Walk Through Bethlehem revived

Family of God Baptist Church in Dade City hosts traditional reenactment with three other churches assisting in the joint effort

By STEVE LEE
News Reporter

Following a two-year hiatus, a local Walk Through Bethlehem that dates back to 1996 was revived. Formerly held at the Richland Baptist Church, where the reenactment originated, this year's three-night event took place at the newly opened Family of God Baptist Church in Dade City.

It marked a combined effort featuring reenactors and volunteers from four churches — the two already mentioned, along with Pasadena Baptist Church and Faith Fellowship in Jesus Christ Church in Trilby. The latter church is associated with Family of God Baptist, located at 102331 Old Lakeland Hwy.

"We're doing a joint effort," said Martha Guynn, wife of Family of God Baptist's pastor Russell Guynn. "They weren't going to do it, so Russell talked to them and asked if we could do it this year."

No problem since the message simply was to revive the walk, which is a mock village of that city south of Jerusalem in Israel. Renowned as the birthplace of Jesus Christ, the village depicts life there centuries ago and includes a marketplace, live animals, Roman soldiers and the three wise men. There also is a manger with Baby Jesus, Joseph and Mary.

"We're all friends," Guynn said. "We all know each

IPAC at Pasco Hernando State College ready to open doors this spring

The massive performing arts center in Wesley Chapel has reached substantial completion status

By ANDY WARRENER
News Reporter

It's impossible to miss the chic new construction while travelling on Old Pasco Road near Cypress Creek High and Middle schools. Only recently did the chain link construction fences come down. The facility is looking toward "final completion" status in January and has aims at some manifestation of a grand opening toward the end of February. The details of the opening will have to be weighed against the current state of the COVID-19 pandemic.

"The construction should be complete by then (February), it's just details like doors and light switches and minor thing like that left," Provost of the PHSC Porter Campus Kevin O'Farrell said. "We hope to do some kind of celebration at the end of February, an open house type of feel."

O'Farrell oversees both the PHSC campus on Mansfield Boulevard, near Wiregrass Ranch High School and the IPAC facility adjacent to Cypress Creek. The facility will be a boon for performing arts in the area but it will specifically benefit high school students with aims at degrees in performing or digital arts.

PHSC's Instructional Performing Arts Center (IPAC), located in Wesley Chapel, will provide students state-of-the art learning in the performing arts beginning 2021. The IPAC will offer four Associate of Arts (AA) performing arts curriculum pathways for students who plan to transfer to a Florida public university to complete a Bachelor's degree in dance, theatre or music. The curriculum will include dance, theatre, voice chorus and instrumental pathways.

The IPAC will also offer an Associate in Science (AS) degree in Digital Media and Multimedia Technology with six College Credit Certificates. This high-demand STEM program will prepare students for initial employment in several digital media and multimedia technology professions such as digital media/multimedia programmer, digital media/

Moore family gets helping hand in adoption process

The Scharbers, who run a law group in Dade City and adopted a daughter, organize fundraisers to assist a Land O' Lakes family

By STEVE LEE
News Reporter

Considering fertility, financial and other issues, adoption can be daunting and overwhelming for some couples who occasionally change their minds. Going through the rigorous process for the Moore family of Land O' Lakes, however, was made somewhat easier thanks to the Scharbers of Dade City.

Melissa Scharber, wife of local attorney Jarrod Scharber, relied on her own case of adopting a daughter to assist Robert and Angela Moore. That couple awaits a little boy or girl, or perhaps more than one of each if twins are involved.

Before Christmas, the Scharbers presented the Moores with an oversized check for $6,800 toward their adoption effort. Also on hand were several staff members of the law firm as well as Lifetime Adoption employees Robyn Moore and Linda Rotz.

Naturally, there were delays incurred in dealing with the current pandemic. The IPAC still needs to make a few hires before the staff is in place. The positions are already posted on the college's website.

"We hope to have it all in place by the first quarter of 2021," O'Farrell said. "Then we will start scaling up the services."

