There are both morning and evening sessions. The morning session starts at 9 a.m. on the track at the Wiregrass Ranch High School football stadium. There is also an evening session at 6 p.m. Both sessions are 60-minutes long.

"Everybody needs speed," Roberts said. "If you're a 250-pound football player or a volleyball player, the football player needs speed, the volleyball player needs explosiveness. The programs I've designed help those individuals."

School officially ended for the 2018-19 academic year last week. For many Pasco County students there are various camps and events, but for those young boys and girls in Zephyrhills it is time for the annual summer recreational program hosted by the city for the past 43 years.

While there are a handful of activities planned each week, first up was bowling with dozens of youngsters taking their turns to roll balls down the lanes to knock down pins at Pin Chasers off Gall Boulevard.

'It's really great," said Matthew Rensch, a shift leader at Pin Chasers. "It brings out a younger group. This is just to get them in the building to have fun."

Norm Scheuerman, a longtime teacher and coach at Stewart Middle School who also attended the camp when he was young, is the recreation director overseeing the summer program. He figures more will come out for bowling as the summer wears on.

'We had 60 on day one, which is a good number to start with," he said. "The last couple of years we got 120 a day. We had to cap it at 120."

Prevent dehydration during the dog days of summer

A person's desire to be outdoors can sometimes be at odds with the outdoors itself. The dead of winter tends to be a time of year when people know to stay indoors, but the dog days of summer can be dangerous as well.

Heat-related diseases like dehydration can put lives at risk. According to Johns Hopkins Medicine, children and people over the age of 60 are particularly susceptible to dehydration. Understanding dehydration and how to prevent it is essential for anyone who plans to spend time outside during the summer.

What is dehydration?

The U.S. National Library of Medicine notes that a dehydrated body does not have enough fluid and electrolytes to work properly. On an average day, the human body needs about three quarts of water. But the USNLM notes that anyone planning to spend time outside in the hot sun needs significantly more water than that to avoid dehydration.

What are the signs of dehydration?

Johns Hopkins Medicine notes that people experience dehydration differently. However, there are some common symptoms that indicate someone is dehydrated. These symptoms include:

- thirst
- · less frequent urination
- · dry skin
- · fatigue
- · light-headedness
- · dizziness
- · confusion
- · dry mouth and mucous membranes
- · increased heart rate and breathing

Children who are dehydrated may exhibit additional symptoms, including dry mouth and tongue; no tears and crying; no wet diapers for several hours; sunken abdomen, eyes or cheeks; listlessness; irritability; and skin that does not flatten when pinched and released.

How to prevent dehydration

Drinking plenty of fluids when working or playing in the sun is one way to prevent dehydration. Being sure to take in more fluid than you are losing is another way to prevent dehydration. Anyone, and especially people who sweat a lot, should keep a close eye on fluid loss when spending time outdoors in the summer. Sports drinks that help people maintain their electrolyte balance, such as Gatorade, can help prevent dehydration as well. Pedialyte is often recommended for sick infants or children who have experienced vomiting, as it can help restore electrolyte balance that was adversely affected when kids became sick. The solution can be equally effective at restoring electrolyte balance that was thrown off during heat exposure.

Dehydration poses a significant health risk at any time of year, but people who spend time out in the summer heat may be especially vulnerable. Limiting time spent outdoors on hot days and keeping a close eye on your fluid intake and fluid levels can help prevent dehydra-

"That's where it all started," said Pelt, who in addition to his travel basketball duties is a Wiregrass Ranch High assistant. "It was a big rivalry game, because some of those kids grew up to-

"It was neat to see (Pelt) in the championship game and beat him," added Cogan, who also is an assistant coach at Wesley

The travel program not only provides valuable game experience in the offseason but helps players unite on a different team than their high school squads. Coaches say the kids relish that newfound camaraderie.

"They enjoy playing with each other almost more than their high school teams," Cogan said. "Plus, I think it teaches them something about basketball before they get back with their high school teams."

Added Demons assistant Pete Cliefoth, a former Wesley Chapel assistant, "The chemistry has been marvelous. They're very unselfish and everybody cheers for everybody else."

After the state tourney, the Demons won another title. They defeated the Duval Suns in the Disney Memorial Day Classic.

The team, which consists of players who will be juniors and seniors in high school next season has been together since they were in the seventh grade. This past season the Demons played in five tourneys, winning three and coming in second in the other two series.

When asked how and why his team was so successful, Cogan referred to Webster's Dictionary's description of a champion, which mentions someone who fights or speaks publicly in support of a belief or cause.

"Even though they are from different schools and backgrounds they give up playing time," Cogan said. "They fight, believe and unselfishly support each other.

"My players listen and execute when I make adjustments. Offensively, when they move the ball there are very few teams that have success defending us.' The Demons roster consists of: Dontae Marchman, Austin

Linville, Harrison Barker, Joe Vreeland, Roy Hernandez, Neil Acevedo, Francis Acevedo and Joshua Corpus. The Chapel lineup is comprised of: Lucas Pelt, Jacob Mc-

Caslin, Bryce Nicholas, Daniel Disalvo, Ron Rivera, Will Houle, Ben Clark and Joseph Ventura.

Right: Evan Miller, in his first year at South Carolina moved up from barely making the 4x100 meter relay to being one of its top runners and from a 10.7-second 100 meter dash to a 10.3-second time.

