

How Is It Made & Why does It Matter

I'd like to begin by stating this, what I'm about to present is likely the ultimate Truth, Stranger Than Fiction. The information contained in these documents is to compel you to think. If you put no credence in the Bible, you will likely not find much credibility in what you will find here, however, if you have reasoning skills and an open mind to the discovery of new information, you may find things that will encourage you about what the Bible says. What I have put together here is primarily for those of you who believe the Word of God but will also apply to those who don't. This information could lead you to discover the core of your very belief system being rattled. Keep in mind, I don't want you to believe anything you're about to read or any of the information blindly, but rather, take the following information and do your own research, verify everything, keeping in mind that belief is the lazy man's knowing.

I'd like to set the stage with a few Bible verses:

Romans 3:4

God forbid: yea, let God be true, but every man a liar; as it is written, That thou mightest be justified in thy sayings, And mightest overcome when thou art judged.

2 Timothy 3:16-17

All scripture is given by inspiration of God, and is profitable for doctrine, for reproof, for correction, for instruction in righteousness: 17 that the man of God may be perfect, thoroughly furnished unto all good works.

Psalms 104:24

Oh Lord, how manifold are thy works! in wisdom hast thou made them all: the earth is full of thy riches.

Jeremiah 32:17

Ah Lord GOD! Behold, thou hast made the heaven and the earth by thy great power and stretched out arm, and there is nothing too hard for thee.

For the past several years, I have taken a deep dive into the varying types of creation models and have discovered on my quest for answers, truths that cannot be denied. The methods of my findings were the use of science, written secular beliefs and written biblical beliefs. During my study I discovered some, what I consider to be, mind numbing realities.

I researched with an open mind to find answers to questions that seemed to have no answers that made sense to my basic human reasoning and senses. The more I studied, the more I realized what I learned would turn out to be the answers that would end up contradicting almost everything I'd ever been taught about creation and this place where we live.

Only in a few places of what follows will I interject my opinion but rather will try to stay on track with questions and answers based only on what I can find in science, secular studies and the Word of God. Sometimes all are simultaneously true, other times two sources can be true and other times only one can be true, it's those times when each of us must choose which we will believe, what man says or what God says.

Please keep in mind as you read the following, this is only a brief introduction of information gathered over a period of years regarding the subject and though there are a lot of questions with answers, there are still many without answers. This rabbit-hole goes much deeper than you could possibly imagine, and the continued evidence is overwhelming for those who will open their eyes to the possibility that they may not understand the truth of their realm of existence in the fact that we have all potentially been lied to in the greatest cover up ever created by mankind.

Here's the starting question: Is what the Bible says about creation truly accurate, or have we been lied to, or both?

I'd like to begin setting the stage by introducing a couple of Bible verses that you've probably read many times as I had, yet, completely missed a fundamental part of the story. As you read these verses pay close attention to God's own tale of how He brought this world and the things around us into existence. I am not going to cover the Genesis account of creation in its entirety but rather will bring the focus on the parts of creation where the order in which things were made doesn't get much attention.

Genesis 1:1-18

1 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

2 And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was upon the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters.

3 And God said, Let there be light: and there was light.

4 And God saw the light, that it was good: and God divided the light from the darkness.

5 And God called the light Day, and the darkness he called Night. And the evening and the morning were the first day.

6 And God said, Let there be a firmament in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters.

7 And God made the firmament, and divided the waters which were under the firmament from the waters which were above the firmament: and it was so.

8 And God called the firmament Heaven. And the evening and the morning were the second day.

9 And God said, Let the waters under the heaven be gathered together unto one place, and let the dry land appear: and it was so.

10 And God called the dry land Earth; and the gathering together of the waters called he Seas: and God saw that it was good.

11 And God said, Let the earth bring forth grass, the herb yielding seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after his kind, whose seed is in itself, upon the earth: and it was so.

12 And the earth brought forth grass, and herb yielding seed after his kind, and the tree yielding fruit, whose seed was in itself, after his kind: and God saw that it was good.

13 And the evening and the morning were the third day.

14 And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of the heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years:

15 and let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth: and it was so.

16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day, and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

18 and to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

Please read this next paragraph very carefully with prayerful understanding prior to moving forward, it should provoke thought and questions.

Many God-fearing believers will say the Biblical account of creation tells us that God created everything we see around us, however, is that narrative a reality? Do those God-fearing believers really accept the creation story as told by the Bible or do they believe something much different? Did God create everything we see around us in the way we are told by the model of creation widely accepted today? Is there a chance that we have it all wrong? Maybe God didn't create things in the way we've all been taught, perhaps God created things the way He said He did in His Word.

When I discovered what I'm about to follow up with, it required a refresher course on the details of what I've been taught my whole life regarding creation, so, I put together some information, a reminder of what we were all told from the time we were old enough to learn about what is referred to as the Heliocentric Model of Creation and the Big Bang. This model along with its theories are widely accepted by those who don't believe there is a God as well as many who do believe there is a God who created everything and simply haven't taken the time to read and understand the words, the meanings of those words and the order in which they are written. My hope here is not to change your mind but rather compel you with information that will open your mind to the possibility of alternatives.

Introduction to the Heliocentric Model of Creation

The simplified version of the heliocentric model of creation tells us we live on a sphere within the vastness of our solar system with the sun being at the center surrounded by earth and 8, or so, other planets, moons and at long distances, stars and galaxies all dancing in synchronicity through the vastness of the ever-expanding vacuum of space created after two bodies of mass, which no one has an account of as far as origin goes, this mass collided, exploded, which led to everything coming from nothing. (a.k.a. Big Bang Theory). This was followed by millions of years of evolution where, again, nothing morphed into everything we see around us today.

Scientific Foundation: Heliocentrism

- Heliocentrism is the astronomical model in which Earth and the planets orbit the Sun.
- First proposed by Aristarchus of Samos (3rd century BCE), it gained traction through Nicolaus Copernicus in the 16th century.
- Supported by Galileo Galilei and Johannes Kepler, it replaced the older geocentric model and sparked the Copernican Revolution.

Theological Interpretation

- In heliocentric creation, the Sun-centered system is seen not as random but as deliberately designed.
- Some Christian thinkers interpret biblical verses as poetically consistent with a heliocentric cosmos.
- This view accepts modern astronomy while maintaining that the universe was created by God with purpose and order.

Philosophical Implications

- Heliocentric creation challenges the anthropocentric mindset of geocentrism, suggesting that Earth is not the physical center, but humanity may still hold spiritual significance.

Distances according to modern science: Travel distances in miles annually

- Milky Way Galaxy trajectory travel annually 10.8 Billion Miles
- Sun travels around Milky Way Galaxy annually 4.6 Billion Miles
- Earth travels around sun annually 584 Million Miles
- Moon travels around earth annually 20 Million Miles

Distances according to modern science: Distances between objects in miles

- Sun to Polaris a.k.a. North Star 2.54 Quadrillion Miles
- Earth to sun 93 Million Miles
- Moon to earth 239,000 Miles

Again, keep this information well in mind as you read further. On a side note, take a look at the Inverse Law of Light while studying the sizes and distances as claimed by modern science regarding sizes and distances of galaxies and other luminaries claimed to exist at these incredible distances from earth yet are observable and all while keeping in mind that light is not infinite therefore does not travel infinitely.

Introduction to the Geocentric Model of Creation

Geocentric creationism is a fringe religious belief that combines Young Earth Creationism with the geocentric model of the universe. It asserts that:

- Earth is the immovable center of the universe.
- The Sun, Moon, and stars revolve around Earth.
- The universe was created by God 6,000 to 10,000 years ago.
- This view is rooted in a literal interpretation of certain biblical texts, which some adherents believe affirm Earth's centrality in creation.

