Defense propels Bulldogs to spring football win

The Zephyrhills defensive line digs in as the Mitchell offense gets set to run a play.

Zephyrhills defeats host Mitchell 26-19 on the strength of three defensive touchdowns

BY STEVE LEE
Sports Reporter

Much like baseball pitchers dominating hitters at the beginning of a season, defenses often perform better than a team's offense at the start of a football season. That was the case in Zephyrhills' spring football game last Thursday night against Mitchell in Trinity.

The Bulldogs got three defensive touchdowns in a 26-19 win over the Mustangs. It might have been four scores on defense if not for a fumble return to the end zone being nullified by a penalty. While the Zephyrhills offense struggled against the Mitchell defense as well, the mistakes were nowhere near as costly.

"We won but offensively it's not where we want to be," said coach Nick Carroll, a former standout defensive back for the Bulldogs. "The defense is always ahead of the offense. Defensively, they did a great job."

Zephyrhills, which has made the playoffs in seven of the past eight seasons, fared well against Mitchell, another perennial playoff contender on the west side of the county. Although the teams play in different districts, which means they will not meet in the playoffs, last week's spring football game proved to be a good measuring stick.

Saint Leo University celebrates more than 1,200 grads at In-Person Commencement Ceremonies

They waited for this moment for years. Saturday, May 14, more than 1,200 students earned their degrees from Saint Leo University. They proudly walked across the stage at the Florida State Fairgrounds in Tampa during two commencement ceremonies in which doctoral, master's, bachelor's, and associate degrees were awarded.

The ceremonies celebrated students who studied at the main campus north of Tampa in St. Leo; at its Florida education centers in Tampa, Ocala, Lake City, Jacksonville, Key West, and at the East Pasco Education Center locations in Pasco and Hernando counties; at MacDill Air Force Base (Tampa); at Naval Station Mayport (Jacksonville); and online throughout the world.

These graduates not only successfully completed their degree programs, but they also did so through a global health crisis, as was noted by the Class of 2022 Valedictorian, Kylie Culver.

"The Class of 2022 has been through a lot," said Culver, of Tampa. "Not only did we have the regular challenges that comes with being college students—making sure we got good grades, making friends, managing our time, and social lives, but we also have the additional challenge of living through a pandemic."

The valedictorian said a big reason she chose to attend Saint Leo was the community. "Our connection to our classmates, professors, and the staff at Saint Leo is something that we will have and cherish for the rest of our lives,"

Ramblewood Village residents enjoy breakfast at Brunchery

At the suggestion of one of the residents, breakfast was at the Brunchery in Wesley Chapel. The restaurant was easy to find. The staff was cheerful and accommodating. Each guest was served a glass of ice water along with the beverage of choice. The food was served timely and cheerfully. The breakfast was hot and delicious. They offer a wide variety of pancakes and waffle.

Culver said. She said she was worried when she first started her college careers. "The first professors I met at Saint Leo immediately assuaged my fears, and I soon found that Saint Leo was warm, friendly, and like another home."

Culver was selected as valedictorian as the top academic performed at the university. A history major with two minors in Spanish and world politics, she will continue her studies in the University of South Florida's Florida Studies Program, in which she is a finalist for a fellowship that would include a large stipend, tuition remission, and paid study-abroad opportunities for two summers in a number of different countries. "History can be helpful, freeing, and enlightening as long as we aren't afraid to accept the facts, but instead, use its lessons to create a better world today."

of 2022 was David Pacheco of Brentwood, N.Y., who graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in computer science. He was the recipient of the Clara McDonald Olson Scholastic Excellence Award and the prestigious EMACS S-STEM scholarship awarded by the National Science Foundation.

During the morning ceremony, more than 600 graduates received their degrees, including undergraduate students from University Campus, Doctor of Business Administration students, students in the Master of Business Administration and Master of Accounting programs, and students in the master's in creative writing, psychology, theology, computer science, and cybersecurity degree programs.

Time for reflection

"Today, I am going to ask you to think," said Saint Leo University President Jeffrey D. Senese, addressing the graduates. "I know this is familiar ground as your faculty challenged you to think, and you are more than capable."

Senese told the graduates to "think big." "Think about the expanse of possibilities in front of you today," Senese said. "There is no limit ahead of you today, tomorrow, or the day after! You are a Saint Leo University graduate . . . you can do all you desire."

