Zephyrhills evens its record at 3-3 with third straight win to revive playoff hopes

By STEVE LEE

Despite a 30-point halftime lead another blow-out win for Zephyrhills was not in the cards. Nonetheless, last Friday night's 44-22 win over Sunlake, which came up short in a valiant comeback bid, lifted the host Bulldogs to a 3-3 record. Even more important, it revived their playoff hopes.

"It's good but it's not, because that was a tale of two halves," said Zephyrhills coach Nick Carroll, a former Sunlake assistant who was not too thrilled that his team was outscored 15-7 in the second half. "Hats off to Sunlake. They played a heckuva second half. I knew that it was going to be a battle."

The Bulldogs, whose run of five straight playoff appearances seemed to be in jeopardy after a disappointing 0-3 start, have won three games in a row. They are 2-0 in Class 5A, District 11 with a game this Friday at district foe Anclote.

"I think they're starting to believe in our system," Carroll said of his players. "We're making more plays on the offensive side of the ball. We're causing turnovers and we're scoring on special teams and defense."

Zephyrhills built a 37-7 halftime lead and it seemed to be just a matter of time before a running clock would speed up a second straight blowout win. The Bulldogs were coming off a lopsided 62-0 shutout of district rival Tarpon Springs.

The Seahawks started off the third quarter with two straight touchdowns and a two-point conversion to pull within 37-22. But an unsuccessful fourth-down play gave Zephyrhills the football at Sunlake's 24-yard line and the home team put the game away on Zyre Roundtree's 2-yard scoring run to account for the final margin.

Zephyrhills got 205 passing yards with two touchdowns from quarterback T.J. Jackson, a lefthanded sophomore and first-year starter who played on the junior varsity team last season.

Tre Gallimore had both of those touchdown catches, one for 20 yards and another that went for 72 on a slant-in. Gallimore added a 65-yard punt return for a touchdown.

"I just try to bring energy," said Gallimore, a junior whose three touchdowns were two shy of the five he scored last year in a junior varsity game.

Aside from Gallimore, four other receivers

Season finale between longtime rivals gives Pasco a junior varsity win while Stewart takes the varsity games

By STEVE LEE

Pasco and Stewart opened the 2019 middle school volleyball season in Zephyrhills last month. On Tuesday night in Dade City, the longtime rivals closed out the regular season.

Coaches, players and fans on both sides could take some satisfaction with the results of this year's final games. Pasco swept the junior varsity games 2-0 while visiting Stewart made it a 2-0 sweep at the varsity level.

Earlier in the season I was the other way around with the Stewart JV and Pasco varsity winning. Those contests, however, were treated as preseason exhibitions and did not count in the standings.

Afterward, both coaches spoke of the intense, yet friendly rivalry between the schools in neighboring cities.

"We like playing against them," said Pasco coach Lisa Herndon, who also is that school's athletic director. "(The Stewart JV team) didn't play as good against us this time and we played better. We were getting our serves in and we were defending well."

Added Stewart coach Deb Stacy, that school's former athletic director, "We played flat. We made some early mistakes and never really recovered from that."

Stacy was a bit more upbeat following her team's win over Pasco in the varsity matchup.

Mud Endeavor's Castle Canyon attracts athletes

From elite athletes to weekend warriors, there's something for everyone at Mud Endeavor events

By ANDY WARRENER
Sports Reporter

Saturday's Mud Endeavor event at Castle Canyon in Brooksville brought runners from all walks together to take on what is very likely the most hilly course in the region, maybe the state.

"The hills here are very challenging," Vivien Bazalais of Palmetto said.

The venue is an abandoned lime rock mine built in 1925 by the Camp Concrete Rock Company. The "Castle" namesake comes from the remnants of a hard rock processing plant, which used a conveyor belt to transport rock into the original wooden structure. The interior of the structure was reinforced with poured concrete and that structure remains today and has the look of a shell of a castle.

