

Victorian Homes

Many new homes were built in Victorian times.

Terraced housing was popular.

Victorian homes were made of brick.

The roofs were tiled.

The Victorians invented sheet glass.

Homes

could

now

have bigger

windows.

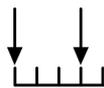

Bay windows

became popular.

Some

windows

had stained glass.

Most

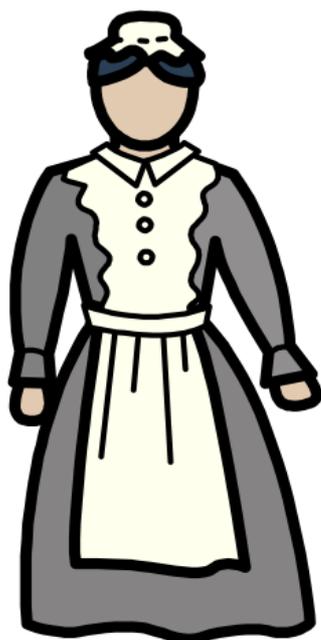

households

had servants.

A

cook

would

do the shopping.

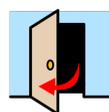

A

butler

would

answer the door.

Housemaids

cleaned the rooms.

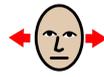

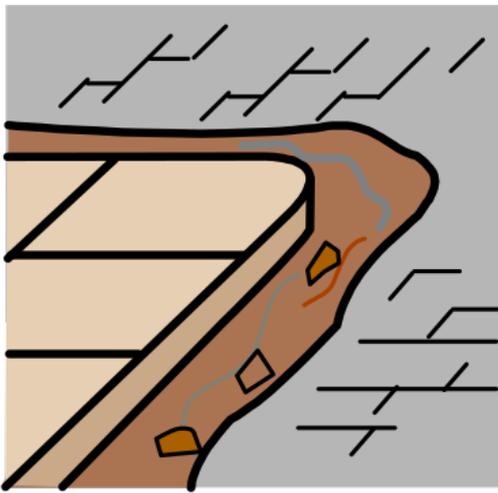

Poor people lived in cramped houses.

The houses were run down.

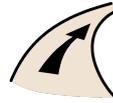

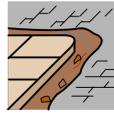

Landlords didn't look after the houses.

The houses were called slums.

Houses didn't have inside toilets.

There was no running water.

Open drains ran along the streets.

2

A whole street shared a couple of toilets.