Zephyrhills defeats host Wesley Chapel 34-9

The Zephyrhills offense gets set to run a play against the Wesley Chapel defense in last Friday night's pivotal district matchup at Wildcat Stadium. STEVE LEE

Bulldogs improve to 4-0 with decisive win over Class 5A, District 9 rival Wildcats

For the third time in four games this season, the Zephyrhills defense forced four turnovers. The Bulldogs also scored on their first possession of each half en route to a 34-9 win last Friday night over Wesley Chapel at Wildcat Stadium.

That game marked the Class 5A, District 9 opener for both teams with the unbeaten Bulldogs improving to 4-0 overall, 1-0 in the district. Meanwhile, the Wildcats dropped to 1-1, 0-1 in 5A-9.

Zephyrhills scored on two of the four turnovers and got another touchdown two plays after forcing another miscue by Wesley Chapel.

With Zephyrhills leading 13-7 in the second quarter and Wesley Chapel gaining some momentum after Dylan McGinnis recovered a fumble on a kickoff, the tide turned quickly in the Bulldogs' favor.

Nick Sheldon stripped the football from Jaylan Blake and ran into the end zone from 71 yards out that helped stake Zephyrhills to a 20-7 lead. That play was similar to when Sheldon scooped up a fumble and scored in a season-opening win at Lakeland Kathleen.

Assistant coach Raleigh Allen said that Sheldon forcing costly turnovers and sometimes scoring on them is nothing new.

"He's been doing that all his life," said Allen, who formerly coached Sheldon in youth football with the Wesley Chapel Cowboys.

As for the other three turnovers in Zephyrhills' favor, Tymar McKeever returned an interception 56 yards for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter.

Earlier, Jakobe Campbell's interception of Wesley Chapel quarterback Ethan Harper, who was intercepted four times, set up the first of two Jaylin Thomas touchdown runs. Kamil Mehrab added an interception for Zephyrhills.

"It helps, obviously, if we can get touchdowns on defense so we don't have to do it on offense," Zephyrhills coach Nick Carroll said.

In the previous week's 42-0 win over Fivay, Zephyrhills got touchdowns on each of its possessions to start a half. The Bulldogs did it again against Wesley Chapel.

The Wildcats opened the game by punting after five plays and the Bulldogs capped a six-play, 51-yard drive with Jaxson Rivera's 24-yard scoring pass to T.J. Jackson, who caught the ball in the right

Boys golf drops Wesley Chapel in late-season tuneup, 192-214

The 2021 Zephyrhills boys golf team is poised to flip the script from last season

The 2020 season didn't go the way head coach J.T. Kirk envisioned it. Despite having some solid golfers at the top of the lineup, mishaps and inexperience kept the Bulldogs from even making regionals. That should change in 2021 as the Bulldogs' top golfers now have that experience and the lineup is deeper. Top golfers and now seniors Myzaiah Torres and Gabe Johnston form the nucleus of a Zephyrhills team that's poised for a breakout. Either one could be the number one golfer at any given match.

"These guys are unselfish, team players," Kirk said. "They've battled for the number one spot all year and neither cares where they play."

Johnston and Torres have taken on their leadership roles and dedication to the sport, seriously.

"They both put in a ton of time over the summer, working on their games and it shows," Kirk said. "They have what it takes, the hunger. They do stuff when the coach isn't even around."

Torres is the athlete on the team. He's a basketball player, a weightlifter, baseball player.

"And he's good at it all," Kirk said. "Playing other sports at a high level means his (Torres's) mental game is better than most. He's got that poise, like when he's on the free throw line and people are yelling at him."

Johnston has picked up a near fanatical devotion to the sport.

"He (Johnston) lives like a pro golfer," Kirk said. "He works at a golf course, he watches golf on TV, plays on the weekend, he lives, eats and breathes golf. He's become really dedicated and he's even got some schools looking at him."

Kirk lets the whole team square off, usually on a Monday, to determine which of the 11 varsity players will take the top five spots, when they match up

Kings and Queens League brings out couples and friends

Tuesday night's mixed league is among nine sessions for adults available throughout the week at Pin Chasers in Zephyrhills

By STEVE LEE
Sports Reporter

Numerous programs have been revived since restrictions stemming from the coronavirus pandemic. Count the mixed league on Tuesday nights at Pin Chasers, an evening session that has become increasingly popular this year and is predicted to be back to normal by the next season.