Much of the topography of the area is somewhat due to the dynamics of the area but also it is due to the quarries dug there by the mining company and long since overgrown with grass and other foliage, making for steep grades and sheer drops in elevation. Piles of raw lime rock dot the landscape, adding to the venues unique flavor.

The starting lists were packed with runners ready to take on the course and the event attracted athletes from Perry to Palmetto. It was the perfect venue for 1st Sergeant Kenneth Rosier and volunteer Army Instructor Tyizanna Floyd to bring their cadets from Perry High School to train for the JROTC Raider Challenge.

"This is kind of a test run for our kids to try out for our Raiders team," Rosier said. "They do a lot of training in preparation, running, push ups - before the season starts."

The 14 students helped out on the obstacles alongside the Zephyrhills JROTC cadets, who are a mainstay of Mud Endeavor events. Both groups run the course in the final heat.

"This is going to help us figure out what kind of team we're going to have this year," Rosier said.

The course also helped Vivien Bazalais complete her rehabilitation from an illness that sidelined her for the last three years. She managed to train for a couple months to try and re-gain the form she had prior to the setback and found the obstacles easier than the endurance aspect of the race. Her family, Claude - husband and children Vanessa, Jazlyn and Xavier were on hand to support and even take on the

"It's a team-building exercise for the company," Denise Madsen said. "It encourages family participation as well. Mud Endeavor is a family-owned and operated business."

In the 9 a.m. competitive wave, elite runner Stephen Wilk made it back-to-back Mud Endeavor victories after winning the Mud Endeavor X event, also in Brooksville. Wilk's new family was on hand to witness his uncontested win. Coming in second was another familiar face on the circuit, Bill Seaton and in third was a Mud Endeavor regular but surging way up to the front, Justin Murray. Murray operates an immensely popular OCR/road race calendar-type website called Mud Run Guide. Murray is a ubiquitous presence on the course with a go-pro and still camera but on Saturday, a new training regimen had him in the top tier.

"I've been training with Runfluent Tampa doing intervals," Murray said. "I also recently ran in a North American championship race in Vermont with big mountains. Those really helped me for this run today."

Up next in the Mud Endeavor series is the Dec. 7 Muddy Santa Run, also in Brooksville.

course with her. Vivien actually met Claude at a road race in Palmetto three years ago.

"When you compete in high school, later in life, that kind of goes away," Vivien Bazelaïs said. "I'm one that still needs that in their life and these events are an outlet for that."

The Steel Toe 2019 group brought many to their first obstacle course race. The group, consisting of Tampa International Airport employees. Original members Taja Robinson and Angel Chaparro ran their first OCR in 2017 at Castle Canyon. The duo had run other OCR and 5Ks under a different team name but they managed to drag four more co-workers out to Saturday's event.

The team of the Woodruff Mudslingers out of Bradenton represented Woodruff & Sons Construction. For some of the team members, it was their first OCR but others had competed in Mud Endeavor's Little Manatee River Run and had at least one catch. That group included Marc Dortch, Jaxson Rivera, Clayton Corneillius and Roundtree.

"We don't target one guy," Carroll said. "Wherever the (defensive) holes are we're going to take what they give us."

On Sunlake's second possession of the third quarter, quarterback Kevin Spillane evaded the pass rush and scrambled to his left, finding Maguire Neal on a crossing route for a 62-yard touchdown pass. Anderson scored earlier on a 74-yards kickoff return.

Sunlake mounted its longest drive of the game in the fourth quarter, marching 66 yards downfield on 16 plays and converting two fourth downs along the way.

Spillane, who finished with 107 passing yards and two interceptions to go along with his touchdown, hooked up with tight end David Meyer for a 30-yard sideline pass on that drive capped off by Zach Spicer's 8-yard run and subsequent two-point conversion run.

Spicer ran for a game-high 135 yards, topping 88 rushing yards by Zephyrhills' Zyre Roundtree, who also had two scoring runs.

The Bulldogs also got a 42-yard interception return for a touchdown from Jaylin Thomas.