PHSC and the IPAC plan to start offering courses as early as summer of 2021 with the goal of entering into full-force curriculum by the Fall. The courses over the summer are offered to accepted students of PHSC and are within the pathways to both the AA and AS degrees.

seat auditorium, computer lab and production suite, among other amenities, will lock in prospective students.

"When a student has the opportunity to look at the space, see the educational opportunities and how stunning they are - we think it will make them want to stay," O'Farrell said.

The IPAC won't just help local and regional students. It plans to network with local theatre and performance groups, as well.

"We anticipate great collaboration with the local schools and arts communities in central and east Pasco County," O'Farrell said.

O'Farrell anticipates even more collaboration but also accessibility as plans for an I-75 exit on Overpass Road are in the works. It could be two full years before that project is online but it will set a decent runway for IPAC to start developing the connections. Staff is currently working on a virtual tour, they hope to be able to offer ahead of the anticipated grand opening.

"These associates degrees will be transferable for students wanting to pursue bachelors degrees at universities," O'Farrell said.

O'Farrell and PHSC are confident the nearly 36,000-square-foot facility, complete with a 444-other. We just go to a different church. The more the better."

It is unclear where the Walk Through Bethlehem will take place next December with the Richland Baptist congregation expected to make a decision on the matter by next summer. If that church declines to host it, however, Guynn said that Family of God Baptists would gladly step in again.

As for this year, more than 800 visitors came through the mock village during three nights, Dec. 11-13. "That was a good turnout for the first time of us having it," Guynn said.

While many of the nearly 100 volunteers have attended one or more of the aforementioned churches, plenty of people keep returning as costumed characters. Count the White family among them.

Rachel and her father Lamar were tour guides this year while her brother Sam played Jesus after He was crucified and resurrected from the tomb. The Whites have played numerous characters throughout the years including Sam as the baby Jesus one year.

"It's a really good experience and I just love spreading the gospel to everyone," said Rachel White, who said her family has been involved with the Walk Through Bethlehem since its inception in 1996 at Richland Baptist. "I like walking through (the village)."

Other tour guides were pastor Guynn, April Jordan, Cindy Wilt, Alicia VanDassen and Pat Nesbit. Just beyond the main entrance to the village and past the Roman soldiers who served as guards and were equipped with spears, Guynn's brother Rex played the role of the census taker while David Moyer was the tax collector nearby.

Below: Two volunteers are shown with their wares at the brass and metal shop.

"Nobody likes me," said Moyer, shaking his head from side to side while staying in character.

Basket makers, fruit and vegetable peddlers, a wine maker, fish merchant, bread maker, cloth weaver — all of those characters lent a bit of authenticity to the mock village.

Further into the walls of Bethlehem were shepherds with live sheep, goats and donkeys. While there were plenty of elderly folks playing various roles, some of the characters depicted were high school students from Pasco and Zephyrhills. Like Vicky Brandel and Jack Holloway, who watched over the animals in a wooden pen.

At the end of the village, visitors were greeted by pastors from the four churches. Aside from Guynn that group included Claude English, Mike Thacker and Robert Perkins.

"We're not in it to be recognized," English said. "It's about doing something for the Lord and to get the gospel out. Right now, we need that more than ever."

