Bulldogs score late to avoid shutout loss

The Zephyrhills offense lines up against the Ponte Vedra defense before a play in the second quarter of last Friday night's high school football game at Bulldog Stadium. The home team's offense struggled all night.

BY STEVE LEE
Sports Reporter

The Bulldogs had not been in a precarious position like last Friday night in years as they came within six minutes of being shut out for the first time since a 45-0 loss to arch-rival Pasco in 2011.

Trailing by a substantial number that led to a running clock to start the fourth quarter, host Zephyrhills finally scored late — although it did not matter much at that point — in a 40-7 loss to Ponte Vedra.

The 33-point deficit was the largest margin since a 43-8 loss to Wiregrass Ranch in the 2016 season opener. The last time the Bulldogs lost their first two games of the season came in 2012 when they won the third game and finished 6-4.

Coach Nick Carroll, who is in his fourth season and has guided Zephyrhills to three of its five consecutive playoff appearances, has a daunting task ahead in trying to change his team's fortune.

Late meltdown dooms Pirates in 15-12 loss to Sunlake

BY ANDY WARRENER
Sports Reporter

The 2019 Pirates were off to a great start. They throttled host Land O' Lakes in the season opener 35-14, where they rushed for over 300 yards. However, some tell-tale signs were hidden in that game that presaged some of the setbacks the Pirates suffered during last Friday's home opener against Sunlake. Primarily, quarterback Devi Jernigan completed just three of six passes for 34 yards. Might not sound so bad, especially in a 35-14 rout but Jernigan had the whole spring and summer to develop rhythm with his backs and receivers. It was very likely a factor in head coach Jason Stokes tapping junior Desmin Green to start at quarterback on Friday.

Green proved elusive as a runner on Friday, piling up 94 yards on just seven carries before being sidelined with a leg injury. However, the Pirates could not get out of their own way.

The defense stymied Sunlake on their opening drive, Jabari Mention nearly coming down with a tipped pass that would have almost surely been a pick-six. On the ensuing punt, the Pirate returner fumbled after being hit and the Seahawks recovered at the 37-yard line. The Pirate defense held, forcing a turnover on downs.

It was tough sledding in the run game for Pasco running back Malcom Gibbs, but he made the most of this carry by stepping over a Sunlake defender.

East Pasco Cross Country teams hit hills at Lecanto Invitational

Sunlake is the class of Pasco County but strong individual showings from Wiregrass Ranch and Zephyrhills' Joseph Hoppe make some waves

BY ANDY WARRENER
Sports Reporter

There was no room in the limelight Saturday morning behind male teams Steinbrenner and Sunlake, along with female teams Monteverde Academy and Sunlake. Those squads cast a long shadow from which few teams could emerge.

Wiregrass Ranch had the best team showing among East Pasco County teams. The Wiregrass girls under John Ackerman climbed into fifth place ahead of Citrus and host Lecanto. Top placers for the Bulls included juniors Mya Hill and Breanna Preiser as well as freshman Hannah Sheen. The trio took the 20th, 21st and 22nd place spots out of 109 varsity runners.

The best finisher on the boys side in East Pasco was actually Zephyrhills, coming into 11th place behind Tampa Alonzo. The Zephyrhills boys are off to a strong start in 2019. The Bulldogs are led by senior Joseph Hoppe. Hoppe took the boys track team on his back this past spring and ran the distance gauntlet while sick to help lift the boys to the district title.

Chiropractors can help with various ailments

Anyone who has experienced pain understands that it can be debilitating. Pain can make it challenging to manage everyday tasks and can affect relationships and physical and mental health in many ways. Pain medications were once the norm, but with the rise of the opioid epidemic, it may be wise to take a different approach to pain treatment.

Statistics from the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, the Agency for Healthcare Research and Quality and the United States Department of Health and Human Services reveal that as many as one in five people received prescription opioids long-term for noncancer pain in primary care settings in 2016. While opioid use for pain does not always lead to abuse of these medications, opioid addiction has become a widespread problem across North America.

These same agencies report that approximately 1,000 people are treated in emergency departments in the United States each day for misuse of prescription opioids. Between 2016 and 2017, opioid poisoning hospitalization rates went up by 8 percent in Canada, resulting in an average of 17 hospitalizations each day.

Chiropractic care may be one avenue to pursue as a viable alternative to pain medications. While chiropractic manipulations are most often associated with back and neck pain, there are many different benefits - some of which may surprise those unfamiliar with chiropractic care - for this type of care.

- Migraines and headaches: Research shows that spinal manipulation can be an effective way to treat migraines, tension headaches and headaches that begin in the neck.

In clinical trials conducted at Macquarie University, 72 percent of migraine sufferers had noticeable or substantial improvement after a period of chiropractic treatment.

