Integral Process Leadership Consultation At-a-Glance:

Seth Elliott Consulting provides on-site and remote assistance for organizations seeking to boost sustainable, high performance through enhanced engagement, synergy, and culture.

Strong cooperative energy in an organization improves overall outcomes, but requires unique subject matter expertise as well as authentically aligned temperament. Integral Process Leadership consultation allows organizations to access and leverage this rare combination, as well as the original thought leadership behind the IPL theory. These dynamic factors provide real world advantage as they are woven into the regular cadence of organizational life and operations. IPL consultation promotes discovery, transformation, and results through a variety of approaches including, but not limited to confidential assessments, coaching, advocacy, strategy formulation, and conflict navigation.
