

"In 2014, the city told us no one would want to live in our neighborhood."

JUDITH
Old Southside

“When we first moved to the Old South Side, we realized there was so much work to be done. Abandoned homes, problem rentals, and a crime spot at a gentlemen’s club began negatively impacting our neighborhood. We needed to do something.

We all agreed that we needed to get organized to get attention and support from the city. So a group of concerned neighbors, business owners, local elected leaders went to City Hall.

The response wasn’t what we were hoping for. They said, ‘who would ever want to live in the Old South Side?’

We were just shocked. We thought if the city isn’t going to help us, we’ll do it ourselves, and we did.

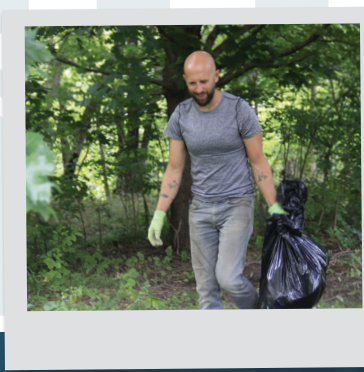

With Justin’s help, we made a plan and started working together to improve the neighborhood.”

In her own words: Taking back the Old Southside

NIGHTCLUB SHUTDOWN

“It was through Justin’s efforts that we managed to get that license revoked. Not only did we have to go to the city but we had to go to the State Alcohol Commission and it was soundly revoked by the State. That was our very first joint effort.”

NEIGHBORHOOD CLEAN UPS

“We combined our neighborhood groups to gain strength in numbers and started having regular cleanup projects to bring residents together. IMPD and our local elected officials, like Justin now attend our meetings to work on issues in our community.”

TACKLING ABANDONED HOMES

“Justin was instrumental in creating the Blight Elimination Funding that helped us get abandoned homes torn down in our neighborhood. That was money well spent. Now, we’ve got just about all of those properties taken care of.”

HOLDING SLUMLORDS ACCOUNTABLE

“One of the biggest problems our neighborhood has faced is problem landlords. Justin passed a law requiring all landlords, even out-of-state ones, to give the city their contact information so we could work with them to be better neighbors.”

PROPERTY SHOWCASE EVENT

“We did a property showcase and brought in over 170 realtors and developers to see our neighborhood and that was the turning point. Justin was a big part of helping get the word out and making it such a success.”

LIFT INDY GRANT

“Last year, our neighborhood was chosen by the city for a major investment in housing, infrastructure, and other quality of life areas. Now homes are being fixed up. It is just amazing how far we’ve come from that first meeting at City Hall.”

Judith: Justin Moed Goes the Extra Mile

“I worked in the Statehouse for over 30 years, and Justin and I are not of the same political party.

I know how so important it is for everyone to work together, politics aside, and that’s what Justin does. He is there for his constituents, for the issues, and for our community. It isn’t for any political gain, and I know how rare that is. One of the things I like most about Justin is that he’s always there for every event. It doesn’t matter if it is the Great Indy Cleanup or just folding napkins to help us get ready for an event. He goes the extra mile.

The pandemic has certainly brought extra challenges to our neighborhood, and Justin has really risen to the occasion to help get needed information to our community.

He’s always there to do whatever needs to be done, and that’s the important thing about Justin Moed.”

Moving Forward

Dear Neighbor,

It is easy to feel like your street has been forgotten, left behind. The amount of need in our city is so great and the systems designed to fix things often seem broken themselves.

However, the power of a group of neighbors united working to improve their quality of life cannot be matched. Our communities have grit and determination and we have to put it to work every day, block by block, to turn things in our neighborhoods around.

I'm not the solution to the problems, and I certainly don't have a magic wand to get things done overnight. I'm just part of each neighborhood's team working alongside anyone who wants to roll their sleeves up and get to work.

Every neighborhood has a group of committed residents who are trying to be a part of the solution. Together we can make a difference. Let's get to work!

Sincerely,

MOED

"The first time I met Justin, he knocked on my door, with a smile on his face like he knew who I was at the beginning. He really cares and you can tell by the way he talks to you."

"Justin is more connected to his community than any state legislator that I've ever met. He comes to our local neighborhood and business meetings. He is actually hands-on and doesn't sit in a remote office."
