To Whom it May Concern:

On behalf of our entire team at Conservation X Labs, this letter acknowledges the support provided by Magesh Srinivasan during The Microfiber Innovation Challenge. The Microfiber Innovation Challenge is a global competition to source and support companies creating innovative, upstream approaches to reduce or prevent the shedding of plastic microfibers from textile sources.

Magesh participated as a Mentor in the Microfiber Innovation Challenge during a peer-mentorship stage of the competition. Over the course of two months in 2021, Magesh provided highly relevant strategic insights and foresight to one of the semi-finalist teams in the competition.

Sincerely,