Historical Context

- The geocentric model was formalized by Ptolemy in the 2nd century CE and remained dominant until the Copernican Revolution in the 16th century.
- Early Christian figures like Martin Luther and John Calvin rejected heliocentrism, believing it contradicted Scripture.

Scientific Rejection

- Geocentric Creationism is rejected by mainstream science and most religious groups.
- It contradicts well-established evidence in astronomy, physics, and biology.
- Even within the broader creationist movement, geocentrism is considered extreme and pseudoscientific.

Modern Influence

- While rare, some fundamentalist Protestant, Catholic, and Orthodox Jewish groups still promote it.
- Unlike Biblical Creationists beliefs, geocentric creationists typically accept Earth's spherical shape but reject its motion.

The Geocentric Model of Creation is an older belief system than its counterpart, Heliocentrism. Although, today, many of those who teach the Geocentric model, teach the earth is a sphere with galaxies and luminaries rotating around it and while this is thought provoking it is a combination of Heliocentric and Geocentric, and is not the actual Geocentric Model.

The Geocentric belief is not accepted by many today as credible and the following will be a brief description of how the pure Geocentric Model would appear that is not a cross between Heliocentric and Geocentric which is much more in line with the biblical teachings of creation.

The true Geocentric Model of Creation or Biblical Creation describes the earth as being on a foundation, set on pillars, made with a firmament dome and described with three heavens to include heaven below or paradise, heaven containing birds and clouds and heaven above the firmament which is said to be where God Himself resides at the present. The firmament as described in some places is referred to as a molten looking glass, a tabernacle or a vault, where the sun, moon and stars are said to be more local to the earth itself and contained within the firmament dome. The word earth itself as defined is described as “dry land” and is stated to be a flat plain surface with topographical features with breadth and ends. This includes mountains, plains, valleys and deep trenches. It is stated to be immovable, which implies it is set in place and not moving, which could mean that perhaps foundations and pillars could be applicable.

This is where we start moving into the meat of the subject and where this leads to both scientifically and scripturally speaking. I am appealing to everyone when I ask this, how many of you fully trust your senses? If I told you that from birth, the world around us, not God's world, but Satan's world begins to teach us that our senses and things we can observe cannot be factual or accurate if someone other than Harvard Educated or Lab Coat wearing individual tells us it's credible.

In discussing creation models with various people from all walks of life, I have found one thing to stand true, most don't care which creation model stands true, stating, what does it matter which way it's created? I suppose, in the scope of life, is it really that important? Well, atheists and agnostics might get a free ride on the topic of whether it's important or not, however, God-fearing Bible believers should be quite concerned with it. In my opinion (and this is about the only place I will insert my opinion), God considers His creation to be of somewhat great importance otherwise it would very likely not be the first topic mentioned in God's Word and would not continue being mentioned throughout the remainder of God's Word, from Genesis all the way to Revelation.

I have never delved into a topic on any other matter that is so literally divisive and hated by almost everyone it is mentioned to, both Bible denier and believer. The amount of disdain that most people exert when sharing this information is nothing short of mind boggling and I'm making my way to the point and will offer observable facts as well as facts mentioned by the one who created all of it.

There is so much physical evidence of things we can observe that lead to the truth but it's difficult to break the chains that bind us to the narrative of not trusting our own senses. Once you wake to the fact that it's highly possible we have all been lied to, you'll start seeing proof of it in almost everything.

Most ask, Why the Lie, to which I reply; which makes us more important to God, random ball or center of everything? Satan will try to remove God from everything, including God's own creation.

There are close to 200 verses that relate to how creation came about, the days in which it was created, the relevance of each portion of creation, plus verses that use the same words used to define creation in a manner of using the Bible to interpret the Bible.

Introduction to the Biblical Model of Creation

Core Belief

- The Earth is a flat, stationary plane, not a rotating sphere.
- The Sun, Moon, and stars move in circular patterns above the Earth, not around it.
- The sky is enclosed by a solid dome or firmament, as described in ancient cosmologies and biblical texts.
- There is a Creator and nothing happened by chance.

Scriptural and Ancient Foundations

- Many biblical creationists proponents cite biblical passages (e.g., Genesis 1, Job 38, Isaiah 40) that describe Earth as immovable, with a firmament above and waters below.
- Ancient civilizations such as the Babylonians, Egyptians, Norse, and early Hebrews described the world as a disk surrounded by water, with the heavens arching above it.
- The firmament is seen as a literal structure separating the “waters above” from the Earth below (Genesis 1:6–8).

Cosmological Structure

- Earth is a circular plane, often depicted with:
- The North Pole at the center
- An ice wall (Antarctica) encircling the outer edge, holding in the oceans
- The Sun and Moon as small, local lights moving in circles above the Earth
- Stars embedded in or moving along the firmament

Rejection of Mainstream Science

- Biblical Creationists reject NASA and space exploration, claiming that images of Earth from space are fabricated or manipulated.
- Biblical Creationists dispute gravity, orbital mechanics, and the heliocentric model, asserting that observations of the horizon and celestial motion support a flat, stationary Earth.

- Biblical Creationists argue that water always finds its level, which they interpret as incompatible with a curved surface.

Philosophical and Theological Implications

- The Biblical model reinforces the idea of a designed, enclosed world, created with purpose and order.
- It places humanity at the center of creation, emphasizing divine intention and proximity.
- Many proponents see belief in a spherical Earth as part of a deception to undermine biblical authority and spiritual truth.

Visual and Symbolic Imagery; The model often includes:

- A celestial dome with stars and heavenly bodies embedded or moving within it
- A central world tree or mountain (like Mount Meru or the biblical Mount Zion a.k.a. Black Rock)
- A layered cosmos with heavens above and Sheol or the underworld

Bible Verses describing creation

Earth Is Fixed, Immovable, and Has Foundations

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:1–10	Describes Earth as created before the Sun, with waters above and below, and dry land gathered into one place—suggesting a flat, layered structure.
Job 38:4–6	God speaks of laying Earth’s foundations and measuring it with a line, implying a fixed, constructed platform.
Psalms 104:5	Declares that God “laid the foundations of the Earth, that it should not be moved forever.”
1 Chronicles 16:30	States the world is “firmly established; it cannot be moved,” reinforcing a stationary Earth.

Verse	Summary
Isaiah 48:13	God says His hand laid Earth's foundation and spread out the heavens, suggesting intentional structure.
Proverbs 8:29	Refers to God setting boundaries for the sea and establishing Earth's foundations.
Psalms 93:1	"The world is established, it cannot be moved," emphasizing Earth's immobility.
Psalms 96:10	Repeats the idea that Earth is firmly established and immovable.
Psalms 119:90	God's faithfulness is tied to the Earth's enduring foundation.
Isaiah 45:18	God formed the Earth to be inhabited, not to float in chaos—implying a stable, purposeful design.
Hebrews 1:10	Affirms that God laid the foundations of the Earth from the beginning.
1 Samuel 2:8	Mentions Earth's "pillars," which God set in place.
Job 9:6	Says God "shakes the Earth out of its place," implying it normally doesn't move.
Psalms 75:3	"The Earth and all its inhabitants are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it."
Psalms 102:25	"Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the Earth."
Psalms 89:11	"The heavens are yours, the Earth also is yours; you founded the world."
Jeremiah 10:12	God "established the world by His wisdom," reinforcing the idea of a deliberate, structured creation.

The Firmament (Solid Dome Above, Vault)

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:6–8	God creates a firmament (Hebrew: raqia) to divide the waters above from the waters below.
Job 37:18	Describes the sky as "strong as a molten mirror," suggesting a solid dome.
Ezekiel 1:22–26	A crystal-like firmament appears above the heads of heavenly beings.

