

TASK FORCE FOXFIRE

"To give protection to the weak. A voice to the forgotten. Comfort to the suffering. Promise of a future to those without hope. These things we pledge to those in need."

Task Force Foxfire

2700 Earl Rudder Fwy S, Ste. 2700
College Station, TX 77845

This letter serves as a declaration of intent and capabilities statement for the 501c(3) NGO, Task Force Foxfire. The mission of our organization is to provide direct support, analysis, consultation, logistics management services, and program/system integration for the international humanitarian aid community. The direct objective of our organization is to utilize our team's combined experience, of over fifty years, to improve the efficacy of the global humanitarian mission. To this end we provide direct support for ongoing missions, collaborative analytical efforts in pre-planning stages, and long-term research for data compilation and distribution.

The core members of our team are comprised of post-graduate level analysts and researchers, as well as international logisticians, foreign policy advisors, and intelligence consulting professionals. Our members have worked an aggregated 20 years in humanitarian/environmental field operations, 30 years in government, 15 years in international logistics, and 15 years in international project management. Each member has extensive field time in active conflict zones, program/project management experience at institutional and corporate level, and a passion for improving the lives of our fellow man. Linguistically, our central personnel have fluency in over 10 languages, represented on every inhabited continent. Few organizations integrate our level of top-tier assets into every facet of their operational structure; which sets Task Force Foxfire apart from other entities in the humanitarian aid community. With a completely non-partisan and objective vision, we are able to tackle complex and fluid problems with a forward focused vision.

Task Force Foxfire also maintains a secondary mission which is academically focused. Our organization finds opportunities for post-graduate level scholars to serve with our operational staff so that they can gain valuable insight into the real-world challenges and complexities of humanitarian crises across the globe. Our mentorship program allows our student interns to accumulate hands-on experience in analysis, product creation, and international collaboration. Through this effort we strive to enable to next generation of humanitarian leadership; while simultaneously bringing innovation to crisis resolution efforts. Task Force Foxfire operates under the principles of our code of conduct and ethics policy which is available on the website, or can be requested from the office of the executive director.

TASK FORCE FOXFIRE

"To give protection to the weak. A voice to the forgotten. Comfort to the suffering. Promise of a future to those without hope. These things we pledge to those in need."

With Hope for the Future:

John R Muns
Executive Director
Task Force Foxfire
Director@taskforcefoxfire.org