The Ongoing Reformation

Message by Marilyn —

On Sunday, October 25, Marilyn shared a meaningful message for Reformation Sunday titled "The Ongoing Reformation." Several members expressed interest in having the message shared in our newsletter, so we are including this summary of her sermon. Marilyn reminded us that the Reformation is not simply an event from Martin Luther's time in 1517, but an ongoing process of renewal guided by the Holy Spirit. While we can be grateful for our congregation's history, traditions, and the generations who have worshiped and served here, we must also remain open to where God is leading us today. Our current season of transition is not just a challenge to overcome, but an opportunity to listen, ask questions, and discern how we can continue to serve our community faithfully. Reformation does not mean changing everything for the sake of change; it means returning to the heart of our faith in Christ, grace, love, and mission.

As we look toward the future, Marilyn encouraged us to focus not only on what we might lose, but on how God is calling us to serve and grow. We may not know what the next chapter will look like, but we can move forward in faith, trusting that the church belongs to Christ and that the Holy Spirit continues to work among us. This requires listening to one another, honoring the wisdom of those who have been part of the congregation for many years, welcoming new perspectives, and being willing to let go of some familiar things to make room for renewal. Rather than simply asking God to take us back to the way things were, we can ask, "God, show us what faithfulness looks like now." Marilyn's message reminds us that the Reformation continues whenever we share grace, welcome others, serve our neighbors, and follow Christ with courage and hope. The church is not finished, God is still at work, and by God's grace, we move forward together.
