Primary Election coming up Aug. 23

A primary election with other non-partisan offices and referendums is right around the corner

By ANDY WARRENER
News Reporter

The political landscape in the United States is tumultuous to say the least. The Jan. 6 Hearings are forging ahead, a landmark Supreme Court decision overturned Roe versus Wade, gas prices are skyrocketing, let’s not even get into the issues at the state and local level. Regardless of where you stand on these issues, your chance to have your voice heard and to utilize your constitutionally-given right to vote for your representatives, judges and referendums is coming up - fast.

August 23 marks the date of the regular primary election, ahead of this November’s general election. Whether you’re Republican, Democrat, Independent or third party, this August’s primary election is one that you’ll both want to research and show up for.

Here’s why.

Outside of the partisan primaries, there are a number of items on the August ballot that you’ll want to consider before bubbling in that oval. Perhaps the biggest one is the Penny for Pasco referendum.

Penny for Pasco was originally approved by county voters back in 2004. It passed again in 2012 with 70 percent approval. Between 2005 and the end of 2014, Penny for Pasco generated $320,000,000 in funds that were divided between public schools, the Pasco County Commission and infrastructure for cities within Pasco County.

If approved by voters in the upcoming primary election, the surtax will stay in place until 2039. While the final numbers have not been tabulated, it is estimated that Penny for Pasco will generate $700,000,000 between 2014 and 2024.

The way a surtax works is that it is an additional

Basketball director relocates youth program to Zephyrhills

Chapel Rip City called a handful of places home until a warehouse and gym were built off Chancey Road

By STEVE LEE
Sports Reporter

A youth basketball program founded in 2013 at Sports & Field in Wesley Chapel has been on the move since that building shut down and has since been transformed into a brewery. A new basketball program has emerged and it has a new home in Zephyrhills.

Colin Bolinger, who ran the organization when it was at Sports & Field, kept it going by relocating to the new Cypress Creek High School five years ago.

“I still had a bunch of players who had nowhere to go, so I started my own program,” he said. “It really started to take off. Facilities (such as the school’s new gym) sell the program.”

Shut down briefly in 2020 due to restrictions stemming from the coronavirus pandemic, the re-named Chapel Rip City program underwent a resurgence. Four all-boys teams, ages 4-12, practiced at the Land O’ Lakes Recreation Complex and later at a warehouse in Tampa, the latter of which shut down late last year.

At that point, Bolinger took matters into his own hands and utilizing his own funds had a warehouse built at 40417 Chancey Rd. in Zephyrhills. Boys teams in four age groups now call that gym home and in the spring the non-profit program expanded by adding a girls team with players ranging from sixth- through ninth-graders.

percentage of state sales tax that comes back to the respective county. The Florida state sales tax is six percent. In Pasco County, the sales tax is seven percent. That one-percent difference is where the funding from Penny for Pasco comes from. It is not a property tax, it is not an income tax, it is an additional sales tax that has been in place since 2004.

Some other non-partisan decisions are for your Pasco County School Board members. Districts 1, 3 and 5 are all up for grabs. District 1 is a sprawling district that covers the whole east side of the county, including Zephyrhills and Dade City. Incumbent Allen Altman is not seeking re-election.

The District 1 race will be between Al Hernandez, Stephen A. Meisman and James Washington. Each has their own website. Each is also profiled with links to said websites on pascovotes.gov. District 3 and District 5 are on the west side of the county but these are still board members that will shape decisions affecting Pasco County students, parents and teachers.

It's very easy to look past the judges. Two Circuit and one County office are up for election. Nicholas "Nick" Fiorentino and Cynthia Newton face off in the 6th Judicial Circuit Group 22. Scott Finelli and Keith Meyer run the 1st Circuit Group 27 and Judge Group 4 - Clementine "CC" Nick Moore face off. Again, each of these candidates have their own websites. Judicial candidates are limited in what they can say, politically but their experience and track record are available. There are also profiles on the candidates on floridabar.org.