- Accident injuries: Chiropractors can assess musculoskeletal anomalies caused by motor vehicle accidents as well as slips and falls. Whiplash is a common issue in car crashes, and this may be addressed by a chiropractor.

- Anxiety and stress: The fight or flight mechanism that is activated when a person experiences stress and anxiety can take its toll on various parts of the body. Because stress involves nerve impulses, chiropractors may be able to work primarily with the spine where these impulses originate to help release tension and nerve irritation. In addition, adjustments can improve blood circulation, which may help signal the brain to turn off its "rally to action" response to stressful situations.

- Fibromyalgia: Fibromyalgia is marked by widespread musculoskeletal pain in the joints, muscles, tendons, and other soft tissues. It can be combined with temporomandibular joint syndrome, or TMJ, as well as irritable bowel syndrome, among other illnesses. Chiropractors can remove subluxations, which are misalignments of the vertebrae in the spine and joints that lead to pain responses. A Florida State University study found that those with fibromyalgia who combined resistance training with chiropractic treatment two times a week saw improvements in their symptoms.

Chiropractic care may be an asset for pain management, as well as a way to improve overall health.

Hoppe ran a 17:56 on Saturday morning that got him 16th place out of 119 runners. Hoppe was able to put together his experience on the course and his strong run at Holloway Park the week prior.

"This course is straight hills," Hoppe said. "I ran it three times before and today was my best."

Hoppe put 600 miles of running in over the summer, at least partially-inspired by a bet from his father that if he ran the 600 miles, he'd get $600 toward a new car. Hoppe won the bet and is poised both to have a breakout season and get that car.

The Bulldogs were even without their number two runner Mason Bragg, who recently had his wisdom teeth removed. In his stead, junior Roberto Gomez stepped up. Gomez came in with a 19:28 that got him 41st place. It's Gomez's first year doing cross country and just his second race.

"I feel like I have to prove myself each race," Gomez said.

Gomez started distance training as part of his conditioning for boxing. His boxing coach liked the idea of him running cross country and so Gomez is now the number two until Bragg returns. Gomez said he has eyes on the school record of 16:10 but that seems like an eternity away from 19:28.

With a much better shot at the girls school record, number one female Zephyrhills runner Madison Poe is chasing a 20:54. The record is not a very high bar. Monteverde Academy's Lily Henne ran an 18:45 to win the girls race on Saturday. However, a school record is a school record and Poe's personal record is a 21:20, not far off at all. Poe took 48th place, running a 25:03.

Junior Emily Franklin surprised Baez and coach James Kretschmar on Saturday, going 26:04 and taking 61st place.

"We really weren't expecting a lot but every race she (Franklin) improves on her time," Baez said. "She cut it down from the 30s to 24 minutes over the course of last year."

Baez also counts on Franklin as team captain.

"She (Franklin) and Joseph (Hoppe) are real leaders and have been crucial in setting the culture building we've had here in the last few years," Baez said. "The team is self-sufficient with the captains handling warmups and stretching, setting workouts - they do it now."

Pasco junior Agnes Hernandez had a strong showing on Saturday morning, taking the 47th spot, just in front of Poe with a 24:52. Hernandez comes from a running family, both older siblings Kevin and Clare were strong cross country runners for the Pirates.

"I'm pretty happy because this is my first meet of the season and I think I dropped two minutes off my time from this meet last year," Hernandez said.

The Bulldogs set some lofty accomplishments last season. In 2018 the first individual boys made regionals and the first girls team made it in the last 10 years.

"We want to get back to and surpass where this team was 10 years ago," Baez said. "We have good returning runners and great parental and team support this year."

The Bulldogs lost nearly two dozen seniors and are inexperienced, which often leads to costly mistakes on the field.

"We can't make repeated mistakes and we have no depth," he said. "Some of these kids have never played varsity football and we're thin."

After the game, Carroll challenged his players to step up. The junior varsity season started this week, but already he mentioned JV calls as a possibility.

"When adversity strikes you either fold under the pressure or you man up," he told the players. "We're going to see what kind of men you are."

Outside linebacker Demetris Wright spoke for more than one player when he said, "We can't go 0-3 or 0-4. We've got to hunker down."

"First things first," said offensive lineman Jarrin Galyan, who was singled out by a referee for his solid play against the Sharks. "We've got to watch film of the game and fix our mistakes. We're young."

Ponte Vedra built an insurmountable lead to 40-0 to close out the third quarter. Quarterback R.J. Glod's completed his third touchdown pass to Michael Olkiewicz, an 89-yard rollout and hookup down the left sideline.

A running clock began in the fourth quarter and with a sudden sense of urgency Zephyrhills put together its lone scoring drive of the game. The Bulldogs marched 67 yards downfield on eight plays. That drive ended with two-way lineman Dajuan McCullough lining up in the backfield and bulling his way into the end zone from 2 yards out. Jaxson Rivera followed with the point-after kick.

