

Charisse Sampson

Charisse Sampson is the wife of Elder Errol Sampson Jr. She has served faithfully as an Associate minister at the Assembly of Truth Family Worship Center in Atlanta, Georgia for over twenty years. She is a spiritual daughter of Bishop Michael Canion and Pastor Tanda Canion. She was raised in a Christian home in Brooklyn, New York and comes from a lineage of great men and women of God.

Charisse Sampson attended Clark Atlanta University and received her Bachelor of Science degree. She also earned her certification in Early Childhood Education. She graduated with honors from Grand Canyon University with her Master's in Education. She has taught in the private school system, Fulton County Schools and is presently teaching as a tenured instructor in Atlanta Public Schools.

As a member of Assembly of Truth, she serves as the Chief Adjutant and a Trustee Board Member. She also serves on the Hospitality Committee, Finance Team and is a board member of Tanda Canion Ministries. She is known as a faithful and committed servant of the Lord who gives all she can for the work of the ministry. She has the heart of a servant and believes in helping wherever there is a need.