On to the partisan offices. Pasco County is an ever-changing landscape. That much is true geographically and geopolitically, too. According to the Supervisor of Elections website and as of July 11, 2022 - there are 403,216 active and registered voters in Pasco County; of which, 163,231 are registered Republican, 113,819 are registered Democrat, 118,044 are no-party affiliated and 8,122 are registered in a third party. Florida is a closed-primary state, where voters can only vote in a party preference primary if they are registered to that party. FYI, the book closing date to register with a political party ahead of the primary is July 25.

Republicans will not have incumbent Scott Franklin to represent them in US Congressional District 15, as Franklin is not seeking re-election to that post. Demetrius Grimes, Laurel Lee, Kevin McGovern, Kelli Stargel and Jackie Toledo will vie for the nomination in a conservative-leaning House district. Democrats will field: Gavin Brown, Alan M. Cohn, Eddie Geller, Cesar Ramirez and William VanHorn in an effort to determine who will challenge the Republican nominee.

Both Republicans and Democrats have primaries to select their nominee for Agriculture Commissioner. Current Agriculture Commissioner Nikki Fried is now a Democratic candidate for governor. Republicans have to choose from former Senate President Wilton Simpson and James W. Shaw. Democrats will select from: Naomi Esther Blemur, J.R. Gaillot and Ryan Morales to run for Agriculture Commissioner.

Republicans get to choose their candidates for two County Commission seats. Pasco County District 2 - which contains the southwest corner of the County, will field Republican candidates: Troy F. Stevenson, Seth Weightman and Christie Zimmer. District 4 - which contains the south-central part of the county, will field: Gary Bradford, Christina "Fitzy" Fitzpatrick and Shannon I. Wittwer.

Democrats have some big choices to make, too. Democrats, not just in the county but state-wide, will select their nominee to run for U.S. Senate in November against incumbent Marco Rubio. Ricardo De La Fuente, Val Demings, Brian Rush and William Sanchez will all vie for the chance to run against Rubio in November.

In this upcoming primary, Democrats will select a nominee to take on current governor Ron DeSantis, even as speculation on DeSantis's 2024 presidential run circulates. Democrats will select from: Charlie Crist, Cadance Daniel, Nicole "Nikki" Fried and Robert L. Willis to nominate their candidate for governor. Democrats will also select an opponent to run against incumbent Ashley Moody for Attorney General from: Aramis Ayala, Jim Lewis, Daniel Uhlfelder.

Each of the candidates mentioned maintains a website of their own. Pascovotes.gov is a great resource to learn more about the candidates. Another great non-partisan resource for information about candidates and offices is ballotpedia.org.

debates and/or town halls that will give you an in-person look and listen for the candidates you'll be voting for.

Don't take this right you've been given lightly. Millions of people around the world and even in the history of this country don't or do not have that right. Surely, that's enough cause to both show up at your polling place and also not to show up blind with regard to your choices.

You can check or change your registration status, download your specific sample ballot and even find out where your polling place it by visiting pascovotes.gov.

GOD LOVES YOU CHRIST DIED FOR YOU

THE SIMPLE GOSPEL OF CHRIST FOR OUR SALVATION

The Apostle Paul received grace and apostleship to preach this "gospel of Christ" for obedience of faith unto all nations (Romans 1:5).

The "gospel of our salvation" that we must believe, in order to be saved, is stated in I Corinthians 15:3-4: 1) CHRIST DIED ON THE CROSS TO PAY FOR OUR SINS. 2) HE WAS BURIED, AND... 3) HE ROSE FROM THE DEAD ON THE 3RD DAY ACCORDING TO THE SCRIPTURES.

Romans 6:23 For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord.

2 Corinthians 5:21 For he hath made him [CHRIST] to be sin for us, who knew no sin; that we might be made the righteousness of God in him.

Ephesians 2:8-9 For by grace are ye saved through faith; and that not of yourselves: it is the gift of God: 9 Not of works, lest any man should boast.

Ephesians 1:13-14 In whom ye also trusted, after that ye heard the word of truth, the gospel of your salvation: in whom also after that ye believed, ye were sealed with that holy Spirit of promise, Which is the earnest of our inheritance until the redemption of the purchased possession, unto the praise of his glory.