Backup running backs Jaylin Thomas and Zion Williams alternated carries for most of that drive, spelling starter Zyre Roundtree and giving scrambling quarterback T.J. Jackson a break.

"They both run the ball hard," Zephyrhills coach Nick Carroll said of the backups.

Among those four ballcarriers, however, none reached the 50-yard rushing mark for the game. Roundtree had the highest total with 48 rushing yards.

Costly mistakes, including blown assignments in pass coverage, and shoddy tackling proved to be too much for the Bulldogs to overcome.

Glod completed 11-of-16 passes for 332 yards with four touchdowns and an interception. Olkiewicz was his favorite target and finished with seven catches for 203 yards and three touchdowns. Tommy Zitiello had the other scoring catch, a 50-yard play.

The Sharks also got a 3-yard scoring run from Collin Magill, Davis Ashcroft 12-yard field goal and a safety when Jackson was tackled in the end zone for a safety.

Zephyrhills fumbled twice in a game initially delayed by lightning. Thomas lost one fumble but later atoned for that miscue with an interception.

Above: Coach Nick Carroll talks to the offensive players during a timeout with the Bulldogs trailing early. Zephyrhills went on to lose 40-7 to Ponte Vedra and drop their record to 0-2.

Theo backed Summer, which further upset Zoe. Adam stole Nate's tablet in order to access Victor's medical records. Sharon realized that she needed a change of scenery and planned a trip out of town by herself. Nick was quick to support her decision, encouraging her to take time alone. Above: The Pasco Marching Band gave their best show on Friday at halftime.

Green's swift feet and video game-like moves got the Pirates moving on the next possession but a miss on a 36-yard field goal try, left the game scoreless. The Seahawks, after a steady dose of runs, especially to the right, made some key completions to get on the board. A 31-yard completion from Kevin Spillane to Maguire Anderson, then a 34-yard completion to David Ramos led to a halfback option pass by Anderson to a wide open Ramos for the touchdown.

The Pirates finally caught a break as the Seahawks fumbled the ball away on the first play of their next possession, Ruben Pickett recovering. Green helped orchestrate a touchdown drive by netting runs of 18, 23 and 17 before twisting his ankle and coming out.

Jernigan stepped in and sprinted out to his left where he found Hezekiah Langley for a four-yard touchdown. The extra point was blocked and it was 7-6 Seahawks with 6:37 left in the first half.

The miscues haunted the Pirates on both ends of the half. They were stopped for a loss at the Seahawk 15-yard line letting the first half clock expire.

Then they fumbled on a bad quarterback-running back exchange to start the second half. Sunlake quickly turned that mistake into a touchdown, on a three-yard run by Justin Bethards. A two-point conversion later, it was 15-6 Seahawks.

The Pirates fought back into the game. Stokes gave his confidence to senior kicker Juan Herrera on a 42-yard field goal on a fourth-and-seven and Herrera whittled the lead down to 15-9.

"Juan (Herrera) does a great job and works hard," Stokes said. "We were really upset we had those early blocks or I would have kicked (a field goal) again at the end of the (first) half. We fixed it at halftime and finished strong."

Herrera would be tapped again after a fine punt return by Langley setup the Pirates at the Seahawk 30-yard line. The Pirates picked up one first down but stalled to setup Herrera for a 28-yard field goal try. Herrera delivered and the lead dwindled to 15-12 with two minutes left in the third quarter.

The Pirates just needed to give Herrera one more chance to tie the game but fate would not have it. The Seahawks got a series of breaks in their favor to keep their next drive alive. A fumbled snap saw Spillane cover it for a loss of yardage but not possession.

During a punt on fourth-and-8, a roughing-the-kicker penalty gave the Seahawks a fresh set of downs. Another muffed snap, saw the Seahawks recover their own mishap, yet again.

Finally, on a fourth-and-long the Seahawks punted again. However, the Pasco return man muffed the kick and the Seahawks recovered at the Pirate 21-yard line with 6:28 left to play.

Game over, right? Not just yet. A stop from Savion Spaight and Ivory Lopez made for a Seahawk third-and-long and a 38-yard field goal attempt missed with just under four minutes left in the game.

The Pirates set right to work making short completions and receivers wisely diving out of bounds. However, disaster would strike on a Jernigan scramble of six yards that brought the ball to the five-yard line. Jernigan lost the handle on the football and the Seahawks recovered. With just two timeouts remaining, all the Pirates could do was watch helplessly while the game clock bled out to triple zeroes.

"We know we let one slip away but much credit to Sunlake for making big plays," Stokes said. "The kids know the areas we need to improve on and we will take this as a tough learning experience but we can't mope because Auburndale (next opponent) could care less."
