To Whom It May Concern:

I have worked with Christina Race for over 5 years though she has been the account manager for Related much longer than this. Having managed various vendors and consultants over the years for Related, I can say that working with Christina has been wonderful. I often considered her an extension of Related. She has always been extremely helpful in solving complex issues across a spectrum of departments both within Related and at Conservice. As an account manager she really helped take a weight off my shoulders. I didn't always have that luxury with account managers for other products we utilize.

She is a highly motivated and cheery individual who will work until the job is done. Though there is no such thing as perfection, she does strive to those goals. When Related went through a massive restructure, she did a stellar job at navigating her way through the channels and establishing the necessary additional relationships. I think that Christina brings to any organization stability, hard work, positive relationship management and logical problem solving.
