

Hello Families,

5,4,3,2,1 and into space we went this week. We are presently orbiting Earth and plan to continue our journey to Mars, Jupiter and Saturn next week. Creating a Solar System book with paper plates makes learning all the more interesting, writing key notes about each planet and learning really cool songs on our journey.

Our fine motor, social skills and language skills were entertained while peeling crayons and getting them ready for the colorful and creative 'Crayon Cupcakes'. Your children will tell you that it is quite the tedious job and takes a lot of grit, but well worth it.

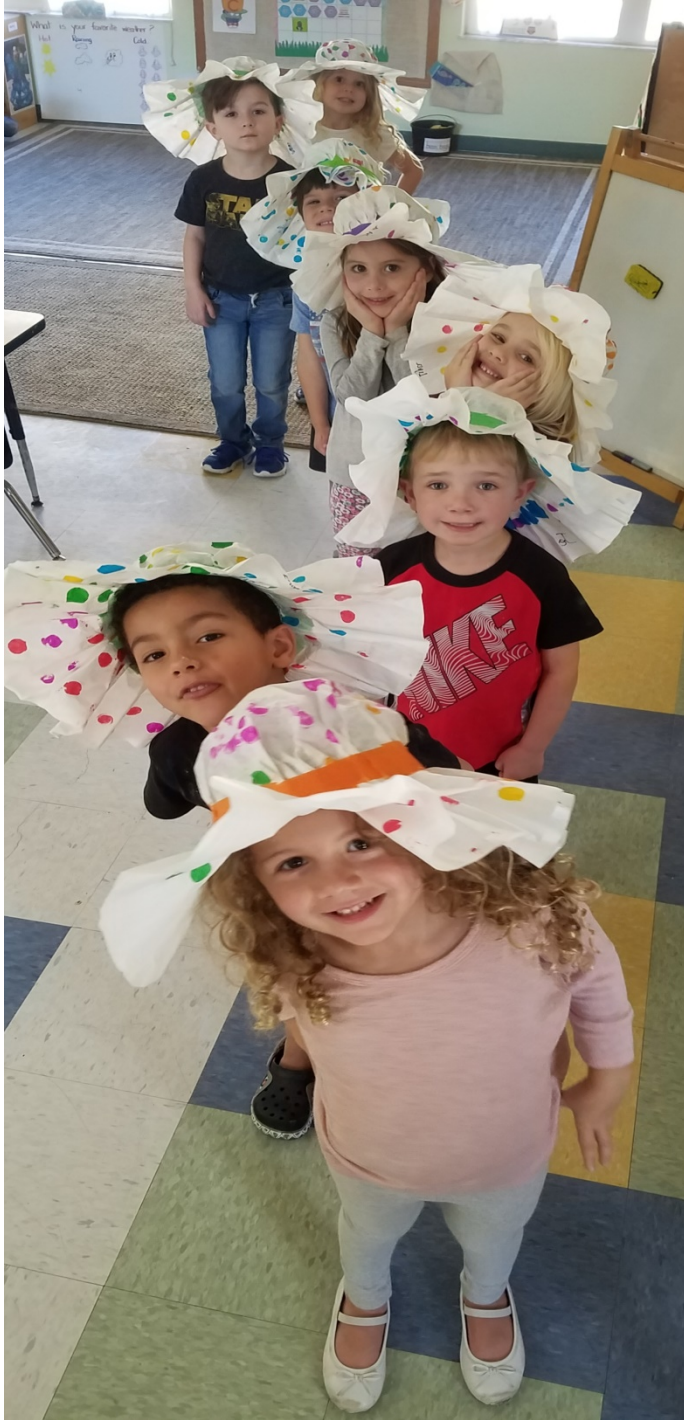

1. Peel and separate.

2. Bake 'em and color.

Have you ever seen coffee filters this big? Extending the letter /Cc/ theme was a colossal feat especially when these filters turned into Colossal Colorful Caps. Our artistic flairs, hardworking fine motor skills and creative minds created some really cool head gear!

Letter /Cc/ made our week fly by and we look forward to learning about more planets and the Solar System next week
