00 AM at the Mosquito Fire Station, to be followed by a pot luck lunch at 11:30. Come to the pot luck even if you don't come to the craft meeting! All are welcome! Please bring a main dish, salad or dessert and your own dishes.

If you can sew, quilt, crochet, knit or paint, please plan to make something to donate for our sale.

We appreciate our Fire Department and depend on them for so much, so let's show our appreciation by doing our bit to provide funds for them.

A smile is contagious – let's start an epidemic!

SCPOA CORNER

Deborah Arsenych

The SCPOA Annual Meeting will be held on February 12, 2000 at the Mosquito Fire Station at 10 A.M. All members are urged to attend and vote for the four new directors that will represent your Association. Your suggestions and contributing knowledge is greatly appreciated. GET INVOLVED.

There are six Committees where your help is needed. They are the Road, the Architectural Review, the Common Area and Fences, the Budget and Long Range Plan, the Runway and the Bylaws and DC&R Committees. Volunteers serve along with a Board Director. GET INVOLVED.

A NOTE: The Board of Directors will be at the Fire Station at 9 A.M. to answer questions regarding the Long Range Plan and the approved Budget for the year 2000-2001.