Verse	Summary
Amos 9:6	God “founds His vault upon the Earth,” interpreted as a dome structure.
Psalms 19:1	“The firmament shows His handiwork,” implying a visible, structured sky.
Psalms 148:4	Calls on “waters above the heavens” to praise God—consistent with a dome holding back upper waters.

Four Corners and Ends of the Earth

Verse	Summary
Isaiah 11:12	God gathers His people from the “four corners of the Earth.”
Revelation 7:1	Four angels stand at the “four corners of the Earth,” holding back the winds.
Revelation 20:8	Nations are gathered from the “four corners of the Earth.”
Job 38:13	Refers to the Earth having edges where the wicked are shaken off.
Deuteronomy 28:64	God scatters people “from one end of the Earth to the other.”
Matthew 24:31	Angels gather the elect “from the four winds, from one end of heaven to the other.”
Mark 13:27	Similar to Matthew, referencing the four directions of Earth.
Zechariah 2:6	People are scattered “to the four winds of heaven.”

Celestial Motion Above a Stationary Earth

Verse	Summary
Joshua 10:12–13	The Sun and Moon stand still at Joshua’s command, implying they move over a stationary Earth.
2 Kings 20:11	The Sun’s shadow moves backward, suggesting the Sun moves, not the Earth.
Ecclesiastes 1:5	The Sun rises and sets, then “hastens back” to where it rose—describing a circuit.

Verse	Summary
Habakkuk 3:11	The Sun and Moon stand still in their habitation, reinforcing the idea of celestial motion.
Isaiah 38:8	The shadow on the sundial moves backward, again implying the Sun's motion.
Matthew 5:45	The Sun rises on the evil and good—language consistent with a moving Sun.
Luke 4:5	Satan shows Jesus “all the kingdoms of the world” from a high place—suggesting a flat, visible plane.

Boundaries, Edges, and the “Face” of the Earth

Verse	Summary
Job 26:10	God inscribes a circle on the surface of the waters—interpreted as the edge of a flat Earth.
Proverbs 8:27	God “drew a circle on the face of the deep,” suggesting a flat, circular surface.
Isaiah 40:22	God sits above the “circle of the Earth,” often interpreted as a disc, not a sphere.
Job 38:14	Earth takes shape like clay under a seal—flattened and pressed, not spherical.
Psalms 104:9	God sets a boundary for the waters that they may not pass—implying a fixed edge.
Revelation 21:1	A new heaven and Earth appear, suggesting a re-creation of the same structured form.

Heavens Rolling Up, Stars Falling

Verse	Summary
Isaiah 34:4	The heavens are rolled up like a scroll, and stars fall—implying a solid dome.
Revelation 6:13–14	Stars fall to Earth, and the sky recedes like a scroll—suggesting a close, enclosed cosmos.

Verse	Summary
Matthew 24:29	The stars fall from heaven and the powers of the heavens are shaken.
Mark 13:25	Similar to Matthew, describing cosmic collapse in apocalyptic terms.

Earth Measured with a Line, Not a Curve

Verse	Summary
Job 38:5	God measures the Earth with a line, not a curve—suggesting flat dimensions.
Zechariah 2:1–2	A man measures Jerusalem with a line, reinforcing the idea of flat, measurable land.
Isaiah 28:17	God uses a measuring line and plumb line—tools for flat construction.

Waters Above and Below

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:6–7	Waters are divided by the firmament—some above, some below.
Psalms 148:4	Calls on “waters above the heavens” to praise God—still present after creation.
Proverbs 8:28	God strengthens the clouds above and establishes the fountains of the deep.
Amos 9:6	God calls for the waters of the sea and pours them out on the face of the Earth.

Symbolic and Theological Verses

Verse	Summary
Romans 1:20	God’s invisible qualities are clearly seen in creation—used to support divine design.
Acts 17:24	God made the world and everything in it, emphasizing His sovereignty over creation.

Verse	Summary
Hebrews 11:3	The universe was formed by God’s word, not from visible matter—used to support a purposeful, enclosed design.

Pillars, Foundations, and Structure of the Earth

Verse	Summary
1 Samuel 2:8	God “set the world on pillars,” suggesting a physical support structure beneath the Earth.
Job 9:6	God “shakes the Earth out of its place,” implying it normally rests in a fixed position.
Psalms 75:3	“The Earth and all its inhabitants are dissolved: I bear up the pillars of it.”
Job 38:6	God asks Job what the Earth’s foundations rest on—implying a literal base.
Psalms 102:25	“Of old hast thou laid the foundation of the Earth,” reinforcing a deliberate, stable design.
Isaiah 24:18–20	Earth reels like a drunkard and is shaken from its foundations—again implying it has a base.

The “Face” of the Earth and the Deep

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:2	“The Spirit of God moved upon the face of the waters”—suggesting a flat surface.
Genesis 7:18	Waters increase and bear up the ark, rising above the face of the Earth.
Genesis 11:4	The Tower of Babel is built to reach heaven from the “face of the Earth.”
Job 38:14	Earth takes shape like clay under a seal—flattened and pressed, not spherical.
Daniel 4:10–11	A tree is visible to the ends of the Earth—only possible on a flat plane.

Verse Summary

Matthew 4:8 Satan shows Jesus “all the kingdoms of the world” from a high mountain—implying a flat Earth.

Ends of the Earth and the Horizon

Verse Summary

Deuteronomy 4:32 God created man “from one end of heaven to the other.”

1 Samuel 2:10 “The Lord will judge the ends of the Earth.”

Job 28:24 God looks to the ends of the Earth and sees everything under the heavens.

Psalms 19:4–6 The Sun’s circuit goes out to the ends of the world.

Psalms 22:27 “All the ends of the world shall remember and turn unto the Lord.”

Isaiah 5:26 God whistles for nations from the ends of the Earth.

Isaiah 41:9 God calls His servant from the ends of the Earth.

Jeremiah 25:31 The Lord has a controversy with the nations and will plead with all flesh from the ends of the Earth.

The Heavens and the Vault Above

Verse Summary

Job 22:14 God walks in the circuit of heaven, hidden by thick clouds.

Psalms 150:1 Praise God in His firmament—implying a structured, visible sky.

Isaiah 13:10 Stars and constellations will not give light—suggesting they are close and affected by Earthly events.

Ezekiel 1:1 The heavens open and Ezekiel sees visions of God—implying a dome that can open.

Zechariah 12:1 God stretches out the heavens and lays the foundation of the Earth.

Revelation 1:7 “Every eye shall see Him”—interpreted as possible only on a flat Earth.

Sea Boundaries, the Deep, and the Waters Above

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:2	The Spirit of God moves over the “face of the deep,” suggesting a flat, expansive surface of water.
Genesis 1:9–10	Waters are gathered into one place, and dry land appears—implying a single, unified landmass.
Genesis 7:11	The “fountains of the great deep” burst forth, and the “windows of heaven” open—suggesting a layered cosmos.
Genesis 8:2	The same “fountains” and “windows” are closed, reinforcing the idea of a structured, enclosed system.
Proverbs 8:28	God strengthens the clouds above and establishes the fountains of the deep—supporting vertical layering.
Psalms 104:9	God sets a boundary for the waters so they may not pass—implying a fixed edge to the oceans.
Job 38:8–11	God shuts in the sea with doors and sets bars and boundaries—language of containment.
Amos 9:6	God calls for the waters of the sea and pours them out on the face of the Earth—suggesting a flat surface.