Colossians 1:12-14 Giving thanks unto the Father, which hath made us meet to be partakers of the inheritance of the saints in light: Who hath delivered us from the power of darkness, and hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son: In whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins:

SALOME'S STARS

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) You face the possibility of raising your relationship to another level. However, your partner might demand that you make promises you're not sure you're ready for.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) As changes continue, expect things to get a little more hectic at your workplace. An unexpected travel opportunity could open new career prospects.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Confront the person who caused your hurt feelings and demand a full explanation for their actions. You'll not only recover your self-esteem, but you'll also gain the respect of others.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) That personal problem in the workplace is compounded by someone's biased interference. Stand your ground, and you'll soon find allies gathering around you.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) You don't accept disapproval easily. But instead of hiding out in your den to lick your wounded pride, turn the criticism into a valuable lesson for future use.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) That former friend you thought you'd cut out of your life is still affecting other relationships. Counter their lies with the truth. Your friends are ready to listen.

LIBRA (September 23 to October 22) What appears to be an unfair situation might simply be the result of a misunderstanding. If you feel something is out of balance, correct it.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) A stalled relationship won't budge until you make the first move. Your partner offers a surprising explanation about what got it mired down in the first place.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) A coworker shares some startling news, but before you can use it to your advantage, make sure it's true. The weekend favors family matters.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Your usual conservative approach to family situations might not work at this time. Keep an open mind about developments, and you might be pleasantly surprised.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Plans might have to be put on hold because of a family member's problems. Don't hesitate to get involved.

Your help could make all the difference.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Relationships in the home and in the workplace need your careful attention during this period. Be careful not to allow misunderstandings to create problems.

BORN THIS WEEK: You have a keen, insightful intellect and enjoy debating your views with others who disagree with you. You also love to solve puzzles -- the more challenging, the better.

Each numbered row contains two clues and two 6-letter answers. The two answers differ from each other by only one letter, which has already been inserted. For example, if you exchange the A from MASTER for an I, you get MISTER. Do not change the order of the letters.

STRANGE BUT TRUE

By Lucie Winborne

- "Americanha" is a word used by Nigerians to refer to folks who visit the U.S. and then put on American airs when they return.
- The Supreme Court has its own private basketball court.
- You thought it was hard to get into Harvard University? Try getting hired by Walmart! The former institution's admittance rate of 4.5% still beats that of the store chain, which has an employee acceptance rate of just 2.6%.
- Lake Superior State University in Michigan offers a unicorn hunting license.
- An art collector once paid $10,000 for a "non-visible" sculpture created by actor James Franco. What did she get for her moolah? Well, since the artwork was billed as an "endless tank of oxygen," we'd say ... air, which most of us can find a lot cheaper.
- And speaking of frugality -- a man wore 60 shirts and nine pairs of jeans on an 11.5-hour flight from China to Africa because he didn't want to pay the extra baggage fee.
- Cows moo with regional accents.
- The town of Dorset, Minnesota, elects a new mayor every two years by drawing names from a hat, and in 2015, that honor went to 3-year-old Robert Tufts. His laudable motto: "Being nice and no poop talk."

HERE IS A PLEASANT LITTLE GAME that will give you a message every day. It's a numerical puzzle designed to spell out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 3. The result is your key number. Start at the upper left-hand corner and check one of your key numbers, left to right. Then read the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