The lanes at Pin Chasers off U.S. 301 in Zephyrhills were full on Tuesday evening with 29 teams competing against one another. That is near capacity, which had been 32 teams before the pandemic struck.

"We're up five teams from last year," said Amy Higgins, general manager of Pin Chasers. "We're almost back to a full house. We were down because of Covid last year and this year we had some teams come back. We should be back to 32 teams next year."

As is the case at most bowling lanes, there are plenty of people who play in more than one league. Still others have played in several leagues in the past, but now bowl in only one.

"This is all I bowl in," said Wesley Chapel resident Yvette Williams, who competes for a team called Timeout. "I used to bowl with the women. I just like bowling. I don't care who I bowl with."

While there are plenty of team names, many of which have to do with a business, Team Seven members said they could not come up with a name, so they were issued a number by the league organizer.

Ken and Judy Kilpatrick, who bowl on other nights as well, recently switched partners and now bowl on Team Seven with Mary Totten and Bob Mitchell.

"We haven't taken the time to name (the team)," Ken said.

Wealth of Health

Add more exercise to the workday

Many people can benefit from more exercise. But after a long day at work and tending to obligations at home, making time for exercise can be an uphill battle. Come nighttime, there may be little energy or time left to be active. However, failure to engage in regular physical activity can be detrimental to one's health.

The World Health Organization lists inactivity as the fourth biggest risk factor for global adult mortality. Plus, long periods of sitting inactively may lead to increased risk for diabetes, cancer, heart disease, and obesity. Psychology Today also says studies indicate mental ability is directly linked to physical activity. Without regular exercise, one may have decreased concentration, poor memory, reduced mental stamina, and a lack of creativity. Finding time to exercise while at work can help people reap the rewards of a physically active lifestyle.

The American Heart Association says taking advantage of little opportunities to move more throughout the day can add up to a significant amount of exercise. Here are some ways to exercise during the workday.

- Ride or work a portion of your commute. People who live close enough to the office can ride their bikes or walk there. If the office is too far, think about getting off the bus or train a stop earlier and walk the rest of the way. You even can park further away if you drive to the office.
- Switch out your desk. Desks come in different configurations and you may be able to opt for a tall or adjustable desk to enable you to stand and move around a bit while working. If that's not possible, stand up and do some balance or strength exercises while on long calls.

- Take the stairs. Skip the elevator and go up and down the stairs each day. Doing so when coming in, going in and out for a lunch break, and when leaving in the evening can add up over the course of a day.
- Start a walking club. Get together with co-workers who also want to exercise and use your lunch hour to walk around. You can always eat at your desk before or afterwards.
- Schedule walking meetings. Whenever possible, host walking brainstorming sessions or meetings. Take the meeting outdoors if the weather cooperates; otherwise, take laps around the building.
- Store some workout gear at work. During breaks, do a few arm curls with dumbbells or use resistance bands to work inner and outer thigh muscles while sitting at your desk.
- Volunteer to run errands. Step out for coffee or snacks during the day, making a concerted effort to walk when going for your daily jolt of caffeine.

Exercise can be included in the work day by making some minor changes that really add up.

Judy had a different take on the team name, reasoning, "You can't get more original than that. Nobody's got it."

Higgins often says how much fun the leagues are. That is why, in part, she bowls for — you guessed it, Pin Chasers — with her husband James, along with Chris and Cindy Domske.

"Let's go, Amy," Cindy cheers loudly, clapping her hands when Amy steps up to bowl. "It's a great night out. I look forward to it. We cut up and we make fun of each other."

Some of the other mixed leagues include Senior Stars on Wednesday evenings and the Sunday Nighters on the appropriate night.

Tecumseh Newberry, who works the front desk and has watched the various groups come in to bowl on their respective league nights, enjoys the camaraderie among the participants.

Young and old alike, he noted, they all seem to have a good time taking part in the sport and sharing those experiences with spouses and friends.

Some, he noted, pay more attention to scoreboard watching and seeing how they compare with other bowlers.

"They all like to see their brackets," Newberry said. "I know they're really happy. When one of their teammates is really good they're good at congratulating them."

In addition to the adult leagues there are three youth leagues including the popular Saturday morning session for the younger set.

