FOR STATE REPRESENTATIVE

JUSTIN MOED is on the job for our neighborhoods.

RUTH
University Heights

"Day three of the pandemic I got a phone call. It was Justin checking to see how I was personally."

BRIAN
Owner - Shapiro's Deli

"During the pandemic, Justin never lost a beat. He was available by phone, email and zoom to hear from small business owners like myself about the challenges we face."

TOBY
West Indy

"When we could afford it the least, utility companies tried to raise rates on small businesses and our neighbors. Justin stood up for us and helped lead the effort to defeat the increase."

KATIE
Garfield Park

"This summer Justin sent out texts to see if he could help out me or any of my neighbors with their unemployment applications or any other state services."

DEB
Shelton Heights

"Justin was a big help to our food pantry this summer when we really needed it. He even helped me expand our reach into new neighborhoods around the westside."

ED
Owner - Bluebeard

"Before I could reach out and start calling people I knew, I got a phone call from Justin asking me what I was seeing in the service industry. He took the time to find out what our businesses were going through."

BRYAN
Rosedale Hills

"In this new world of Covid-19, Justin's advocacy hasn't stopped. He hasn't taken it as an excuse to disappear. I got a phone call from him just to check in just to see how I was doing, how my family and neighbors were doing."

The Right Leadership

“Feeling the frustrations and hopes, you can only really do that when you’re actually walking around and talking to people.”

Justin Moed is always here to help. When Covid-19 struck and the economy came to a halt, Justin rolled up his sleeves and found new ways to make a difference. Right away, he began calling community and business leaders to find out what ways he could help and he continued to stay involved in community meetings as they transitioned to Zoom and other online platforms.

As unemployment shook our community, Justin started a texting outreach campaign that connected with over 9000 residents asking if they needed help with their unemployment assistance application or any other state assistance. Justin also helped lead the effort this summer to oppose the proposed utility rate increase on small businesses and residents.

As food pantries in our community saw dramatic increases in demand for help, Justin made sure the urban farm he runs did their part and helped provide fresh produce to several community centers in our neighborhoods.

Justin understands the challenges ahead as we rebuild our city and state. He also knows that work starts with strong neighborhoods and he’s ready to work with us to improve the quality of life in our community.