The Heavens as a Tent or Curtain

Verse	Summary
Isaiah 40:22	God stretches out the heavens like a curtain and spreads them like a tent to dwell in.
Psalms 104:2	God stretches out the heavens like a curtain—implying a flexible but structured covering.
Job 9:8	God alone stretches out the heavens—language of intentional design.
Isaiah 44:24	God stretches out the heavens by Himself and spreads out the Earth—again suggesting a flat, extended surface.
Zechariah 12:1	God stretches out the heavens and lays the foundation of the Earth—both actions described as deliberate and architectural.

Stars, Lights, and the Firmament

Verse	Summary
Genesis 1:14–17	God places the Sun, Moon, and stars “in the firmament” to give light on Earth—implying they are embedded in or beneath the dome.
Psalms 136:7–9	God made the Sun to rule the day and the Moon and stars to rule the night—suggesting local, purposeful lights.
Isaiah 13:10	Stars and constellations will not give light—implying they are close and affected by Earthly events.
Joel 2:10	The Sun and Moon grow dark, and stars withdraw their shining—again suggesting proximity.
Revelation 6:13–14	Stars fall to Earth, and the sky recedes like a scroll—interpreted as a literal dome collapsing.

Additional Theological and Symbolic Verses

Verse	Summary
Psalms 24:1	“The Earth is the Lord’s, and everything in it”—used to emphasize divine ownership and design.
Isaiah 45:12	God made the Earth and created man upon it; His hands stretched out the heavens.
Acts 17:24	God made the world and everything in it, and does not dwell in temples made by hands—used to emphasize divine transcendence.
Hebrews 11:3	The universe was formed by God’s word, not from visible matter—used to support a purposeful, enclosed design.

Earth Measured with a Line or Plumb Line

Verse	Summary
Job 38:5	God asks Job who stretched the measuring line across the Earth—implying a flat, measurable surface.
Zechariah 2:1–2	A man measures Jerusalem with a line, reinforcing the idea of flat, defined dimensions.

Verse	Summary
Isaiah 28:17	God uses a measuring line and plumb line—tools for constructing level surfaces.
Amos 7:7–8	God shows a plumb line in Israel’s midst, symbolizing uprightness and level judgment.

Visibility of All the Earth

Verse	Summary
Daniel 4:10–11	A tree grows so tall that it’s visible to the ends of the Earth—only possible on a flat plane.
Matthew 4:8	Satan shows Jesus “all the kingdoms of the world” from a high mountain—implying a flat Earth.
Revelation 1:7	“Every eye shall see Him” when Christ returns—interpreted as only possible on a flat Earth.

Heavens as a Solid Structure

Verse	Summary
Job 26:13	God garnishes the heavens and His hand pierces the fleeing serpent—interpreted as celestial structure.
Job 37:18	The sky is described as “strong as a molten mirror,” suggesting a solid dome.
Ezekiel 1:22–26	A crystal-like firmament appears above the heads of angelic beings.
Revelation 6:14	The sky recedes like a scroll being rolled up—implying a tangible, foldable dome.

Waters Above and Below (continued)

Verse	Summary
Psalms 33:7	God gathers the waters of the sea as a heap and lays up the deep in storehouses—suggesting containment.

Verse	Summary
Psalms 136:6	God “stretched out the Earth above the waters”—implying a flat platform over a watery deep.
Proverbs 3:20	By His knowledge the depths were broken up and the clouds drop down dew—reinforcing vertical layering.

Final Theological Reflections

Verse	Summary
Genesis 11:4	The Tower of Babel is built to reach heaven—implying heaven is directly above a flat Earth.
Isaiah 66:1	“Heaven is my throne, and the Earth is my footstool”—suggesting a flat surface beneath.
Acts 1:9–11	Jesus ascends upward into heaven—implying heaven is spatially above Earth.
Psalms 19:4–6	The Sun has a circuit and travels across the sky—interpreted as moving above a stationary Earth.

Yes, sometimes when we read the Bible, God speaks to us in allegories, riddles, similes and parables, however, he also speaks to us very plainly with descriptions and meanings of things, obviously, meant and put into words for us to be able to understand.

Some places in the Bible we like to believe are simply what the person writing imagined it to be in their own mind and put it into their own words. I can't help but to be reminded that God told us his word is inspired, which means those writing what God had them write would have been given the knowledge to write what they wrote and would have more than likely been given the understanding concerning what they were writing about unless they were told otherwise.

From this point I will refer to the scripture and you can draw your own conclusion. Keep in mind, I'm not asking you to believe anything that I say, listen to what God says and look at the evidence for yourself at which point you can make up your own mind. Again, if you don't find the Bible credible then the following information may be meaningless, however, if you're open to new discoveries you may just find that you find truth in what the Bible says given the answers to some of the questions that have been poised.

And who knows, if you have doubts the Bible is accurate, perhaps seeing things with your own eyes that leave you questioning what you've been taught, yet are spoken of within the pages of one of the only books that describes things as they can be observed, it could actually wake you to the fact that if the Bible is accurate about things you can touch, taste, feel, see and hear, then perhaps it's accurate concerning those things within its pages that take a bit more faith to understand and believe.

I know the Bible is God's Inspired Word and for that I will believe Him over anyone or anything else, especially since He's the one who made it. Again, and please pay close attention because this is the most important part of this entire subject, DO NOT BELIEVE anything I am writing, don't trust it, even try to explain it away, but don't go into the matter lightly, take some time, research it, study it, do some of your own experiments, look at all of the information and keep in mind that much of the good information is hidden and kept hidden to be difficult to find. You will be fed propaganda and as much non-sense as the world can feed you in an attempt to cover up facts but trust me when I say they are there if you're willing to seek them out.

More In-Depth Biblical Evidence of Creation

As you continue reading, some of the information will be redundant to what you've already read but hopefully these repeats will help you to better understand the often-overlooked facts. As you ponder what God created on day one, stated in Genesis 1:1-5. One of the first questions most people ask is "What difference does it make?" It's a good question and here's why it matters, God is very proud of what He created and as his children, I firmly believe that He wants us to fully understand that He is proud of what He made for all of us. If that weren't the case, creation would likely not be the very first thing mentioned in the Bible.

Starting with Genesis, what was created first? Have you ever really looked at the order in which things were made? Have you compared it to the Heliocentric Model where we are told the sun is the center of everything to the actual Geocentric model where we are told, we are the center of His creation? Here's a teaser and it may help you to see where you need to pay attention because words and the way they are formed, the order in which they are placed and the meanings of the words used can be the difference between what is the truth and what is a lie. Why would God make the earth before the sun?

Genesis 1:1 In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth.

Genesis 1:2 And the earth was without form, and void; and darkness was on the face of the deep. And the Spirit of God moved across the face of the waters.

In Genesis 1:2, the word face is mentioned. Refer to the definition of face and think about how that relates to a sphere. Face of an object: a flat surface that forms part of the boundary of a solid object.

In short summary on those two verses, going back to the very beginning of creation and the description of creation within God's own Word and story on the subject, the earth was made first which would stand to reason that it is much more than a free-floating random ball amongst billions of other random balls. God created it with purpose and generally when in the building process of almost anything, the project always begins with building the core or centerpiece of what will become the completed structure or project.

Let's jump over a few verses:

Genesis 1:14 And God said, Let there be lights in the firmament of heaven to divide the day from the night; and let them be for signs, and for seasons, and for days, and years.

Genesis 1:15 And let them be for lights in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth; and it was so.

Genesis 1:16 And God made two great lights; the greater light to rule the day and the lesser light to rule the night: he made the stars also.

Genesis 1:17 And God set them in the firmament of the heaven to give light upon the earth,

Genesis 1:18 And to rule over the day and over the night, and to divide the light from the darkness: and God saw that it was good.

Genesis 1:19 And the evening and the morning were the fourth day.

