

Weekly Newsletter

March 11-14th, 2019

Ms. Tracy & Ms. Arleen's Pre-K Class

Color Mania

We continued our color mania week by introducing the concept of Roy G. Biv to help us learn the order of the rainbow- red, orange, yellow, green, blue, indigo, and violet. The children had fun getting to create their own rainbows. The children practiced sequencing the colors while creating their own rainbows.

This week we matched colors, sang songs about colors, and created with all the colors of the rainbow!

Letter R

This week we meet Mr. R and his rainbow ribbons. Mr. R wins all the rainbow ribbons for the red roses that he grows. The children built their own rainbow ribbons using paper towel tubes, streamers and tape. We had fun using them to dance to Mr. R's song!

We introduced the children to Robert Rauschenberg and his collage work. We discussed how he is known for his "combines." He uses materials that some might think are trash and turns them into art. The children were shown examples of his artwork and were inspired to make their own combine 3D art sculptures.

Looking Ahead:

→ Ms. Carol has requested that on Wednesdays in March and April, the children wear grungy clothes as the Outdoor Classroom setup will include a "mud kitchen." Please make sure your child has a change of clothes in his/her cubby!

→ Spring Break March 15-24th

→ Snack Helpers:

-Week of 3/25 Margaret

-Week of 4/1 William

A few PHOTOS from our week...

Roy G. Biv Creations

Creating our very own paint palette for face painting

Working together to catch a leprechaun

