“Little girl, I say to you ‘arise!’”

In today’s Gospel we saw how different people showed their complete trust in the Lord.

Jarius, a high ranking synagogue official who wholeheartedly and with full humility dropped on his knees and begged a carpenter’s son to save the life of his dying daughter.

A woman suffering from hemorrhage for years, who believed with all her heart that by just touching the edge of Jesus’ clothes her sickness will be healed.

Then there’s Jarius’ beloved daughter who was already in the lowest point of existence, defied all logic and came back to life after hearing Jesus’ voice.

Each one of us will experience instances in our lives that will break our hearts, put us in a desperate situation or even make the person in us “die”. Just like the little girl, we will feel the lowest point of our existence.

In those dark times, Jesus is telling us to “Arise”, to push ourselves to stand up and to continue the journey. He is reminding us that we are not facing those challenges alone. Even if sometimes it doesn’t make sense, He is asking us to confidently listen to His voice and have faith in Him.

This week, as we go through our daily struggles, whenever we feel that we are already in our lowest, I encourage you to take a deep breath and say “Jesus, I trust in You.”

Fr. Robert