After reading those verses in Genesis there should be a couple of take-aways, what part of that defines the earth rotating around the sun? It's made very clear that the sun, the moon and the stars were literally made for the earth, which makes us much more than random. In those verses the stars are mentioned like they were an after-thought and not that significant "he made the stars also", although we know they are significant because they are part of creation and God is proud of what He made. (Psalm 104:5, Job 38:4)

Another thing to note on those verses that often goes un-noticed, as God describes it, the sun and moon are both lights. A greater light and a lesser light. God doesn't describe a light and a reflector.

Let's move forward with some biblical information that you may not have pondered or given much thought to at all. The Bible tells us in 3 different places where the sun moved, once in reference to standing still and twice stating it moved backwards. The moon standing still was also mentioned in one of these verses all the way down to giving us information pointing out each stopping over specific cities.

Joshua 10:12-14

12 Then spake Joshua to the LORD in the day when the LORD delivered up the Amorites before the children of Israel, and he said in the sight of Israel, Sun, stand thou still upon Gibeon; And thou, Moon, in the valley of Ajalon.

13 And the sun stood still, and the moon stayed, Until the people had avenged themselves upon their enemies. Is not this written in the book of Jasher? So the sun stood still in the midst of heaven, and hasted not to go down about a whole day.

14 And there was no day like that before it or after it, that the LORD hearkened unto the voice of a man: for the LORD fought for Israel.

Isaiah 38:5-8

5 Go, and say to Hezekiah, Thus saith the LORD, the God of David thy father, I have heard thy prayer, I have seen thy tears: behold, I will add unto thy days fifteen years.

6 And I will deliver thee and this city out of the hand of the king of Assyria: and I will defend this city.

7 And this shall be a sign unto thee from the LORD, that the LORD will do this thing that he hath spoken;

8 Behold, I will bring again the shadow of the degrees, which is gone down in the sun dial of Ahaz, ten degrees backward. So the sun returned ten degrees, by which degrees it was gone down.

2 Kings 20:9-11

9 And Isaiah said, This sign shalt thou have of the LORD, that the LORD will do the thing that he hath spoken: shall the shadow go forward ten degrees, or go back ten degrees?

10 And Hezekiah answered, It is a light thing for the shadow to go down ten degrees: nay, but let the shadow return backward ten degrees.

11 And Isaiah the prophet cried unto the LORD: and he brought the shadow ten degrees backward, by which it had gone down in the dial of Ahaz.

Do you recall the motions from earlier, claimed in the Heliocentric Model, sun hurling, earth spinning around the sun, moon spinning around the earth? If the earth is moving, why did the sun and moon stop. Not to mention, if the earth was traveling in all those directions at those speeds and stopped suddenly, wouldn't that have caused absolute chaos?

Are we so naïve as if to believe that the men who wrote the Bible, keeping in mind, inspired by God had no clue what they were talking about when it came to cosmology and simply didn't understand the motions of the luminaries? They only thought the sun and moon were stopping because that's how it was perceived? Keep in mind that many of the Old Testament authors spoke to God and God to them directly. Many of the Authors of the New Testament, actually walked with God in the flesh when He appeared on earth, born of a virgin, named Jesus Christ. With that, are we to believe these men were foolish and without understanding?

Here are a few scriptures that will add to the earlier scriptures regarding the sun moving.

Psalm 19:1-6

1 The heavens declare the glory of God; And the firmament sheweth his handywork.

2 Day unto day uttereth speech, And night unto night sheweth knowledge.

3 There is no speech nor language, Where their voice is not heard.

4 Their line is gone out through all the earth, And their words to the end of the world. In them hath he set a tabernacle for the sun,

5 Which is as a bridegroom coming out of his chamber, and rejoiceth as a strong man to run a race.

6 His going forth is from the end of the heaven, and his circuit unto the ends of it: And there is nothing hid from the heat thereof.

Ecclesiastes 1:5-7

5 The sun also ariseth, and the sun goeth down, and hasteth to his place where he arose.

6 The wind goeth toward the south, and turneth about unto the north; it whirleth about continually, and the wind returneth again according to his circuits.

7 All the rivers run into the sea; yet the sea is not full; unto the place from whence the rivers come, thither they return again.

Here are a few scriptures that will tie into the earlier scriptures regarding the sun and moon moving but the earth not moving.

1 Chronicles 16:30 30 Fear before him, all the earth: The world also shall be stable, that it be not moved.

Psalm 93:1 1 The LORD reigneth, he is clothed with majesty; The LORD is clothed with strength, wherewith he hath girded himself: The world also is stablished, That it cannot be moved.

Psalm 96:10 10 Say among the heathen that the LORD reigneth: The world also shall be established that it shall not be moved: He shall judge the people righteously.

Psalm 104:5 5 Who laid the foundations of the earth, That it should not be removed for ever.

Where on Earth is Heaven? Exactly..!!

Are you familiar with where heaven is going to be? Yes, we actually know, primarily because the Bible tells us where. Read Revelation and it will tell you everything you need to know. Obviously, there are details left out but you'll get the general idea, again, we're not a random ball amongst millions of other random balls.

Revelation 21:1-4 1 And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea.
2 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband.
3 And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

4 And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away.

Yes, it is a new heaven and new earth but not created new, made new which implies renovation, and we know by Revelation that to be a fact. We know because John didn't leave the old earth but was evidently standing on the new earth watching heaven descend.

Do you know the size of this new heaven? Let's find that in scripture. Again, we'll need to go to Revelation 21. The immense size of heaven being planted on earth would not work with the given dimension of a sphere said to be 24,901 miles in circumference, the math would be impossible unless the floor of heaven curved. (We will discuss the math on this further in.)

Revelation 21:10-27

10 And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God,

11 having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal;

12 and had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel:

13 on the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates.

14 And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.

15 And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof.

16 And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal.

17 And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel.

18 And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass.

19 And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald;

20 the fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst.

21 And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass.

22 And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it.

23 And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof.

24 And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it.

25 And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there.

26 And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it.

27 And there shall in no wise enter into it any thing that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life.

The North Star

The following is easily observable and will help to understand the impossibilities of the claimed movements and speeds of all of the galaxies, solar systems, luminaries, planets, moons, etc.

Are you familiar with the star Polaris?

Polaris a.k.a. “North Star” is in a fixed position in our sky and is visible 365 days (nights) a year, much the same as the remainder of our night sky, it doesn't change.

Keeping in mind the design of the solar system, wouldn't the stars we see differ every 6 months as we rotate around the sun? It seems since our night sky is explained as us facing outward into space it would make sense that we would be looking at a different night sky every 6 months since we would be on opposing sides of the sun looking out at a totally different area of space itself.

Have you ever observed a time lapse photograph of Polaris? It appears to stand still while all other luminaries rotate around it. See below.

By now you should be thinking, if we are moving, hurling, spinning, twirling through the vastness of never-ending space as a random ball how is the same star, in the same place in the night sky 365 days a year?

Moving on with a firmly planted observation point... Are you familiar with The Georgia Guidestones? They are no longer in place since they were mysteriously destroyed and dismantled in the year 2022, however, the good news is they still exist on the internet, for now. Look them up.

These guide stones are occultic and disturbing at the very least, however, these approx. 20 ft. pillars of granite stood in the middle of nowhere near a pasture outside of Elberton, Georgia, at coordinates 34.2320 N, 82.8945 W.

On one pillar of these stones was a hole, precisely drilled in one side of the stone and out the other side, through this 7/8" bore hole Polaris was visible 365 days a year (as the night sky would allow taking cloud cover into account)

From Elberton, Georgia, looking through a stationary hole drilled through a large piece of granite stone firmly planted on a whirling, twirling, swirling ball flying through the vastness of outer space, how is that possible?