The new Saint Leo graduates also should "think differently," the university president said. "You have learned how to learn," Senese said. "You have been 'instructed.' You have paid attention. Now it is time to make your own decisions. Now it is time for you to lead your own professional path in life. Now is the time to keep listening and paying attention, and to use that to make a difference as you see fit."

And lastly, Senese told those assembled to think about others. "Think about what is possible and do it," he advised. "Think about the help you were provided and do the same. Think about paying it forward when you can."

What the future holds

Some of Saint Leo's bachelor's degree recipients already are joining businesses, organizations, and schools as employees, and in some cases, they found these positions through internships they completed while at Saint Leo. For many other students, the next step is pursuing graduate degrees, from law, to medicine, to theology, to business.

Some of the new graduates poised to make exciting career steps include:

Jacques Felix, who majored in sociology, will attend law school at Howard University.

Hailey Kerns, who majored in biology: biomedical sciences, was accepted into a microbiology and cell science doctoral program at the University of Florida.

Alissa Buckley, a double major in marketing and accounting and a student in the Honors Program, will begin working at Raymond James, a financial services firm, in its Saint Petersburg office as an associate, where she will pilot a new supervisor development program.

Karl Nyman, who majored in biology: biomedical sciences, was accepted to a cancer biology doctoral program at H. Lee Moffitt Cancer Center in Tampa.

Hannah Wiand, who majored in psychology: clinical counseling and religion, will pursue her master's in theology at Franciscan University in Stuebenville, Ohio.

Katelan Sherouse, who earned her bachelor's in accounting, completed an internship with CliftonLarsonAllen in Lakeland and accepted a full-time position there. She plans to pursue her CPA certification and a Master of Accounting degree.

Louise Henningson, who earned bachelor's degrees in economics and accounting, with a minor in international financial studies, will pursue a graduate degree at Boston University, where she will be enrolled in the Master of Science in Mathematical Finance & Financial Technology Program. During the summer, she will complete an internship with CliftonLarsonAllen in Tampa.

From around the state, country, and world

Saint Leo University's afternoon commencement exercises found more than 575 students receiving their degrees. Saint Leo WorldWide's online students and Florida education center students, along with graduate degree program students from the College of Education and Social Services, participated in the afternoon ceremony. The graduate students received doctoral degrees in criminal justice and education and master's degrees in education, emergency and disaster management, human services administration, instructional design, and social work.

At the beginning of the ceremony, Senese acknowledged those who traveled from throughout the state, country, and the world. In addition, he asked for applause for the military, veterans, and first-responder students who make up the graduating class as well as their guests.

"We also want you to know how proud we are of you," Senese said. "We know well what you have accomplished, what you contributed, and what you sacrificed. Warren Buffett once said 'Price is what you pay. Value is what you get.' You paid the price, and you earned a valuable degree."

For many adult learners, graduating from Saint Leo University, means achieving their goal of receiving a degree. Dwayne Brown said he started his college career in 1988, but didn't focus on his studies, and did not graduate. Now in 2022, the Army veteran earned his bachelor's degree in sociology. He started studying at a Saint Leo location in Atlanta, and then completed his degree online. As for what's next, Brown said, "I know it's cliché, but I want to make the world a better place. Big change can come from small actions."

Iskra Sbraccia, alumna, trustee of Saint Leo, and president of the Alumni Association Board of Directors, led the new graduates in the turning of the tassels on their mortarboards and welcomed them as alumni.

"As alumni of Saint Leo, we are the torchbearers of the institutional spirit," Sbraccia said. "We have grown in body, mind, and spirit and received many blessings from Saint Leo, so it is our responsibility to give back to the generations of students yet to come."

WITHOUT JESUS YOU WON'T MAKE HEAVEN

You may be a millionaire; deeds and titles you may claim; and everybody know your name; but without Jesus you won't make heaven. The name and words of this song are true because they are words according to Scripture.

There is no other name given under heaven for man to be saved. "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Acts 4:12).

At the name of Jesus every knee shall bow and confess that Jesus is Lord to the praise and glory of God. "Wherefore God also hath highly exalted him, and given him a name which is above every name: 10 That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things in earth, and things under the earth; 11 And that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the glory of God the Father" (Philippians 2:9-11).