Above: A group of female runners from the Speed Starz Track/Running Club hit the track just after the morning camp session.

John Long Middle School baseball player Kenny Tunick was in Tuesday's morning session, getting some world-class training with

"This is really a dual sport for me (track and baseball)," Tunick said. "After we moved here a year ago, my dad and I were looking for track-related training. I came one time and I liked it, now I'm back every week."

The cost for a one-day session is $45, the full week runs $130 and the whole summer season, running June 3 all the way to Aug. 9 is $450 and is the best value. Make-up sessions start Aug. 5 but even if it rains, Roberts can take athletes to the indoor turf track at AdventHealth Center Ice to train.

Roberts' credentials speak for themselves. He holds or has held five school records from Wesley Chapel High, the 100 meter, 200 meter, 400 meter, 4x400 meter relay and the sprint medley. He ran collegiately and has an impressive club that he also manages, the Speed Starz Track/Running Club.

The club recently returned from a BAY-TAF meet at USF where the club placed second overall and best in the Tampa Bay area. It helps when you have state champions like Evan Miller and Cartrell Strong. Miller was both a 4x100 meter and 100-meter state champion when he ran for Zephyrhills Christian Academy a year ago. Strong just won the Class 2A triple jump at states this past May. Miller is now one of the University of South Carolina's top sprinters and Strong is headed to Moorehouse College in Atlanta on a football scholarship.

"We got Evan to believe in himself while he was with us," Roberts said. "He was running an 11.3 (in the 100 meter) when he started with us, we got him down to about a 10.6 and into a state championship.'

Strong is a more recent addition and according to Roberts, "already had great coaching at Zephyrhills High School" but he's getting extra training in before heading off to college in the fall.

Roberts is big on resistance training. That includes K-Bands, parachutes and sleds.

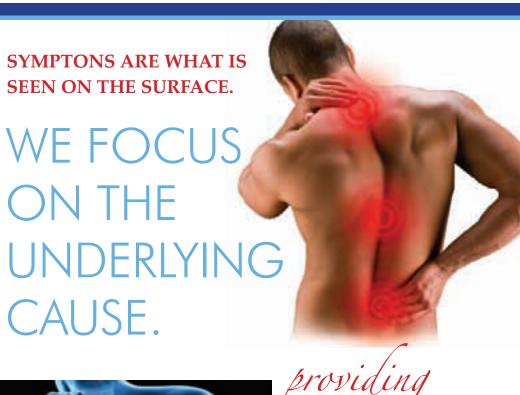

'Resistance training helps me look at your form, your arm rotation, helps me make sure you're getting faster and learning," Roberts said. "I'm a believer in resistance training ben-

Roberts can train athletes from 5 to 18 years old and for any of the 17 different events. He's able to draw on the experience of assistant club coaches Kenneth Roberts and Keymo Pearson for designing workouts. Roberts also emphasizes that his camps are for everyone regardless of athletic ability or experience. He also stresses that benefits can be had by athletes from any

"I can cater the workouts to a certain extent but otherwise, we utilize things the whole crew can do," Roberts said. "We have a whole lacrosse team coming in next week but it doesn't matter what sport you do - lacrosse, soccer, baseball, tennis, speed defines everything."

Not all the children at Pin Chasers on Monday, however, were part of the local summer recreation program. Addyson Coats, who just completed the third grade at West Zephyrhills Elementary School, showed up that morning to bowl with her grandmother, Rene Rychman.

"I just like to bowl," said Coats, who bowls in a youth league at Pin Chasers and went there to practice on Mon-

Aside from bowling, the summer program consists of board games and basketball in the Stewart Middle gymnasi-um, swimming at the East Pasco YMCA Pool and movies at Zephyrhills Cinema 10. New this year is tennis at the middle school courts.

"The most popular is the movies. Bowling is second," Scheuerman said.

"On a scale of 1-10 bowling is a 9," said 10-year-old

Sarah Hoskins.

Her friend Christine Dunsmore, 10, said she likes the movies the best.

Bowling with a group on an adjacent lane was 7-yearold Jordan Chandler, who is attending the summer program for the first time.

"I love bowling," he said.
"I can get five strikes in a row if I wanted to."

Added Violet Cain, 9, "I like bowling; just to be with your friends and have fun."

Like Scheuerman, among the assistants helping out with the camp were four Zephyr-hills High graduates.

"I like the kids and it's just something to do during the summer," said Stewart Middle teacher Amanda Schmidt, a 2007 graduate who has worked at the camp for the past six summers.

Kim Smith, a third-grade teacher at Woodland Elementary, said she helps out with the camp because she likes "giving back to my small town. It gets the kids active and, hopefully, keeps them active throughout the summer."

"I remember when I used to be one of these kids," he said. "I used to come when I was younger, so I try to let them have fun like when I was a kid."

Another first-time worker shared that sentiment.

"I like it," Zephyrhills High sophomore Jacob Smith said of his first job. "It reminds me of when I came here."

One regret Scheuerman had was not seeing Dennis Duffy, who along with former Zephyrhills coach Alan Reed helped start the program in 1976. Duffy, a longtime teacher, coach and referee passed away in May at the age of 71.

Above: Addyson Coats, who bowls in a youth league at Pin Chasers, went there on Monday to practice.
