Greetings All !!!!

Excitement is in the air, as we prepare for our September 25th (11 AM to 6 PM) Model T picnic. In this newsletter will be the address and things to do, plus reminders. Thanks in advance to all the volunteers that will make this happen. I appreciate all who are helping me coordinate that have done this before. We have out of town Model T Club members coming in for the picnic, so be sure to come on out to meet them and meet others especially face group members, please come out and visit. Let's make a memory. Everyone is invited, a special invitation goes out to all our model A club friends. Since the weather is cooling I am working on a YouTube short video for a basic safety inspection of all Model T's. Stay tuned for that. With that said, looking forward to touring in the fall. I have just received email confirmation for the Cadence Car Show, October 10th. Hope to see you there! Hope to see you at a meeting or breakfast before the picnic!

T's Shop Talk

Remember everything you do affects Eternity.

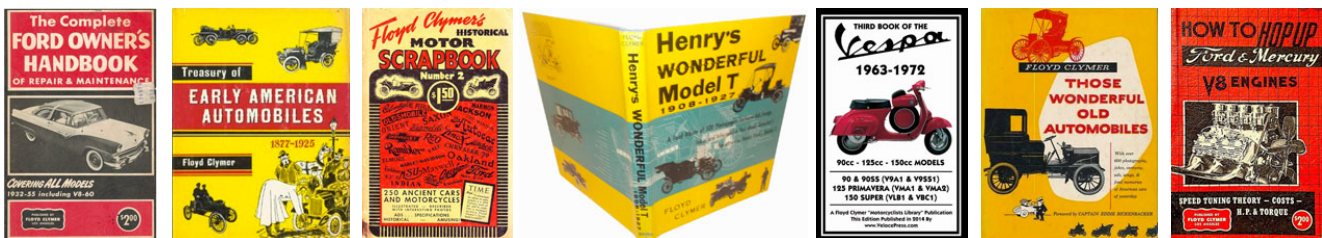

Safe travels,
President Tom

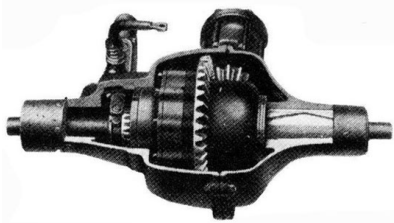

Floyd Clymer (1895 – 1970) If you look Floyd Clymer up in the history books you will find that he was an accomplished motorcycle racer. He was a pioneer in motorcycle racing in the 1910's through the 1920's. He held the Pikes Peak Hill Climbing Championship as well as others. Clymer had a vast knowledge of automobiles and motorcycles. He published the then popular "Clymer Repair Manuals." He went on to publish "The Yearbook Series of The Indianapolis 500" and a series of British car and motorcycle "Road Test" magazines. If you look him up on Amazon, you will see that he has written or published dozens of motorcycle and automotive history books, pictures books and repair manuals. He was always involved in motorcycles and owned one of the first Harley Davidson and Excelsior dealerships in the 1920's. In The 1960's he even became the owner of the Indian Motorcycle Company.

What does that have to do with the SNMTC? What he did for us was that he wrote three very important automotive history books. "Treasury of Early American Automobiles," "Those Wonderful Old Automobiles" and "Henry's Wonderful Model T" were written in the 1950's. These books have been a major resource for the "T Driver" newsletter.

Now here's the kicker. Clymer was a natural born salesman. In 1906 he was a dealer for REO, Maxwell and Cadillac. There was already a Ford dealership in his town so in 1908, with the introduction of the Model T, he had to add the E-M-F Model 30 and the Flanders Model 20 to stay in competition. Soon he had to give in and offer his services as salesman to the local Ford Dealer. Did you do the math? He was eleven years old when he started his first car dealership. He soon became more interested in motorcycles than cars, not just riding motorcycles, but professional racing and of course this led to him starting his own motorcycle dealership at 15 years of age.

The Ruckstell Axle was one of the few Ford factory approved accessories for the Model T. Without a doubt it is one of the most useful accessories for a Model T Ford allowing for a lower, more powerful gear ratio. Glover Edwin Ruckstell earned his reputation as an engineer in auto racing during his teens. During his military stay he helped develop the Liberty L12 aircraft engine. After World War I he made his fortune selling the "Ruckstell Axle" for the Model T.

In the 1930's he was awarded a Commercial Pilot's license. Early on he recognized the potential of tourist aviation and acquired Grand Canyon Air Lines. The airlines took Las Vegas visitors on sightseeing flights over the Hoover Dam and the Grand Canyon in a Ford Tri-Motor.

Today, you will find an exhibit about Ruckstell and Grand Canyon Air Lines in the lobby of the North Las Vegas airport. One Saturday after breakfast stop downstairs and check it out.

Participants in the Iron Mountain Halloween Parade should meet at the Sago's at 9:00 am for coffee and donuts and bathroom before making the final trek up to staging area at The Shadow Ridge High School (two miles). Final decorations to your car can be applied at the staging area where we will also receive our candy.

The parade is scheduled to begin at noon.

The parade begins and ends at Shadow Ridge High School.