The apostle Paul who was before an enemy of Christ, but now saved by God's grace, he passed by men in Athens giving their devotions and worship to their gods. They had altars to all their gods and even to the Unknown God. They did not want to leave any out. However, Paul said unto them: I perceive that in all things ye are too superstitious (or religious). The Unknown God, in whom ye ignorantly worship, Him, I now declare unto you (Acts 17:16-34).

These men were working their way to reach God. Man's salvation is not by any works of righteousness that he can do. All man's righteousness is as filthy rags before God. "For all have sinned and come short of the glory of God" (Romans 3:23). "For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord" (Romans 6:23).

By God's grace man can be redeemed by the blood of Christ's cross (2 Corinthians 5:14-21). Unto all and upon all who believe the gospel that Christ died on the cross to pay for their sins, he was buried, and he rose from the dead on the third day for their justification, God will now save them (1 Corinthians 15:1-4). He will seal them with his Holy Spirit of promise as the guarantee of their salvation (Ephesians 2:8-9; 1:13-14).

God did all the work necessary for our salvation. That's the love of God—that's the grace of God that he freely bestows upon all who choose to believe him. It is impossible for God to lie (Titus 1:2). Will you believe God?

SALOME'S STARS ★★★★★

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) A heads-up alert to all free-spirited Ewes and Rams: Be wary of a deal that could result in compromising your independence. Check every detail before making a commitment.
TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) New facts emerge that help put an irksome workplace situation in perspective. Meanwhile, pay more attention to a family member who needs your wisdom and strength.
GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) A slight setback in plans is nothing to worry about. Use this delay to deal with a number of matters you might have ignored for too long. Expect news from someone in your past.
CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You're entering a period of stability. Use it to straighten out any outstanding problems related to a very personal situation. Also, pay closer attention to financial matters.
LEO (July 23 to August 22) As much as you love being a social Lion, you might well benefit from staying out of the spotlight for a while. You need time to reflect on some upcoming decisions.
VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) A difficult family situation improves, thanks to your timely intervention. You can now start to focus more of your attention on preparing for a possible career change.
LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) An on-the-job change works to your benefit by offering new opportunities. It's up to you to check them out. Meanwhile, a stalled romantic situation starts up again.
SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) That flare-up of Scorpion temperament cools down, leaving you more receptive to suggestions about changes that might need to be made in your personal life.
SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) An unusual period of indecisiveness is a mite frustrating. But things soon clear up, allowing the sage Sagittarian to make those wise pronouncements again.
CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) You might feel that you know best, but it's not a good idea at this time to try to force your opinions on others. Best advice: Inspire change by example, not by intimidation.
AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Some setbacks could affect your plans to fortify your financial situation. But things start moving again by early next week. Meanwhile, enjoy your resurgent social life.
PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Show that often-hidden steely spine of yours as you once again stand up to an emotional bully. You've got the strength to do it, especially as friends rally to your side.
BORN THIS WEEK: Your ruling planet, Mercury, endows you with a gift for writing. Have you considered penning the world's greatest novel?

STRANGE BUT TRUE
 By Lucie Winborne

- Idaho is the only U.S. state to explicitly declare that cannibalism is illegal.
- In 2001, the FBI warned Russell Crowe that al-Qaeda were planning to kidnap him as part of a "cultural destabilization plot." For nearly two years, the agency guarded the actor in public, but refused to provide him with any details about the threat.
- In Germany, folks who urinate in the streets are called "wildpinklers," meaning "free pee-ers."
- Gorillas sing happy songs while they eat -- louder when enjoying a favorite food.
- Talk about election fraud! In 2013, police in the Maldives arrested a coconut for loitering near a polling station during the presidential election. The fruit's offense? Locals feared it might have been imbued with a magic spell to influence the election, as there was a Surah (chapter from the Quran) written on it. The coconut was released upon being found to be fake.
- In 2014, over 2.8 million American dogs were on an antidepressant drug similar to Prozac.
- Alarmed neighbors of a couple in Sydney, Australia, called the police after hearing a woman screaming, furniture crashing and a man shouting: "I'm going to kill you, you're dead! Die! Die!" When the law arrived on the scene they found, however, not a typical case of domestic violence, but a frenzied attempt to kill a spider.
- Now here's a good reason to call your plumber: A leaky faucet dripping once every second can waste up to 3,000 gallons of water in a year -- enough for 180 showers!
- The U.S. government gave Indiana University $1 million to study ... memes.