MOMENTS IN TIME

The History Channel

- On July 21, 1899, Ernest Miller Hemingway, author of such novels as "For Whom the Bell Tolls" and "The Old Man and the Sea," is born in Oak Park, Illinois. The influential American literary icon became known for his straightforward prose and use of understatement.
- On July 22, 2005, "March of the Penguins," a French-made documentary about emperor penguins in Antarctica, opens in theaters across the U.S. The film went on to win numerous awards, including an Oscar, and became one of the highest-grossing documentaries in movie history.
- On July 23, 1918, Della Sorenson kills the first of her seven victims in Nebraska. Over the next seven years, friends, relatives and acquaintances of Sorenson died under mysterious circumstances. In 1925, Sorenson was arrested when she made an unsuccessful attempt at killing two children with poisoned cookies.
- On July 24, 1567, during her imprisonment at Lochleven Castle in Scotland, Mary Queen of Scots is forced to abdicate in favor of her 1-year-old son, later crowned King James VI of Scotland. In 1542, while just 6 days old, Mary had ascended to the Scottish throne upon the death of her father, King James V.
- On July 25, 1832, the first recorded railroad accident in U.S. history occurs when four people are thrown off a vacant car near Quincy, Massachusetts. The victims had been invited to view the process of transporting loads of stone when a cable on a vacant car snapped, throwing them off the train and over a 34-foot cliff.
- On July 26, 1931, a swarm of grasshoppers descends on crops throughout Iowa, Nebraska and South Dakota, devastating millions of acres. The swarm was said to be so thick that it blocked out the sun and one could shovel the grasshoppers with a scoop. Cornstalks were eaten to the ground and fields left completely bare.
- On July 27, 1981, Adam John Walsh, age 6, is abducted from a mall in Hollywood, Florida, and later found murdered. Adam's father, John Walsh, became a leading victims rights activist and host of the long-running television show "America's Most Wanted."

How to overcome a fitness plateau

Each individual has his or her own fitness goals when beginning an exercise regimen. Perhaps the plan is to lose a set amount of weight or lift a certain amount of weight? Goals help people assess their workouts whether or not they are achieving the desired results.

At some point in just about everyone's fitness routine, it may seem like progress has stalled. Changes in the body may no longer be noticeable or the scale says the same weight each week. It's easy to grow discouraged when exercise gains plateau. But recognizing this phenomenon can help people get their workouts back on track.

What is a fitness plateau?

The exercise resource GymBet says a fitness plateau is a phase when the body adjusts to a workout routine and stops progressing further.

The body has become accustomed to the stress and changes an exercise routine has put on it in order to grow muscles, reduce fat or improve in training.

What causes a plateau?

The human body is incredibly resilient and can adapt to the physical demands of a workout. That means a workout initially can produce noticeable results. But over time, the body will adapt and something that was challenging will become easier. As a result, a familiar and once effective workout will no longer produce the desired results. Some call this General Adaption Syndrome. Even though hitting a plateau may seem frustrating, it is a good sign that an individual is making progress in a fitness program.

How to overcome a plateau?

The American Heart Association says one way to overcome a plateau is to follow the F.I.T.T principle of exercise. This stands for Frequency, Intensity, Time, and Type. Once a plateau has been reached, a person will have to change one or more components of F.I.T.T. to once again get desired results. That may mean increasing frequency and/or intensity, spending more time in an exercise session, or changing the type of workout. If the plateau involves a lack of weight loss, then tracking food for a week or two can show just how many calories are going in versus how many are expended. Often, hitting a plateau can be traced to dietary changes.

Banish boredom

Another factor in hitting fitness plateaus that people may not realize is mental motivation. An individual who is becoming bored in a workout may not put forth the same level of effort, and that can manifest itself in a lack of results. Modifying the workout or attending a new program can be a small trigger to reach a new fitness level.

A fitness plateau is something active people need to consider. Modifications can be made to get progress back on track.

"I built my program again," said Bolinger, listing about 100 girls and boys playing in the in-house league and on travel teams. "We're starting to get more kids from Zephyrhills now, but my core still is from Wesley Chapel."

The newly formed girls team did not take long to find success. During a recent tournament in Clearwater, Chapel Rip City finished as a runner-up. That Hard 2 Guard event was only their second tourney with the team including Savanna Condron, Mariah Ross, Lyla Blair, Jaida Breir, Sky Verosic, Breley, Ash Barker and Essence Pavell.

Bolinger noted that the girls, primarily from local middle schools, took practices and competitions seriously from the get-go. He envisions them getting even better as they take on more challenging tourneys and get used to one another on the court.

"I think it's the effort and dedication; just the level of intensity," Bolinger said of the group's collective efforts.

Also in the Hard 2 Guard tourney, Chapel Rip City's boys seventh-grade team came in second. That squad featured Joe Brumfield, Elijah Daux, Elijah Wordly, Julius Denson, Karan Aujla, Daniel Jones, Nic Pappalla and Oliver Welden-Lopez.