The Moon

The moon is said to travel through space around the earth at a constant distance of approximately 264,000 miles from earth's surface at a speed of 2,280 miles per hour while, again, following the earth as it is traveling at 67,000 miles per hour in an elliptical around the sun while the sun is speeding through space at 448,000 miles per hour, yet we feel none of this motion on earth.

The moon would have to speed up as it is passing the earth while maintaining that increased speed while in front of earth then slowing its speed as the earth passes it then increasing its speed as the earth begins to speed away from it. Questions?

Location of the Sun and Moon

We are told by science that the sun is 400 times larger than the moon but 400 times further away from earth which, in theory, explains why the sun and moon appear to be the same size.

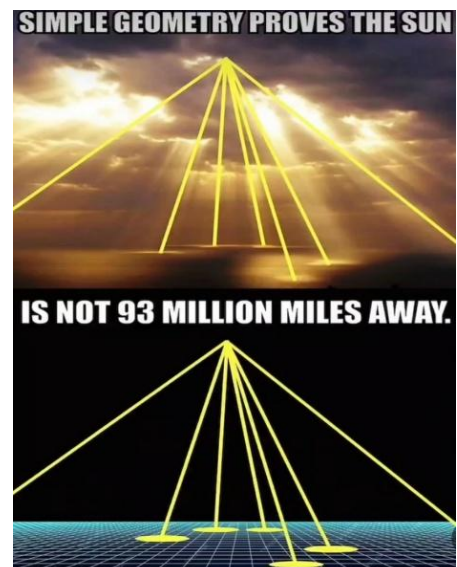

If the sun is that much larger, all the light rays we get from it would be parallel yet when we look into the sky on a sunny day when broken clouds are present we see corpuscular sunrays which leads to the possibility the sun is more of a local luminary than what we are being told.

Perhaps the sun and the moon are both much closer than we are told, and both are the same size.

Have you ever looked up at the night sky during a time when it's hazy, but you are still able to see the moon through the haze? Why is there a distinctive, visible ring of light around the moon? At 264,000 miles away, shouldn't the moon light up all of the clouds visible in the night sky equally?

Below is an image showing corpuscular sun rays. These do not make any sense unless the sun is local:

Corpuscular sun rays would not be possible with a sun 400 times bigger than the moon at 400 times the distance from earth. At 93 million miles away, all light rays would be parallel. A smaller, local sun would create this phenomenon.

Pressure & Vacuum

Science tells us that we live on a sphere within a pressurized system giving us an atmosphere with the outer lying area around the outer surface of our protected atmosphere being the vacuum of space yet there is no distinctive division between the two spaces.

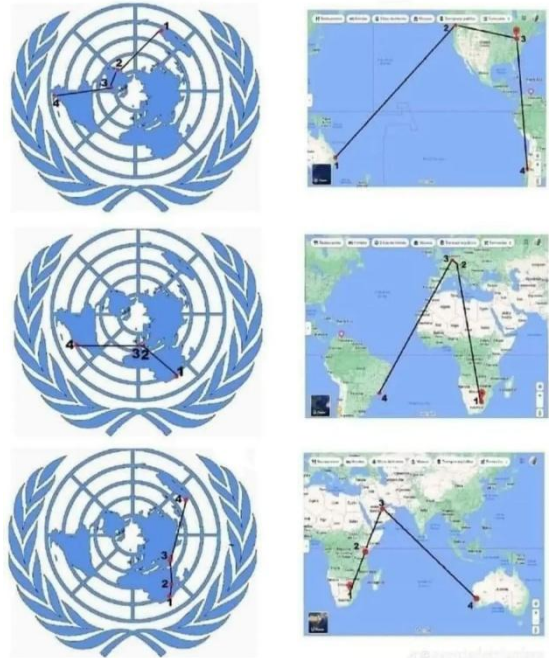

Scientific experimentation as displayed in a laboratory tells us that positive pressure (atmosphere) cannot exist in the presence of a vacuum without some type of containment.

Does that make you question anything or does the explanation science gives us that the pressurized system of earth can free-float in the vacuum of space make sense?

Flight ✈️ routes make more sense on the United Nations flat Earth map than on the globe Earth map that the masses are taught to believe in.

Flight Routes

3 impossible flight routes shown on a United Nations Logo showing a depiction of what they think the earth looks like. Odd, it appears to be a flat earth map.

Word Definitions

Ball	A spherical object or entity. (Isaiah 22:18)
Breadth	The measure or dimension from side to side; width. (Job 38:18)
Circle	A plane curve everywhere equidistant from a given fixed center point. (Isaiah 40:22)
Circuit	A closed, usually circular line that goes around an area. (1 Samuel 7:16, Job 22:14, Psalm 19:6, Ecclesiastes 1:6)
Elevation	Height of a point or object above a reference surface, typically mean sea level.
Face of an object	a flat surface that forms part of the boundary of a solid object.
Gravity	Universal force of attraction that acts between all bodies of matter. As noted: it is the weakest force in nature but significantly influences the trajectories of bodies in the universe and the structure of the cosmos.
Level	An instrument; used to determine or adjust a surface to an even horizontal plane. Flatness; something that is perfectly flat and even, conforming to the surface of still water. Horizontal; something being conforming to the plane of the horizon, not sloping.
Light	Form of energy that makes it possible to see things, often by the sun, fire or electrical lamps.
Oblate Spheroid	Sphere-like shape that gives the appearance of being flattened, to some degree, on the top and bottom of the object so that the circumference around the poles is less than the circumference around the equator.
Sphere	Three dimensional, geometric, shape that is perfectly round, like a ball.

Elevations

On large bodies of water, why are the elevations above Mean Sea Level always the same no matter the location from which they are measured?

North to South, Lake Michigan is 307 miles in length. East to West it spans 91 miles wide. At 307 miles there should be a bulge of water at the center point that is over 11 miles high if measuring the distance north and south. Questions?

How Does This Work

Say Hello to the SR71 Blackbird, a long-range, high-altitude reconnaissance aircraft developed and manufactured in the 1960's by Lockheed Corporation. Although classified when it was developed, we now know this jet was capable of Mach 3. On March 6, 1990 the Blackbird flew from Los Angeles, CA to Washington D.C., in 1 hour, 4 minutes, and 20 seconds. Wow!! That's fast!!

The mathematical formula for how to calculate the curvature of the earth has been presented earlier in this paper, but as a reminder, it is 8 inches per mile squared to calculate the fall of the curve to make the circumference work as it should.

Los Angeles to Washington D.C. is a distance of 2,124 miles. At that distance the earth curvature would drop of in excess of over 556 miles. That means the SR71 Blackbird would have to be nosing down at a constant rate of over 800 feet per second in order to remain a constant distance from the surface of the earth otherwise it would simply fly off into space.

Let's apply some common sense, could an aircraft flying at Mach 3 nose down at 800 feet per second and remain intact?

All aircraft, according to NASA's own data, states that all are designed to fly over a stationary, non-rotating flat surface. Does that sound like aircraft are designed to fly around a whirling, spinning, ball?

Water & Globe Dimensions

Only one question here, at what distance does water cease to find its own level when at rest? If we are on a sphere at some point water would need to begin to curve. With the earth having a given circumference we can calculate the rate at which the horizon should drop off. At a global circumference of 24,901 miles the rate of fall would be calculated at 8 inches per mile squared.

This brings us to visible distances. example, at a distance of only 20 miles on water there should be a bulge of water standing over 266 ft high between the viewer and the object being viewed. Just this one thing alone says that radar on a smaller vessel and even many larger vessels could in no way function properly since radar operates in a straight line, line of sight type of way. We will follow up with more things to demonstrate that given the scientific formula the earth is either much, much larger than we are being told or it's something other than what we are being told.