Even Exchange by Donna Pettman

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

DOTS LIFE! Yeah, it's only me again. Who'd you expect, Tyrannosaurus Rex? Draw dot to dot to complete the picture.

SAFE BET! Bet someone that he or she has a hole in a sock. You can't lose. Every sock has a hole in which to insert foot.

ROBIN 'HOOD! Four more five-letter words are needed to complement the word ROBIN in the diagram at right, and thereby form a word square — a cluster in which all words used read the same both across and down.

Definitions: 1. "On the eighteenth of —, in Seventy five..." 2. Pennsylvania railroad town. 3. Heralded first bird of spring (ROBIN, in place). 4. Trojan War epic by Homer. 5. Singer Ronstadt, for one.

Let's see how quickly you can fill in these words to complete the square.

Answers: 1. April. 2. Paoli. 3. Robin. 4. Iliad. 5. Linda.

UNDO-IT-YOURSELF TV CAPER

So your TV's down, repair shop's closed, and you're bent on fixing it yourself. Such a person is shown at left, and pictured with him are some trials and tribulations in the fix-it process.

Is our good friend successful, or is he a bust? To find out, start with panel 1, study clues, and see if you can rearrange panels 2, 3 and 4 in chronological order.

Time limit: 2 minutes.

Fix-it-time unfolds in this order: 1, 4, 2, 3.

LETTER GO! Insert a letter (the same letter) in the middle of each of these words to form another word: 1. ROOT. 2. TALE. 3. ALUM. 4. REEL. 5. COOL. What letter complies?

Letter B — 1. ROBOT. 2. TABLE. 3. ALBUM. 4. REEL. 5. COBOL (a computer language).

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

MOMENTS IN TIME

The History Channel

- On May 26, 1940, President Franklin Roosevelt makes a radio appeal for the support of the Red Cross. Belgian and French civilians were "running from their homes to escape bombs and shells and machine gunning, without shelter, and almost wholly without food," FDR told Americans.
- On May 27, 1894, Dashiell Hammett, author of "The Maltese Falcon," is born in Maryland. He worked as a Pinkerton detective for eight years and turned his experiences into fiction. The novel was filmed three times, the last in 1941, starring Humphrey Bogart.
- On May 28, 1902, Owen Wister's "The Virginian" is published. It was the first serious Western and one of the most influential in the genre. The book became a sensation and inspired four movies and a Broadway play.
- On May 29, 1932, the so-called Bonus Expeditionary Force, a group of 1,000 World War I veterans seeking cash payments for their veterans' bonus certificates, arrives in Washington, D.C. One month later, that number had swelled to nearly 20,000 strong.
- On May 30, 1593, playwright Christopher Marlowe, 29, is killed in a brawl. He was nearly denied his master's degree in 1587, until advisers to Queen Elizabeth intervened, referring to his services for the state. Historians later documented Marlowe's activities as a spy for the queen.
- On May 31, 1929, Ford Motor Company signs an agreement to produce cars in the Soviet Union. In return, the USSR agreed to buy 72,000 unassembled Ford cars and trucks and all spare parts required over the following nine years.
- On June 1, 1942, a Polish underground newspaper makes public the news of the gassing of tens of thousands of Jews at Chelmno, a Nazi-operated death camp, as told by a young Jew, Emanuel Ringelblum, who escaped after being forced to bury bodies at the camp.

HOLLYWOOD

by Tony Rizzo

Daniel Craig as 007

HOLLYWOOD -- Has James Bond bombed? When you've made five James Bond films (collectively grossing $3 billion), you must believe you can do anything. Daniel Craig, now 54, must have felt he needed to drastically change his career direction now that he's no longer 007. Why he chose Shakespeare's "Macbeth," post-Bond, must be because of director Sam Gold, who promised this Broadway production would be innovative and different. In view of Denzel Washington's Oscar nomination for HIS "Macbeth" film, it was a gutsy decision for Craig. However, critics were waiting with their little hatchets! One called the production "uninvolving, ponderous and a real blunderball." His leading lady, Ruth Negga as Lady Macbeth, came off much better, and critics proclaimed, "She stole the show with her mellifluous voice and the requisite intensity for the woman plotting to kill King Duncan!" Barbara Broccoli, Bond films producer, produced this show, but admits she's still searching for the next 007. Her short list has Tom Hardy, Henry Cavill, Idris Elba and "Euphoria" star Jacob Elordi, who's Australian, 6-foot-5 and just turning 25. He's no stranger to sequels; he starred in "The Kissing Booth 1, 2 and 3." Craig's not crying, however; he got a $100 million paycheck to reprise his role as Detective Benoit Blanc in a pair of "Knives Out" sequels.