OBITUARIES

Steven Andrew Brown

BROWN, Steven Andrew, 52, of Dade City passed away Dec. 10, 2020, of Covid-19 and pneumonia. He was the youngest child of the late Lee and Jeanette Brown, and spent most of his life in Dade City. Steven was a proud graduate of the University of Florida, president of Phi Kappa Tau fraternity at UF; a member of Florida Blue Key, and a loyal Gator fan. He was gifted with a dry wit and loved making those around him laugh. Steven loved to travel and was a friend to all. Like his father, Steven was a dedicated Rotarian and counted many devoted friends at the Dade City Rotary Club. Like both of his parents, Steven was honored as a Paul Harris Fellow and was deeply committed to Rotary's ideal of 'Service above Self'. Lee, Jeanette and Steven all gave generously of their time and resources throughout their lives. From a young age Steven showed an affinity for working with his hands, one that led naturally to an interest in carpentry and to a first career in the construction industry. After embracing a second career as a long-distance trucker, he continued to work diligently on the family property, often referred to as 'the Brown compound'. He always felt a particular attachment to Dade City and to the beauty of rural Florida. Steven was preceded in death by his beloved parents Lee Gilbert and Jeanette Marvin Brown, who died in 2008 and 2019, respectively. He is survived by his brother, Mark and his wife, Margaret (Meg) of Lisbon, Portugal; by brother, Paul and his wife, Diane of Denver, Co.; by sister, Gail Brown Slane and her husband, Harold and niece, Sara Slane, all of Belleville, Ill.; by nephew, Lt. Calin Slane of San Antonio, Texas; and by niece, Lindsay Brown of Jacksonville. Steven's last days of illness were quite difficult, but he was comforted by the sensitive and highly-professional care he received at AdventHealth Zephyrhills. In these difficult moments Steven's family would like to express their deep gratitude to these health professionals and caregivers, and to the many thousands like them around the country who are working with such courage and dedication against the scourge of Covid-19. Thank you. A Celebration of Life will be held at a date to be determined. Donations in Steven's memory can be made to the Rotary Foundation.

Barry Lynch

LYNCH, Barry, 89, of Ridge Manor passed away Dec. 9, 2020. He was born June 14, 1931, in Boston to Joseph and Claire Doby Lynch. While serving in the U.S. Navy, he met the love of his life, Helen, to whom he was married for 62 years. Barry was a longtime partner in a local CPA firm, where he served with honesty and integrity as a trusted advisor to many local businesses and families. He was predeceased by his loving wife, Helen; his parents; and his brother, Arthur. He is survived by his five children, Cheryl (Fred) Brannen, Mark Lynch, Christy (Harry) Tomlinson, Scott (Kelly) Lynch and Gregg (Robin) Lynch; 10 grandchildren; and 12 great-grandchildren. Barry was an avid golfer and fly-fisherman, as well as a fan of youth sports and performing arts. He and Helen attended countless games, shows, and performances in the Dade City area, cheering on several generations of many area families. Barry served as the treasurer for the local Little League for 43 years. Due to concerns with COVID, the family has chosen to not have a public memorial service at this time; there will be a family ceremony at the Florida National Cemetery, where his remains will be interred with Helen's. In lieu of flowers, the family suggests donations to Dade City Little League, Gulfside Hospice, or a charity of your choosing.

That our Lord was crucified.

He came unto his own, and his own received him not,
Even while suffering in anguish, upon that cruel cross,
The soldiers laughed and jeered him,
For his robe they cast their lots.

As believers we think of our blessed Saviour,
Upon that cruel cross,
To those who chose not to believe,
One can only imagine how great will be their loss.

From the manger to the cross,
To that tomb so bleak and so cold,
He has risen and lives for us,
THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD. AMEN!

Remember, God loves You, Christ died for You, was buried for You, and He arose from the dead for You (1 Corinthians 15:1-4)!

WHY NOT BELIEVE GOD'S WORD in the BIBLE,
And then, You will pass from death unto life!

(Eternal Life in Heaven)

"THE GREATEST STORY EVER TOLD?"

Staff and management from the Pasco County Tax Collector's Office present a check to Cathy Cruz of the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation.

Tax collector Mike Fasano and staff raise over $9,000 for Florida Breast Cancer Foundation

During the month of October Pasco County Tax Collector Mike Fasano's five offices partnered with the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation to help raise funds and awareness of breast cancer, its symptoms and treatments. October, which was national Breast Cancer Awareness Month, was the perfect time to feature the sale of the foundation's "End Breast Cancer" specialty tag. Breast cancer is the most commonly diagnosed cancer among women in Florida (excluding skin cancer). It is estimated that about 12,000 new cases are diagnosed each year.

The five branches of the Pasco County Tax Collectors Office promoted the sale of the "End Breast Cancer" specialty license plates as well as the voluntary check-off donations on automobile registrations. Twenty three plates were sold in October. Combined with cash donations, a total of $9,018.97 was raised to help "End the Suffering Caused by Breast Cancer."

