

BIOGRAPHY

Sophie Nevin is an evocative vocalist whose performances combine strong technical ability with expressive, emotive storytelling. Based in the Cayman Islands, she has built a reputation for her captivating stage presence and genre hopping style, performing regularly across the island's most prestigious venues and events.

She holds a weekly residency at Kimpton, Library by the Sea and is a sought-after performer for corporate and private events, with appearances at luxury venues including the Ritz-Carlton, Grand Cayman, the Marriott, and the Westin. Sophie has also performed at major events such as Cayman Cookout, Capella, and Taste of Cayman, and has had the opportunity to open for internationally renowned artists including UB40, LeAnn Rimes, and the Black Eyed Peas.

Sophie is often described as a "vocal jukebox," with an impressive repertoire spanning genres, decades, and styles. Whether it's a classic ballad, a throwback hit, or a last-minute audience request, she has an uncanny ability to deliver it on the spot. This has become something of her signature superpower on stage, allowing her to interact effortlessly with audiences and create a fun, spontaneous, and truly personalised live experience every time she performs.

Alongside her live performance career, Sophie is developing her work as a recording artist. Her debut EP Beautiful Mistakes is set for release on 17th May, with her first full-length album currently in development and due later this year.