Bolinger, 35, grew up playing basketball in Indiana, played briefly at Lakeland Community College in Ohio and later was a graduate assistant at Indiana State before relocating to west central Florida.

Among the players Bolinger coaches is his son Oliver, a rising seventh-grader.

"Right now, it's okay but once he gets in middle school and high school it will be tough," he said. "Right now, I'm in the golden age."

In addition to the in-house league play and Amateur Athletic Union tournaments, he runs a summer basketball camp that combines newcomers with more competitive players. The camp is designed to focus more on individual skills and having fun than playing in competitive games.

"The summer camp is more about fun," Bolinger said. "We do some skill stuff, but we do more games and competitions."

Free throw contests are among the more popular competitions the boys and girls seem to thrive on, Bolinger noted, adding, "It's just getting the kids out and to love basketball."

The Dade City museum put on a night time event this past Saturday with glimpses into Florida's rich and colorful history

By ANDY WARRENER
News Reporter

With current temperatures soaring, the Pioneer Florida Museum & Village took their scorching summer season of events indoors. In June, the museum featured a Civil War Homefront event that portrayed an 1864 convalescent hospital in a small Florida town. The 1905 Enterprise Church, which has a large "window shaker" air conditioning unit, was converted to the hospital, complete with a doctor, nurses and wounded soldiers. Inside the main building, presentations on medicine in the 19th Century and civilian life during the war, even samples of black-eyed pea soup were given. About the only thing suffering outside were Civil War reenactors portraying local Home Guard units.

For the museum's second summer installment, they tore a page out of Hollywood cinema with their Night at the Museum event.

Night at the Museum featured eight different docents, dressed in period regalia, depicting either an historical figure or a generic character demonstrating a craft or skill of yesteryear. Museum curator Andy Warrener portrayed Spanish conquistador Alvar Nunez Cabeza de Vaca in the section of the museum dedicated to prehistory and the 16th Century. Adjacent to Warrener, in the covered Cracker porch were museum docents Deanne Absher and Tiffany Davis demonstrating crafts using corn husks. Already on display in the area were two brooms constructed of corn husks.

Continuing counter-clockwise around the museum was historian and author Keith Kohl portraying a soldier from the 2nd

Seminole War. Kohl was accompanied by his son Johnathan. Inside the Locket Tool Room, resident carpenter Rob Schuler and his wife Susan demonstrated different wood-working techniques. Just outside the tool room, museum association trustee Wayne Sweat demonstrated how a linotype was used. The Model 32 Linotype that was donated to the museum by The Zephyrhills News and was the very same model that Sweat used early in his career as a journalist.

Next up was Sheyenne McAlister in the Cracker Cowboy section, discussing early cattle ranching in Florida and the role of the Cow Cavalry during the American Civil War. On into the Civil War section of the museum, history teacher and historian Caleb Greinke did a first-person portrayal of Samuel Pasco, who Pasco County is named after.

Lastly, in the World War II section of the museum's main building, Hannah Schultze depicted lady Marines, complete with uniforms, identification patches, manuals and lots of stories.

The museum dimmed the lights to give the night time feel, even though it was still broad daylight at 6 p.m. when the event began.

"Last year we attended a reenactment, so we bought an annual membership in the Pioneer Museum," commented Lynn Smith of Brooksville. "Now we come out to whatever sounds interesting and bring our friends."

It was a bit of a change-of-pace for the museum. Typically, historical presentations are given in the third person point of view. For the Night at the Museum event, the characters truly came to life with first person presentations.

"First person portrayals are difficult because you are limited in what you can say based on the character you are portraying and what time period it is," Kohl said. "For instance, you can't talk about when your character died or about anything that happened after their death. There's also a lot of fun you can have with the public being shocked by their clothing and how each of them carries a soul-capturing device - a camera."

That type of a portrayal was a fresh approach for most of the attendees.

"We have been coming here for years," said Michelle Williams of Dade City, "But we did not expect this unique event. We learned more than usual through the people role playing characters of different eras of the central Florida area."