While there have not been nearly as many tournaments as in previous years at Pin Chasers there is a special one coming up. Boy Scout Troop 117 of Zephyrhills is hosting a tournament there on Oct. 9. It will benefit Wreaths Across America for the Florida National Cemetery in Bushnell.

flat and weaved through three defenders for the score. Trailing 13-0, Wesley Chapel got its lone touchdown just three plays after Thomas' 6-yard scoring run. Blake burst off left tackle and beat a host of defenders down the left sideline for a 60-yard touchdown. Thanks, in part, to the longest run of the game, Blake rushed for a team-high 128 yards on 13 carries. Thomas, however, had a game-leading 158 yards on 13 carries. The Wildcats also wound up with a safety just before halftime. With Zephyrhills pinned at its own 2-yard line after a fourth-and-goal attempt by Wesley Chapel came up short, Willie Queen took a handoff from Rivera and was gang-tackled in the end zone. Wesley Chapel had gone two weeks without a game following a season-opening win over Sunshine Athletic Conference rival Sunlake, Wesley Chapel eagerly awaited the matchup with Zephyrhills. That wait, however, might not have been exactly worth it. The Wildcats had nearly a dozen players in quarantine for their scheduled game against crosstown rival Wiregrass Ranch. That forced the game being cancelled and then Wesley Chapel had a bye week. "We were eager to get a game in," Wesley Chapel coach Tony Egan said. "I think the score (against Zephyrhills) really wasn't indicative of the game." Aside from turnovers, injuries factored into Wesley Chapel's loss. Cornerback Jalani Pilcher and linebacker Yael Diaz were out with injuries, plus Blake got hurt during the game.

HOW TO WRITE A GOOD CLASSIFIED AD

Make the heading short - a short heading should have 2 to 4 words and will capture the reader's attention without clutter and confusion.

Start your ad with the merchandise you are selling - starting with the merchandise makes it easier for the reader to locate your item(s) for sale.

Always include the price of the item you are selling - 52% of classified readers do not respond to ads that do not include a price.

Make it easy for readers to understand - abbreviations and technical terms are sometimes difficult for readers to comprehend.

Place yourself in the reader's position - ask what you would like to know about the merchandise for sale. Include information such as brand names, colors and other specific descriptions.

Always include contact information - including your phone number will give the readers confidence that your item is legitimate and give them the option of contacting you for more information.

against another team. Torres and Johnston are always at the top, it just depends on which is at number one and which is number two.

As the Bulldogs faced off with Wesley Chapel at Silverado on Monday, Johnston had won the match off and was playing at number one. Johnston would finish the day with the best score, a 40 and help lift the Bulldogs past Wesley Chapel 192 to 214.

Torres took the number two spot on Monday and did not have the outing he would have liked, scoring a 46 but it was still good enough to top his competition and help the Bulldogs move to 4-1 on the season.

Other varsity golfers, senior John Helms, junior Austin Dobbins and freshman David Jahn round out the group that took on the Wildcats on Monday and also the group that normally lines up for the Bulldogs. Helms is a four-year player and is one of the steady hands on the team. He shot a 47 on Monday to give teammate Torres a little pressure. Dobbins is a Bulldog baseball player that Kirk managed to talk into coming out for the golf team. Kirk likes Dobbins' hand control that comes from swinging the baseball bat.

"He's (Dobbins) super calm, too," Kirk said. "He makes a bad shot and just moves on."

Jahn is a rising star on the team. Jahn and Dobbins have the same kind of trade off positioning that Torres and Johnston do and Kirk looks at Jahn as being one of the future leaders for the boys varsity team. Jahn shot a 57 on Monday at Silverado.

"Those two (Dobbins and Jahn) are going to be my leaders going forward," Kirk said. "And I think by the time Jahn is a senior, he's going to be a scratch golfer."

While the Bulldogs have plenty of competition, just in Pasco County, it's never a chore or a dull moment when Kirk is practicing or running a match.

"I've never coached a better team, character-wise," Kirk said. "These guys are like my own children. I really lucked out having such a good group. I could not even be here and I would know everything was going to be fine."

The Bulldogs, with their win over the Wildcats, move past the halfway point of the season. Their last regular season match is Oct. 5. From there it's the district-regional-state run where the Bulldogs hope to have a good showing.