There are 100's of examples that can be demonstrated of objects that should not be visible at the distances in which they are visible given what we are told is the size and shape of the earth.

Consider the following: The Mississippi River flows, uninterrupted by locks or dams, 1,036 miles from St. Louis, Missouri to New Orleans, Louisiana starting at an elevation of 379.58 ft. AMSL to 0 ft. AMSL. That is a fall of 4 3/8 inches per mile.

At a distance of 1,036 miles, the water traveling the river would have to ascend more than 67 miles to reach the center point where it would begin to descend the next 67 plus miles. How is that possible?

Marine Radars & Earth Curvature

Marine Radar, by design, is used to register targets in a line-of-sight manner. Manufacturers never mention or calculate into the design of a radar the necessity or the effects of refraction where radar accuracy is concerned.

We learned earlier the calculation for earth's curvature being 8 inches per mile squared. Knowing that, why would any radar manufacturer claim that they have a standard radar that can operate accurately up to 98 miles.

At just 60 miles, the radar would have to bend its waves around a curvature equaling a 2,400 ft drop in elevation from the observation point to the target. This is a major problem due to the fact that radar waves do not bend or arc, they travel in a straight line from the transmitter to the target, bounce off that target and travel back in a straight line to the receiver.

Underwater Sonar

Sonar is an underwater system that uses sound waves emitted by sonar equipment to detect underwater objects. It is claimed that sonar can operate to distances up to 9 nautical miles.

Whales use sonar to communicate, and studies have found they have communicated over 13,000 miles, yes, 13,000 miles. When I was reading the studies, I had to read them twice which led to a few questions.

Can sonar reflect off of the surface of water? Answer; Sonar can reflect off of the waters surface but when doing so primarily returns as clutter due to waves, bubbles, currents and algae.

Long Distance Photography

There is a lot of information on long-distance photographic evidence of things that should not be possible to see using high powered zoom. I will mention one such example that made national news and was explained away by a theory that could not really explain it away.

A photograph was taken with a super-zoom camera, taken from Grand Mere State Park in Stevensville, Michigan, 58 miles across Lake Michigan which captured the entire city. At a distance of 58 miles, given the rate of curvature at that distance the Chicago skyline should have been hidden by almost 2,400 ft of fall in the horizon. The tallest building in Chicago is the Willis Tower which stands at an elevation of 1,451 ft. so even it should have been well hidden, yet here we are.

LoRa Transmission

LoRa Transmission, from a fishing boat to a buoy over water at a straight-line distance, 830 miles away. This record-breaking test was conducted off the Sesimbra coast of Portugal, with the signal received in the Canary Islands.

This system as noted in multiple reports operates in a straight, line of sight manner. This is the most staggering, observable and reported truth to date since given the earth's said curvature, the horizon at that distance would drop off at over 457,730. 56 ft. or 86.69 miles which would mean a height of bulging water over 40+ miles high would be between the transmitter and the targeted receiver.

Here's a simple question and answer with Chat GBT, you can ask it the same questions. Instruct it to give you one word, yes or no, or, true or false answers to prevent it from embellishing its answers because it will try to give deceptive answers given the choice.

TOPIC: LoRaWAN's

WHAT IS LoRaWAN's: Long Range Wide Area Network. A WIRELESS COMMUNICATION PROTOCOL DESIGNED FOR LOW POWER DEVICES TO TRANSMIT SMALL AMOUNTS OF DATA OVER LONG DISTANCES.

QUESTION 1 OF 3: DOES THE LoRaWAN's SYSTEM OPERATE IN LINE OF SIGHT FROM TRANSMITTER TO TARGET?

CHAT GBT RESPONSE: YES.

QUESTION 2 OF 3: IS IT TRUE THAT A TEST WAS CONDUCTED OVER WATER WHERE THE LoRaWAN's SYSTEM ACHEIVED A WORLD RECORD FROM TRANSMITTER TO TARGET AT A STRAIGHT-LINE DISTANCE OF 830 MILES AWAY.

CHAT GBT RESPONSE: YES.

QUESTION 3 OF 3: ON A SPHERE THE SIZE OF EARTH WOULDN'T THAT MEAN OVER 80 MILES OF DROP IN THE HORIZON FROM TRANSMITITTER TO TARGET DURING THIS TEST?

CHAT GBT RESPONSE: YES.

Foundations: Physical, Spiritual & Both

The following verses are simply to show that the Word of God understands what a foundation is, how important it is and what the purpose of a foundation is.

1 Kings 5:17-18

1 Kings 6:37-38

1 Kings 7:9

2 Chronicles 8:16

2 Chronicles 31:7

Ezra 3:6

Ezra 3:10

Ezra 3:11

Ezra 3:12

Ezra 5:16

Job 4:19

Job 22:16

These are just a few verses that reference literal foundations. There are several other mentions of foundations, some literal, others relate to the spiritual side of things, both generally have dual meanings just as everything else in God's Word.

One of the best descriptions of how the earth was made was described by God, Himself speaking to Job. Very informative and actually begins rather humorous. I can't imagine having a conversation like that with God.

Job 38:1-41

One verse stands out above all others,

Job 38:14 It is turned as clay to the seal; and they stand as a garment.

This verse refers to the border of creation that holds the water in place which is best described as Antarctica. In theory, Antarctica is an ice wall that is the edge of the earth as we know it. Antarctica, oddly enough, is the highest shoreline on the entire planet.

Please explain how clay turned under seal could form a ball or sphere.

(Job 38:14)

If you've never read through the Antarctic Treaty, it's an interesting document. The Antarctic Treaty, signed by more than 72 Nations has never been breached. There are only a few things that exist in this world where Nations are bound with no wars, the story of creation, the Antarctic Treaty and vaccines. Unimpeded, private exploration is not allowed in Antarctica. Why?

We derive blindly much of our information regarding creation from the space agency, NASA. NASA was founded shortly after WWII, oddly enough, with the help of a group of Nazi's that in exchange for their cooperation were kept from trial for their war crimes and crimes against humanity.

My primary concern about NASA is their budget of a mere $76,000,000 of out tax money every 24 hours and for what? Is it so they can design aircraft, which by their own documentation shows all aircraft are designed to fly over a stationary, non-rotating flat-earth.

All the following scriptures listed here describe in some way the state of the world in which we live regarding how it is made. Included will be Foundation, Stability, Firmament, Shape and more about the Sun, Moon and Stars.

For time and size of this document, I will not write out the verses but will just list them and trust you will open your Bible and read each one.

Again, the verses below may be redundant to things I've already mentioned but they are worth mentioning again to compel you to look into the biblical description of how things came about. If I were cherry-picking a few verses, then yes, maybe we could speculate the importance and accuracy of biblical creation over what we are told by mainstream science as the accurate version but if you believe the Bible, it should be very difficult to see this much evidence and still be able to deny that it is the truth..

Foundation:

1 Kings 5:17	(referring to literal building foundations)
1 Kings 6:37	(referring to literal building foundations)
1 Kings 7:9	(referring to literal building foundations)
1 Kings 7:10	(referring to literal building foundations)
2 Chron 8:16	(referring to literal building foundations)
2 Chron 31:7	(referring to literal building foundations)
Ezra 3:6	(referring to literal building foundations)
Ezra 3:10-12	(referring to literal building foundations)
Ezra 5:16	(referring to both literal & spiritual foundations)

Job 4:19 (referring to both literal & spiritual foundations)
Job 22:16 (points to being literal)
Job 38:6 (points to being literal)
Psalms 137:7 (not referring to a building foundation)
Isaiah 28:16 (not referring to a building foundation)
Isaiah 44:28 (not referring to a building foundation)
Ezekiel 13:14 (referring to a building footing but as a parable)
Haggai 2:18 (this is both literal and figurative)
Luke 6:48 (this is both literal and figurative)
Luke 6:49 (this is both literal and figurative)
Luke 14:29 (this is both literal and figurative)
1 Cor 3:12 (this is both literal and figurative)

Those are a few examples of places where “foundations” are mentioned in the bible.