Not on any Bond list is 38-year-old Chris Hemsworth, 6-foot-3 and built better than Craig. Hemsworth has completed two Netflix films, the sci-fi thriller "Spiderhead," with Miles Teller, and a sequel to the action thriller "Extraction." He's also prepping the $65 million "Furiosa," a "Mad Max" prequel, for a May 2024 release. But first we'll see "Thor: Love and Thunder," premiering July 8. I caught "The Batman" on HBO Max and was pleasantly surprised how perfectly suited Robert Pattinson is in the title role, and how entertaining and compelling the film is. We're looking forward to his next two "Batman" films!

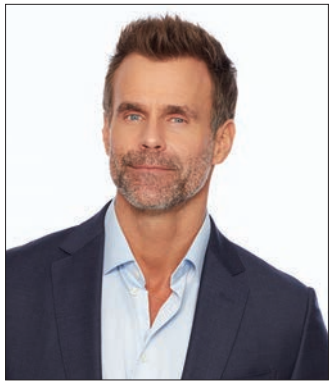

The music world is going out of its mind because of an upcoming auction of a 300-year-old Stradivarius violin reputed to have been used to create the Oscar-winning score of "The Wizard of Oz." The Rolls Royce of violins is expected to bring a winning bid of up to $20 million. The Stradivarius belonged to Odessa-born Toscha Seidel (1899-1962), considered one of the greatest violinists of the 20th century. Seidel used his violin to play on the scores of two other MGM films: "The Great Waltz" (1938), with Louise Rainer and Miliza Korjus, and "Intermezzo" (1939), with Ingrid Bergman and Leslie Howard. Though there are still about 600 Stradivarius violins worldwide, one sold in 2011 for $15.9 million. Seidel once gave violin instruction to Albert Einstein, who paid him with a sketch reportedly diagramming his theory of relativity. What the heck might that be worth?

Carroll noted that the game will give coaches a better idea of what to work on in the offseason, which begins next month when Zephyrhills continues a longstanding summer tradition of competing in the 7-on-7 league.

"We're trying to find a good rhythm and that will take time," he said. "We'll practice this summer and get it corrected."

Zephyrhills, which also got a game-winning interception return for a touchdown by linebacker L.J. Graham Jr. in the Orange-Black game at Bulldog Stadium, earlier this month, wasted little time in letting the Mustangs know they were in for a tough time. On just the third play of the game, Zephyrhills Blake Yearby sacked Mitchell quarterback Chris Ferrini.

After Mitchell got the first touchdown with Ferrini's quarterback sneak from a yard out capping an eight-play, 67-yard drive, the Zephyrhills defense took over. Newcomer Fred Adams, a transfer from Zephyrhills Christian Academy, returned an interception 71 yards for a touchdown and Christian Clemens kicked an extra point for a tie at 7.

Just two offensive plays by the Mustangs later and the Bulldogs had another score. They took a 14-7 lead when Fred Maixner scooped up a fumble by Ferrini and ran into the end zone from 19 yards out. Once again, Clemens added an extra point.

Mitchell fullback Jack Sutherlin then scored on a 10-yard run, but 40 missed the extra point kick to keep Zephyrhills in front at 14-13. Late in the second quarter, the Bulldogs got another touchdown on a turnover. D.J. Pickett, a transfer from Carrollwood Day School, picked off Ferrini and returned the football 52 yards into the end zone.

"The additions of D.J. and Fred are big," said Matt Jackson, Zephyrhills' defensive coordinator who formerly played for arch-rival Pasco.

With Zephyrhills leading 20-13 at halftime, the Sunshine Athletic Conference rivals traded touchdowns in the second half with both missing conversions to account for the final margin.

Zephyrhills running back Rodney Smith, who shared carries with Adams, scored late on a 10-yard run. That score was offset by a Joe Glennon's 20-yard scoring run for Mitchell. The Bulldogs almost had another score, but Samarian Black's 35-yard fumble recovery for an apparent score was called back on a penalty.

As for the Zephyrhills offense, Tristan Lennon started and played more than J.J. McGovern, who saw more playing time in the second half. Both struggled in the passing game.
