

SONOLITH

Product Presentation

Sonolith is a percussion startup founded by percussionists and longtime friends Daan Wilms and Max Schwarz. We design and build handcrafted stone marimbas, also known as lithophones — melodic percussion instruments made from carefully tuned stone plates.

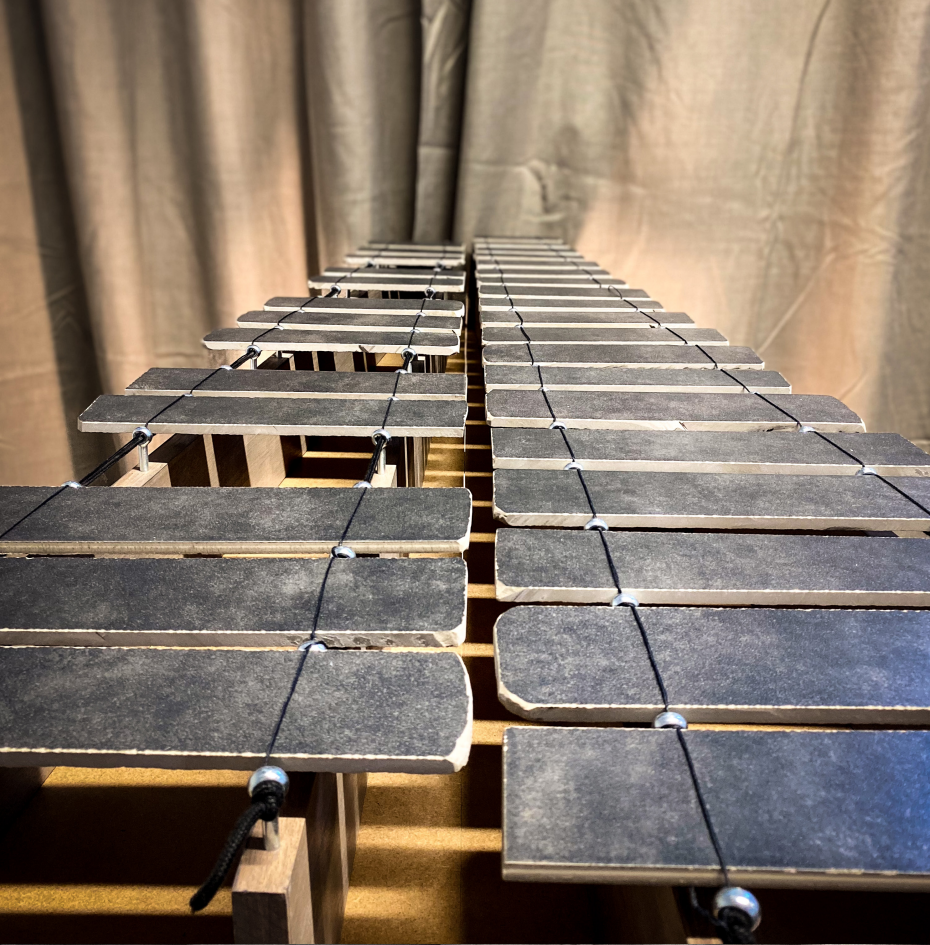

After developing and refining three prototypes, we are proud to introduce our first production model: the Sonolith32, featuring 32 resonant stone keys and a unique, organic sound world that bridges craftsmanship, acoustics and contemporary percussion.

SONOLITH

SONOLITH
SL32 - 001