

SETH KING

Seth King graduated from Tyler School of Art in 1983. After a few months in Rome, he moved back to Philly and then to Brooklyn in 1985. During the 1980's he had some success exhibiting his paintings, but towards the end of the decade found himself drawn more to poetry, film and video.

In 1994 he got married and formed a production company. Children appeared. Around 2015, tired of sitting in front of computers in dark rooms and missing the physicality of drawing and painting, he rented a studio in Gowanus and then Red Hook, Brooklyn, where he has begun to scrape away the mold to see if there is anything good underneath.