"The relationship we have with the Pasco County Tax Collector's Office is one that the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation values more and more with every passing year," said Tracy Jacin, president and CEO of the Florida Breast Cancer Foundation. "The support they give us allows us to further our mission to end the suffering caused by breast cancer by funding research that will change the breast cancer landscape and education that will save lives. Our deepest appreciation to Mr. Mike Fasano and his passionate staff for their continued support over the years and dedication to making their efforts a great success."

"It is a great honor to work with The Florida Breast Cancer Foundation each year to assist in raising awareness of the needs of breast cancer patients, educate the public on the importance of early detection and to help fund organizations that are working to find better treatments and ultimately a cure," said Fasano. "The foundation encourages regular screenings to detect breast cancer in its earliest stages, for both women and men. Thank you to a very generous community that once again supported our efforts to help find a way to end a disease that afflicts so many."

Pasco County community clean-up events make a difference

Proactive efforts remove nearly 167 tons of trash from four west Pasco communities

In an effort to combat blight and beautify our neighborhoods, Pasco County's Code Enforcement PACE (Proactive Code Enforcement) team and Solid Waste Department joined forces to host four community clean-up events in west Pasco this fall. The collaborative efforts produced big results with nearly 167 tons of trash and debris removed from Tahitian Gardens, Country Club Estates, Moon Lake Estates and Holiday Lake Estates.

Community clean-up trash/debris collection breakdown: Tahitian Gardens: 46.19 tons, Oct. 11; Country Club Estates: 23.88 tons, Oct. 25; Moon Lake Estates: 64 tons, Nov. 8; and Holiday Lake Estates: 32.92 tons, Nov. 22.

The goal of community clean-up events is to provide residents a convenient opportunity to rid themselves of items and debris that could cause potential code violations. Providing free, accessible drop off locations increases participation and reduces illegal dumping activity in Pasco County.

Remember, you can always report code violations and illegal dumping anonymously via the MyPasco App, or by contacting RIDPasco@mypasco.net or customer service at (727) 847-2411.

County codes are a critical tool in keeping the communities safe and resilient, and we appreciate your cooperation. Learn more about Pasco County's Code Enforcement Department, including frequently asked questions, codes and ordinances, by visiting online at MyPasco.net.

The money came from community donations and various fundraisers, including t-shirts emblazoned with the following words: FOSTER & ADOPT & SUPPORT & ADVOCATE & MENTOR & PRAY. Because every child deserves a home.

"This makes a difference. It's huge," Angela said. "We've been waiting for a match for a year."

"It's just something that's been heavy on our hearts for quite some time. We wanted to add to the family," Robert added. "The assistance and help and outreach have been huge."

"There are a lot of families who want to adopt, but they can't afford it," Melissa noted.

Both families came together after Scharber noticed the Moores' plight by watching a video presentation.

"I just fell in love with them," she said. "It was an instant connection. I felt like it was just right."

The Scharbers, who adopted Bryn as a newborn three years ago and have a 7-year-old son named Brett, are intent on seeing children with families in homes rather than bouncing around in foster care.

The law firm has handled adoptions for some clients and Melissa noted that it's her favorite type of file to work with.

Melissa gave something for the Moore family to look forward to by recalling her own experience.

"We saved a life and she saved us," Scharber said. "An adoption can be impactful on both sides."

Melissa said meeting her adopted daughter left a life-

lasting impression. "It was overwhelming, but I remember the moment I fell in love with her. It's just an experience I can't describe."

The Scharbers nicknamed their daughter "baby doll," which they said still sticks. Melissa added that Bryn "looks like my son. She fit into our family perfectly. It was a blessing."

Part of the reason the Moores are looking forward so much for their blessing is that Angela lost a child. The Moores had Alayna for 20 weeks before she passed away.

For Robert, a physical therapist, the uncertainty of when the right child will be available at the right time is something the family simply must deal with for now.

"Our faith plays a huge role in this," he said, as he and his wife looked longingly at one another. "While we feel impatient, God's time is everything."

The couple's two daughters — Adalyn, who is 10, and 5-year-old Aubrielle — are just as eager for another young family member.

"Knowing that I might get another sibling makes me excited and I cry sometimes," Adalyn said.

"I need to play games, hug her and be nice to her," Aubrielle added.