Thomas, however, was not the only defender who helped keep the Seahawks at bay. Galimore added an interception, inside linebacker Brian Ashmore had three sacks and Neal was in on a pair of sacks. Also adding a sack each were Chris Weeks, Jarrin Galyan and Roundtree.

Roundtree's sack, which stopped Sunlake on a fourth-down play, led to a 24-yard field goal by Rivera as time expired in the first half.

"It's nice to come out even," she said. "Each one of us got a match against each other."

The action opened with the JV matchup and Pasco won 25-14, 25-21. The Pirates took an early lead, 6-1 on five service points by Alyssa Moreno. Stewart never got closer than that.

In the second game, the teams each had their share of runs to make it much closer than the first one. Stewart took a 6-5 lead before Pasco went on a 4-1 run for a 9-7 lead. A strong save by Stewart's Ryleigh Hoover knotted the score at 9.

Once again, however, the Pirates went ahead on the strong serving of Moreno, who sparked a 6-0 stretch for a 15-9 Pasco lead. Stewart pulled within three points at 17-14 but never got closer than that. Destiny Lewis had an ace for Stewart down the stretch, but it was not enough to keep Pasco from winning both games and making way for the varsity teams.

Pasco's Cat Durden opened the first varsity game with an ace, but Stewart rallied behind Elysiana's three points that included an ace for a 4-1 lead. Timneta Clemons and Laila Woolfolk kept the Pirates at bay with solid efforts from the service line and eventually the Bulldogs took a commanding 21-13 lead that they would not relinquish.

"Stay with it girls, stay with it," Stacy encouraged her players as the Pirates narrowed the gap and trailed by just two points at 21-19.

Woolfolk then finished off the win for Stewart with three successful serves for a 25-19 victory.

The second and final game was not quite as close with the Bulldogs cruising to a 25-16 win. After a tie at 1, the Pirates never tied or led again.

Two aces among Woolfolk's four points helped the Bulldogs go ahead by an 8-2 margin early on. Despite a nice kill by Pasco's Merri Stott that pulled the home team within 9-6 that was not enough to prevent the Bulldogs from maintaining their solid advantage.

Leads of 16-10 and 17-12 were just too much for the Pirates to overcome, although Durden added another impressive ace for the home team. Not surprisingly, Woolfolk finished it off with three consecutive service points.

While many of the JV players will get another crack at one another at the middle school level next season, the next time some of the varsity players meet on the volleyball court will be next fall as high school players for Pasco and Zephyrhills, respectively.

The rosters of both teams were as follows:

Stewart varsity — Monserrat Pulido, Hannah Helms, Shawntae Johnson, Gwendolyn Pender, Kimberly Surita, Harmoine Scribner, Elysiana Lee, Timneta Clemons, Isabella Rivera, Laila Woolfolk, Lariah Graham and Coryn Graham.

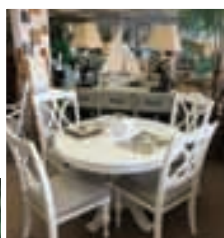

Pasco varsity — Samantha Williams, Madison Petty, Riley Vashon, Marri Stott, Cat Durden, Mackenzie Robbins, Catie Donovan, Maggie Groomes, Amory Gregory, Mackenzie Hughes, Skye Gagne, Faith Kiuber and Shelby Gibbs.

Stewart JV — Lily Howard, DeMari McCray, Ryleigh Hoover, Jymee Johnelle Potwin, Destiny Lewis, Jayla Robles, Hannah Wadyka, Maelyn Argerenon, Allison McCullough, Kyra Giles, Alana Standifer and Allaeona Searight.

Pasco JV — Sophia Formby, Halle White, Paisley Murphy, Katelyn O'Neil, Quincy Newton, Madilynn Hughes, Shalyn Carter, Tousey Green, Harlin Roenicke, Alyssa Moreno, Kaitlin Kennedy, Abi Grubbs and Morgan Spooner.
