The Blawenburg Band:
Captivating Audiences with the Best of Live Music

Widely recognized as the oldest community band in New Jersey, the Blawenburg Band has entertained audiences in Central New Jersey and adjacent Bucks County, PA for 135 years. Founded in 1890 in the Somerset County hamlet of Blawenburg, in a building that still stands today, the Band continues the community band tradition of performing an ambitious repertoire including marches, show tunes, movie themes, Dixieland, opera classics, and original compositions by band members, among other genres.

The Band's musicians are volunteers from all walks of life. They range in age from their teens to their nineties and include students, teachers, research scientists, computer specialists, homemakers, business people, doctors, lawyers, active retirees and many more. Some members bring decades of musical training and professional experience; others are dedicated--and accomplished--amateurs.

Notwithstanding their varied backgrounds, band members are alike in a most important way: they enjoy making music together, to the delight of young and old.

The Blawenburg Band has become synonymous with holiday parades and community celebrations, and frequently performs for area church socials and retirement centers. Recent performances have included well-known scores from celebrated films and TV series, Broadway themes, and soloists. Last year, the Band hosted guest conductor, noted arranger and band master Loras Schissel, senior musicologist at the Library of Congress and one of the nation's foremost experts on the music of John Philip Sousa, Aaron Copland, Percy Grainger, Leonard Bernstein and others.

About the Conductor Dr. Jerry E. Rife

A prominent educator, conductor and performer, Dr. Jerry Rife celebrates his 40th anniversary this year as Conductor and Musical Director of the Blawenburg Band. Under his guidance, the band has grown from a local small-town band in 1985 to a 75-member, premier musical organization that has performed hundreds of concerts under his baton.

Dr. Rife's leadership has developed the band's prominence and quality reputation with concert performances at Princeton University's Richardson Auditorium, Longwood Gardens, The Sousa Centennial Ceremony and The White House. In addition, the band's performances are annual traditions at area holiday parades, church socials, community venues and celebrations. In some cases, the band has performed at the same occasions and venues for decades.

Dr. Rife is Professor Emeritus of Music at Rider University in Lawrenceville, New Jersey, where he taught music history courses and was Director of Bands. He served as Chairman of Music in the Fine Arts Department since 1984 and taught graduate-level musicology courses at Westminster Choir College in Princeton, once it became Rider's School of Music. He is a recipient of the prestigious Lindback Award for Excellence in Teaching.

He holds a Ph.D. in musicology from Michigan State University, a Master of Music in clarinet performance and an undergraduate degree in music education from Kansas State University. Prior to his appointment at Rider, Dr. Rife was an Assistant Professor of Musicology at Michigan State University and taught doctoral- and master's-level musicology courses and in the undergraduate music history curriculum.

He studied with Fred Ormand, past president of the International Clarinet Association, Elsa Ludwig-Verdehr of the Verdehr Trio, Clark Brodie of the Chicago Symphony, George Silfies of the St. Louis Symphony and Frank Sidorfsky at Kansas State University.

Dr. Rife has also been a contributing writer for the Saxophone Journal since 1988 and has reviewed performances and recordings for Jazz Player Magazine. He was the Associate Producer of the documentary

"If You Knew Sousa," a 90-minute film funded by WGBH public television in Boston and aired as a flagship show of the PBS series "The American Experience."

Dr. Rife readily shares his decades of experience and expertise with concert audiences, often with entertaining commentary and anecdotes on marches, film music, other genres and composers. As much as concert-goers enjoy his podium banter, longtime band members likewise commend his stage presence and engagement with the musicians as well as the audience.

As one veteran band member observes, "I thoroughly enjoy playing for our audiences, knowing that they are having as much fun as we are!"

Congratulations, Jerry on 40 years with the Blawenburg Band!
The pleasure has been ours!

The Flute and Bassoon sections congratulate Dr. Jerry Rife on 40 years of conducting the Blawenburg Band

Here are a few of our favorite memories and stories...

"It has been such a pleasure joining the band this year and working with Jerry. He picks incredible pieces for the band to play, keeps rehearsals fun, and despite a long drive, I really look forward to Mondays every week!" - Jill

"At this point I've been in the band for more than half my life, and besides being a place to make music, the band has become a second family to me...Jerry has made the band a warm and welcoming place that has become an integral part of my life." - Susan D.

"I think my favorite composer story has to be about Steven Spielberg and John Williams. After watching Schindler's List, Williams told Spielberg he needed a better composer. Spielberg replied 'I know, but all the better ones are dead.'" - Daniel

"I loved performing at Longwood Gardens in 2011 on the same stage that John Philip Sousa conducted on almost 100 years before." - Susan K.

"Playing in the Blawenburg flute section has been a masterclass in band history through stories...and the joy of the Boy Scout Strawberry Festivals year after year. This was our first job with the band made memorable by the generous servings of strawberries, ice cream and cake. Thanks for this music." - Leslie