The previous verses demonstrate that the Bible does refer to physical foundations of physical structures as well as allegoric, parabolic and spiritual references. We know that where we abide is a physical and spiritual realm and was created as such so when it is described why would we believe it is anything other. As you read, it is always relatively clear whether the scriptures refer to one or the other and even at times both simultaneously,

Job 38:4
Job 38:6
Psalms 102:25
Psalms 104:5
Isaiah 48:13
Zechariah 12:1
Hebrews 1:10
Proverbs 8:29

Another important point in the Bible that many people miss, or overlook is in Revelation. It points to the significance of earth. Earth is where heaven will be at the end of days. The New Jerusalem descended from heaven. That would point to the earth being the most significant place ever created.

Revelation 21:2 "And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband."

The Bible refers to pillars in the context of building, so when God says the world is on pillars, why would we doubt that God knows what He is talking about or view it as allegorical.

Pillars:

Exodus 24:4

Exodus 26:32

Exodus 26:37

Exodus 27:10-17

Exodus 35:11

Exodus 35:17

Exodus 36:36

Exodus 36:38

Exodus 38:10-19

Exodus 38:28

Exodus 39:33

Exodus 39:40

Exodus 40:18

Numbers 3:36-37

Numbers 4:31-32

Deuteronomy 12:3

Judges 16:25-26

Judges 16:29

1 Kings 7:2-6

1 Kings 7:15-22

1 Kings 7:41-42

1 Kings 10:12

2 Kings 18:16

2 Kings 25:13

2 Kings 25:16

1 Chronicles 18:8

2 Chronicles 3:15-17

2 Chronicles 4:12-13

Ester 1:6

Proverbs 9:1

Song of Solomon 3:10

Song of Solomon 5:15

Jeremiah 27:19

Jeremiah 52:17

Jeremiah 52:20-21

Ezekiel 40:49

Ezekiel 42:6

Pillars of Earth:

1 Samuel 2:8

Job 9:6

Job 26:11

Psalm 75:3

The Bible refers to the earth in many verses as "the face". Remember the definition of the word face as you read these.

Job 26:10

Job 38:14

Psalm 104:30

Proverbs 8:27-29

Isaiah 40:22

Amos 9:6

The area above the earth is called the firmament.

Genesis 1:6-8

Genesis 1:14-15

Genesis 1:17

Genesis 1:20

Job 37:18

Psalm 19:1

Psalm 148:4

Isaiah 40:22

Ezekiel 1:22

Ezekiel 1:25-26

Are the ends of the earth a figure of speech or literal.? In some cases, it appears to be literal, in others it seems a figure of speech. If the earth is a sphere, how could it have ends?

Deuteronomy 33:17

1 Samuel 2:10

Job 28:24

Job 37:3

Job 38:13

Psalm 48:10

Psalm 59:13

Jeremiah 25:31
Jeremiah 51:16
Micah 5:4
Zechariah 9:10
Acts 13:47

Sun, Moon & Stars

Isaiah 38:8
Psalm 19:4-6
Ecclesiastes 1:5
Habakkuk 3:11
Matthew 24:29
Revelation 6:13

The following verses have already been mentioned but the strong evidence for Bible believers is worth another mention that should have you questioning how this is possible in the heliocentric model.

Joshua 10:12-13 This particular verse has always troubled me as to how this would work in a physical world. If the earth is traveling around the sun at 66,000 miles per hour and the sun is traveling at 448,000 miles per hour and the moon is traveling around the earth at 2,288 miles per hour then why would Joshua pray, asking God to stop the sun and moon? Wouldn't the earth have gone flying by both the sun and moon when they stopped? Are we to assume the entire universe stopped? Wouldn't those living on one side of the planet have flown off into space while the other side of the world caused people to be crushed due to the abrupt stop? Also, if the sun and the moon both stopped over specific cities, wouldn't that lead to them possibly being smaller and more local than what we are being told. Perhaps the sun and moon are the same size and the sun is not millions of miles away or 400 times bigger than earth. Just a thought.

The Bible does tell us that no one knows and will never know the depth of the earth or the height of the heavens. If we know the exact size of the earth why would God say we will never know the depth of the earth. If the circumference of the earth is 24,901 miles, as science tells us, couldn't we simply find the diameter then find the radius which would tell us the exact depth of the earth? Just a thought. Who do you think is telling the truth, NASA or God? Can we know or do we not really know?

Proverbs 25:2-3

If we in fact live on a flat surface with our magnetic north being the north pole and all directions going outward being south, how much more meaningful would God's promise of forgiveness of our sins being as far as the east is from the west because they would never touch. On a sphere forgiveness isn't forgetting, it would circle back to where they started.

Psalm 103:11-12

Some good creation verses are

Job 38:1-14

Psalm 104:1-35

If the earth is hurling around the sun at 60,000 miles per hour why would the Bible tell us the earth is still.

1 Chronicles 16:30

Psalm 93:1

Psalm 96:10

Psalm 104:5

Haggai 2:6

Hopefully this information has at least made you want to learn more for yourself. Again, don't take my word for anything, if you think there's a chance you've been lied to about creation and where we live do what God tells all of us to do "search out a matter"

In conclusion, there are two more verses that I would like you to read and understand. If earth was randomly created and is not the center of everything then why would God bring New Jerusalem right here.

John 14:2-3 In my Fathers house are many mansions: if it were not so, I would have told you. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go to prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself; that where I am, there ye may be also.

Revelation 21:2-3 And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God.

As a reminder, the information found in this brief is just the surface of this topic. The research and discoveries for those willing to consider and learn about this subject are endless.

One last thing in closing, the most important thing out of all of this is not who's right or wrong about what the shape of the earth is, but rather the significance.

Are we random as stated by the heliocentric model or are we the center of God's everything? Which makes you feel like God loves you more? He clearly states we are the center of his everything, he sent his only begotten son to die for the remission of our sins so we could not perish but have everlasting life with him (John 3:16). I would say he thinks we're pretty daw-gone important.!

Thanks so much for taking the time to go through this information, I trust you got something out of it. Again, don't take my word for anything, dig in to it for yourself but be warned, if you go into it, sincerely, willingly, looking objectively with an open mind at all of the information you are going to discover, things that you can't explain, some things that will make things make complete sense and many things that will leave you asking more questions. Some will find evidence that leads them down the road of questioning everything they've ever been told to believe by our school systems and science, even to the point of possibly beginning to believe what you fought so hard not to believe.

Anyone who says that they believe as I now believe have all been where you are now, we all doubted, we all questioned, we all got frustrated, we have all been mad and we have all told those around us trying to wake us from our sleep and convince us of the truth that they had lost they're minds and should seek counseling.

“It's not the lies that matter, it's the why.”

“It's easier to convince someone of a lie than to convince someone they've been lied to”

Happy Hunting.!!!

Friendly and free advice; Don't believe anything you see on this topic if you find it on YouTube via a simple YouTube search. For some reason, they seem to think it's important enough to shadow-ban all of those trying to present actual facts while simultaneously promoting those who try to make the topic a mockery and the possibility we've all been lied to seem preposterous. You can find truth on YouTube but you need the direct link to a particular video.
